 SUPPORT OF MOTION FOR APPOINTMENT OF INTERIM CO-LEAD
 CLASS COUNSEL

Date: March 10, 2008
 Time: 10:00 a.m.
 Place: Courtroom 8

Honorable James Ware

1 I, Eric H. Gibbs, hereby declare as follows:

2 1. I am a member in good standing of the State Bar of California and admitted to practice
3 before this Court. I have personal knowledge of the facts stated herein and, if called on to do so, could
4 and would testify competently thereto. I am a partner of Girard Gibbs LLP and make this declaration
5 in support of the motion of the Smith plaintiffs for appointment as interim lead counsel.

6 2. This litigation arises from an unlawful arrangement between defendants Apple, Inc.
7 (“Apple”) and AT&T Mobility LLC (“AT&T”) to tie iPhones to AT&T cellular telephone service and
8 deny iPhone users the right to use third party applications on their iPhones. Apple released the iPhone
9 on June 29, 2007. On September 27, 2007, Apple released a software update, known as the iPhone
10 Software Version 1.1 that permanently disabled any iPhone that was unlocked to allow service on a
11 carrier other than AT&T or that had downloaded and installed third party applications. In essence,
12 plaintiffs allege that Apple crippled the iPhones of those who would not submit to Apple’s and
13 AT&T’s unfair and illegal business practices.

14 4. Girard Gibbs has extensive experience in prosecuting class actions involving consumer
15 fraud, telecommunications and antitrust in particular. Girard Gibbs currently serves as liaison counsel

Mr. Gibbs has served as court-appointed lead counsel, class counsel and liaison counsel in numerous consumer class actions throughout the United States. He has successfully prosecuted over 40 consumer class action matters, including cases involving defective products, telecommunications, credit cards, unfair competition, false advertising, truth-in-lending, product liability and credit repair under both state and federal consumer protection statutes. Mr. Gibbs has recently acted as court appointed class counsel in the following matters:

- In Re Ipod Cases. This action, filed on behalf of approximately two million Apple iPod owners, alleged that Apple made material misrepresentations and omissions in its advertising regarding the lifespan of the iPod's battery. In August 2005, the Honorable Beth Labson Freeman presiding approved a nationwide class settlement that provided warranty extensions, battery replacements, cash payments, and store credits to those class members who experienced a battery failure. In approving the settlement, Judge Freeman said that the class was represented by "extremely well qualified" counsel who negotiated "a significant and substantial benefit to the class members as a result of the settlement of this case."
- Roy v. Hyundai Motor America. In this class action suit brought on behalf of Hyundai Elantra owners, the court approved a nationwide class settlement providing for the repair of allegedly defective passenger-side airbags, reimbursement for transportation related expenses, and an alternative dispute resolution program allowing for trade-ins and buy-backs. In approving the settlement negotiated by Mr. Gibbs as co-lead class counsel, the Honorable Alicemarie H. Stotler presiding described the settlement as “pragmatic” and a “win-win” for all involved.

- In re General Motors Cases (Sadowski). In this case, plaintiffs allege that GM is responsible for the cost of repairing and replacing the intake manifold gasket in certain GM vehicles. After more than two years of vigorous opposition, the court certified a class, which includes certain 1996-2003 vehicles with 3.1L and 3.4L V6 engines sold in California.
- Kim v. BMW. Plaintiffs in this class action successfully negotiated a recall of certain BMW vehicles, requiring BMW to repair allegedly defective front passenger airbags free of charge.
- Fantauzzo v. Razor. Where plaintiffs alleged that defendant marketed and sold electric scooters with defective stopping mechanisms, the court approved a nationwide class action settlement providing for, among other things, a recall of the potentially defective electric scooters.
- Paul v. HCI Direct. In this case, the plaintiffs alleged that the defendant’s marketing practices were unfair and deceptive, resulting in hundreds of thousands of people paying for merchandise they did not knowingly order. Mr. Gibbs was instrumental in obtaining class certification and in defeating the defendant’s petitions for writ before the California Court of Appeal and the California Supreme Court. In October 2006 the Court approved the settlement, describing it as fair, reasonable, and adequate to the class.
- In Re Girls Gone Wild Litigation. In a case alleging the marketing practices related to defendants’ continuity billing program were unfair and deceptive, the court certified a class of more than 1 million people. The California Court of Appeal denied defendants’ writ petition. A proposed nationwide class settlement is pending.
- Gutzler v. General Motors. In this case, the plaintiffs allege, among other things, that a “Dex-Cool” warranty exists between purchasers of certain of GM’s vehicles and GM, that Dex-Cool is incompatible with the cooling systems in certain of GM’s vehicles, and that Dex-Cool is incompatible with certain of the factory installed intake manifold gaskets in certain of GM’s vehicles. The court certified a class in the matter. The Missouri Court of Appeals and Missouri Supreme Court denied review of the trial court’s certification decision. The matter is scheduled for trial in November 2007.
- Parkinson v. Hyundai Motor America. In a disputed Rule 23(g) motion, the Honorable Alicemarie H. Stotler appointed Mr. Gibbs co-lead interim class counsel. Plaintiffs’ allege, among other things, that Hyundai breached its warranty and engaged in unfair and deceptive practices by selling consumers Hyundai Tiburons with defective flywheels. Plaintiffs’ consolidated amended complaint is due in early September 2006.
- Piercy v. NetZero. In competing motions for appointment of lead counsel in consolidated cases, Judge Victoria Chaney recently appointed Girard Gibbs as lead counsel. Plaintiffs allege, among other things, that NetZero violated consumer protection statutes by wrongfully billing consumers who had cancelled their subscriptions.

Other consumer class actions resulting in favorable settlements for class members in which Mr. Gibbs acted in a leadership role include, Mitchell v. American Fair Credit Association and Mitchell v. Bankfirst, N.A., which generated one of the largest settlements in the United States under the credit services laws (over $40 million); Providian Credit Card Cases, which resulted in one of the largest class action recoveries in the United States arising out of consumer credit card litigation ($105 million); and In re LookSmart Litigation, a nationwide class action settlement providing cash and benefits valued at approximately $20 million.
