Re: Facebook v. ConnectU, et al.

Dear Mr. Mosko:

This letter is in response to yours of October 25, 2007 regarding Plaintiffs' responses to Defendants Requests for Production of Documents. As I previously informed you in my email of October 4, the October 12 deadline by which ALL responsive documents be produced was unrealistic; that Plaintiffs were in the process of investigating what documents are responsive and available for production; and that it intends to produce responsive documents pursuant to its discovery obligations as well as its written objections. I note that Facebook has previously produced documents responsive to several of the requests at issue and provide you with the bates ranges for ease of reference: FACE002220 - 2233; FACE00386, FACE000394, FACE000414 - 426, FACE001851 - 1854, FACE001858 - 1864, FACE002332 - 2333, FACE002338, FACE002492 - 2493, FACE000124, FACE000383 - 385, FACE00387 - 393, FACE00395 - 412, FACE001171 - 1174, FACE001177, FACE001182, FACE001202, FACE001213, FACE001845, FACE001847, and FACE001865 - 1881.

Facebook and Mr. Zuckerberg will continue their investigation and , barring any unforeseen circumstances, expect to produce additional responsive documents, if any, on a rolling basis beginning two weeks from today.

As I also mentioned, as soon as practicable after Facebook has completed its investigation and production, it will provide a privilege log. I note, however, that despite our many requests that ConnectU do the same, we have not received a privilege log or even the courtesy of a response to our requests. Please produce a privilege log as required under the Rules.

Very truly yours,

Yvonne Greer
