NO. C 08-00286 JW

11 Plaintiff,

ORDER OVERRULING PLAINTIFF'S
OBJECTIONS TO MAGISTRATE JUDGE
LLOYD'S DISCOVER ORDER

12 v.

13 County of Santa Clara, et al.,

14 Defendants.

15 Presently before the Court are Plaintiff's Objections to Portions of Magistrate Judge's
16 Discovery Orders. (hereafter, "Objections," Docket Item No. 137.)

17 A district court may modify a magistrate judge's ruling on a non-dispositive matter, such as 18 an order to compel discovery, if the order is "clearly erroneous" or "contrary to law." 28 U.S.C. § 19 636(b)(1)(A); Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(a); Bahn v. NME Hospitals, Inc., 929 F.2d 1404, 1414 (9th Cir.
20 1991). Pursuant to Civil Local Rule 72-2, the court may not grant a motion objecting to a 21 Magistrate Judge's order without first giving the opposing party an opportunity to brief the matter.
22 See Civ. L.R. 72-2.

23 A. Background

24 On January 12, 2010, the Court issued an Order Overruling in Part Plaintiff's Discovery
25 Objections; Setting Briefing on Remaining Discovery Objections. (hereafter, "January 12 Order," 26 Docket Item No. 160.) In that Order, the Court requested further briefing from the parties on (1) 27 Plaintiff's Objection to Judge Lloyd's Order denying sanctions against County Counsel for 28 improperly instructing a witness to not answer a question at deposition, and (2) Plaintiff's Objection to Judge Lloyd's Order denying in part Plaintiff's motion to compel further interrogatory answers. (Id.) On January 22, 2010, Defendants filed their Opposition to Plaintiff's Objections.¹

B. Discussion

1. Order Denying Sanctions for Deposition of Nurse Anderson

In Opposition to Plaintiff's Objection regarding County Counsel's instruction to a deposition witness not to answer a question, Defendants contend that (1) Plaintiff's Counsel refused to meet and confer regarding the proper scope of questioning during a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition, and (2) the law governing the scope of a 30(b)(6) deposition is unsettled. (Opposition at 8-13.)

a. Refusal to Meet and Confer

Defendants contend that Judge Lloyd's denial of sanctions was not clearly erroneous or contrary to law because Plaintiff refused to meet and confer before moving for sanctions. (Opposition at 8.)

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 37(a)(1) provides that a motion seeking an order compelling disclosure or discovery "must include a certification that the movant has in good faith conferred or attempted to confer with the person or party failing to make disclosure or discovery in an attempt to obtain it without court action."

In support of their contention that Plaintiff failed to meet and confer, Defendants produce the transcript of the Deposition of Nurse Anderson.² That transcript reflects that in response to County Counsel's objection regarding the scope of Plaintiff's counsel's questioning of the witness, Plaintiff's counsel stated, "I will advise you that the law that I looked up yesterday said that a 30(b)(6) deponents [sic] can be asked anything that's relevant to the case and that they're not limited by the scope of the 30(b)(6) deposition notice." (Anderson Depo. at 18:5-20.) County Counsel

¹ (Defendants' Opposition to Plaintiff's Objection to the Magistrate's Non-Dispositive Orders re: Sanctions re 30(b)(6) Deponent and Motion to Compel Interrogatory Responses, hereafter, "Opposition," Docket Item No. 175.)

² (hereafter, "Anderson Depo.," Declaration of Aryn Paige Harris in Support of Defendants' Opposition to Plaintiff's Objection to the Magistrate's Non-Dispositive Orders re: Sanctions re 30(b)(6) Deponent and Motion to Compel Interrogatory Responses, hereafter, "Harris Decl.," Ex. B, Docket Item No. 176.)

1 responded by inquiring about the authority on which Plaintiff's counsel was relying, to which 2 Plaintiff's counsel replied, "You should be aware of it on your own." (Id. at 18:21-24.) Further,
3 Defendants produce the declaration of County Counsel, who stated that had Plaintiff's counsel 4 provided to her the authority she requested, she would have been amenable to an agreement on the 5 record that the deponent was not giving 30(b)(6) responses to the questions and rather was giving
6 information based on her own personal knowledge. (Harris Decl. ¶ 5.) In response, Plaintiff's
7 counsel represents that he did attempt to discuss the instruction with counsel during the deposition,
8 but County Counsel insisted that there be legal briefing.³

9 The Court finds that regardless of whether Plaintiff's counsel refused to meet and confer
10 regarding the scope of deposition questioning, County Counsel's instructions not to answer
11 questions were improper. The law is clear that counsel may only instruct a deponent not to answer 12 "when necessary to preserve a privilege, to enforce a limitation ordered by the court, or to present a 13 motion under Rule 30(d)(3)." Fed. R. Civ. P. 30(c)(2). Since County Counsel does not contend that 14 any of these limited circumstances arose during the questioning of Nurse Anderson, Judge Lloyd's 15 finding that "the County's instructions for Anderson not to answer were generally improper" was 16 not clearly erroneous or contrary to law.

17 However, the Court finds that Plaintiff's refusal to provide County Counsel with the 18 authority upon which he relied to expand the scope of questioning helped to create a situation in 19 which County Counsel felt compelled to instruct the witness not to answer in order to protect the 20 interests of her client. The Court finds credible County Counsel's declaration that had Plaintiff's 21 counsel provided her with such authority, a breakdown in the deposition process could have been 22 avoided. The transcript does not support Plaintiff's counsel's assertion that he attempted to meet 23 and confer regarding the scope of questioning or that County Counsel insisted on legal briefing.

24 ³ (Plaintiff's Reply to Opposition re Objections to Portions of Magistrate Judge's Discovery 25 Orders at 3, hereafter, "Plaintiff's Reply," Docket Item No. 181.) On January 29, 2010, Plaintiff
26 filed a Motion for an Extension of Time to File Reply Brief on Objections to Discovery Order, 27 seeking a time extension of three days due to scheduling conflicts. (hereafter, "Motion for 28 Extension," Docket Item No. 179.) Finding good cause, the Court GRANTS Plaintiff's Motion for Extension and accepts the Reply as filed.

1 Since sanctions for deposition conduct are discretionary pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 30(d)(2), and 2 Plaintiff's counsel did not meet and confer before requesting sanctions, the Court finds that Judge
3 Lloyd's decision to deny sanctions against County Counsel was not clearly erroneous or contrary to 4 law.

5 b. Scope of Rule 30(b)(6) Deposition

6 Defendants further contend that the law governing the scope of a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition is 7 unsettled, and thus it was reasonable for County Counsel to strenuously object to questioning
8 outside the designated scope, especially when considering that the testimony of a Rule 30(b)(6)
9 deponent is binding on the entity as an evidentiary admission. (Opposition at 8-13.)

10 In support of her contention, Plaintiff compares Detoy v. City and County of San Francisco,⁴
11 which held that a Rule 30(b)(6) deponent may be examined beyond the scope of the deposition
12 notice, with Paparelli v. Prudential Insurance Co. of America,⁵ which held that the examination 13 during a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition must be confined to matters contained in the notice. It does 14 appear that there is some disagreement among courts regarding the proper scope of a Rule 30(b)(6)
15 deposition, and thus it may have been reasonable for County Counsel to believe that Plaintiff's
16 counsel's questioning had exceeded that proper scope. However, whatever lack of clarity may exist
17 in the law with respect to the proper scope of a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition, no such lack of clarity 18 exists with respect to the limited circumstances in which counsel may instruct a witness not to 19 answer a question. Thus, regardless of County Counsel's arguably understandable confusion 20 regarding the propriety of Plaintiff's counsel's questioning, County Counsel's instruction to the 21 witness not to answer was clearly improper.

22 However, as previously discussed, sanctions for deposition conduct are discretionary. Thus, 23 the Court finds that Judge Lloyd's determination that sanctions were not warranted under the 24 circumstances was not clearly erroneous or contrary to law.

26 ⁴ 196 F.R.D. 362, 366 (N.D. Cal. 2000).

27 ⁵ 108 F.R.D. 727, 730 (D.C. Mass. 1985).

1 In sum, the Court finds that Judge Lloyd's denial of sanctions for County Counsel's
2 improper instruction to Nurse Anderson was not clearly erroneous or contrary to law. Accordingly,
3 the Court OVERRULES Plaintiff's Objection on that ground.

4 2. Order re: Motion to Compel Interrogatory Responses

5 Defendants contend that Judge Lloyd's denial of Plaintiff's Motion to compel supplementary
6 responses to Plaintiff's interrogatories numbers seven, fifteen, and sixteen was not clearly erroneous
7 or contrary to law because Defendants satisfied all of their reasonably construed discovery
8 obligations with respect to those interrogatories. (Opposition at 13-17.) The Court considers each 9 of these interrogatories and Defendants' responses in turn.

10 a. Interrogatory Number Seven

11 Defendants contend that interrogatory number seven is unreasonably burdensome and 12 exceeds the number of interrogatories permitted by Fed. R. Civ. P. 33(a)(1).

13 Interrogatory number seven states:

14 If you contend that any material fact(s) set forth by plaintiff at her deposition is/are 15 incorrect—with regard to her medical condition at the Elmwood Women's Facility January 5 16 to 14, 2007, her requests in connection with her medical condition and any action taken or 17 not taken by County employees, officers, contractors, or agents during her 18 incarceration—please identify the facts you contend is/are incorrect, and state all facts which 19 support your contention.

20 (Harris Decl., Ex. C at 9.)

21 Defendants objected to interrogatory number seven on the grounds that: (1) fully answering 22 the interrogatory would require Defendants to "comb through" Plaintiff's 305-page deposition
23 transcript to identify incorrect material facts relating to Plaintiff's medical condition, and (2)
24 requiring Defendants to respond to an untold number of contentions contained within the deposition
25 transcript amounts to a subversion of the twenty-five interrogatory limit provided under Fed. R. Civ.
26 P. 33(a)(1). (Opposition at 14-15.)

27 Although Judge Lloyd's Order does not address Defendants' objection to the interrogatory 28 directly, upon review, the Court finds that his determination that Defendants were not obligated to 1 provide a further response to interrogatory number seven was not clearly erroneous or contrary to 2 law and OVERRULES Plaintiff's Objection on that ground.

3 b. Interrogatory Number Fifteen

4 Defendants contend that they answered interrogatory number fifteen completely, and that 5 Plaintiff has obtained additional requested information through other forms of discovery.
6 (Opposition at 15-16.)

7 Interrogatory number 15 states: "Please identify each and every nurse and/or doctor
8 associated with the Elmwood Women's Facility who observed plaintiff or spoke to her regarding her 9 medical condition during her incarceration January 5 to 14, 2007." (Harris Decl., Ex. C at 16.) In 10 response, Defendants contend that they identified the fifteen doctors and nurses who treated Plaintiff
11 during her incarceration. (Opposition at 15.) However, Plaintiff contends that she has now
12 identified approximately forty County employees, consisting of correctional officers, nurses,
13 medical clerks, and doctors, who interacted with plaintiff with regard to her medical condition
14 during her incarceration. (Objections at 16.)

15 On its face, the interrogatory only requires Defendants to produce a list of doctors and nurses
16 who observed or interacted with Plaintiff. Plaintiff, however, has come up with a much longer list 17 which she admits also includes correctional officers and medical clerks. The Court finds that 18 Defendants did not fail to meet their discovery obligations when they left out of their interrogatory
19 response personnel who were not doctors or nurses. Plaintiff provides no basis upon which to find 20 that the list that Defendants provided was incomplete. Moreover, Plaintiff admits that Defendants
21 produced computer data that provided Plaintiff with a complete list of all County medical employees
22 who had contact with Plaintiff regarding her medical condition, making a supplemental interrogatory
23 response duplicative. (See Objections at 16.)

24 Accordingly, the Court finds that Judge Lloyd's denial of Plaintiff's motion to compel a 25 supplementary response to interrogatory number fifteen was not clearly erroneous or contrary to law
26 and OVERRULES Plaintiff's Objection on that ground.

1 c. Interrogatory Number Sixteen

2 Defendants contend that interrogatory number sixteen is unduly burdensome because, as a
3 practical matter, it would require Defendants to depose every individual named in interrogatory
4 number fifteen and report the results to Plaintiff. (Opposition at 16.)

5 Interrogatory number sixteen states:

6 For each individual identified in response to interrogatory number 15, please state all facts to 7 which that person has knowledge in connection with Laila Batts and/or the claims raised in 8 this litigation, including the details of what that person heard, saw, said or did in connection 9 with plaintiff's medical condition.

10 (Harris Decl., Ex. C at 17.)

11 In determine the proper scope of interrogatory number 16, the Court finds persuasive the 12 district court's decision in IBP, Inc. v. Mercantile Bank of Topeka, 179 F.R.D. 316, 321 (D. Kan.
13 1998). In IBP, Inc., the court found interrogatories overly broad and unduly burdensome to the 14 extent they asked for "every fact and every application of law to fact which supports the identified 15 allegations." (Id.) The court further explained:

16 To require specifically "each and every" fact and application of law to fact . . . would too
17 often require a laborious, time-consuming analysis, search, and description of incidental,
18 secondary, and perhaps irrelevant and trivial details. The burden to answer then outweighs 19 the benefit to be gained. Other discovery procedures, such as depositions and production of 20 documents, better address whatever need there be for that kind of secondary detail.

21 Id.

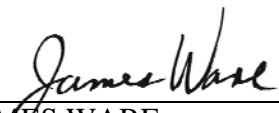

22 Similarly here, in order for Defendants to exhaustively "state all facts" to which at least 23 fifteen individuals have "knowledge in connection with Laila Batts and/or the claims raised in this 24 litigation," Defendants would have to undertake a costly and time-consuming investigative process.
25 Such a broad and unfocused inquiry would likely produce as much extraneous and secondary 26 information as useful and relevant information. Furthermore, Plaintiff may herself depose any of the 27 individuals identified in interrogatory number fifteen, as long as she stays within the ten deposition 28 limit imposed by Fed. R. Civ. P. 30(a)(2)(A)(I), if she wishes to discern their specific knowledge regarding her medical treatment.

1 Accordingly, the Court finds that Judge Lloyd's denial of Plaintiff's motion to compel a 2 further response to interrogatory number sixteen was not clearly erroneous or contrary to law and 3 OVERRULES Plaintiff's Objection on that ground.

4 C. Conclusion

5 The Court OVERRULES Plaintiff's Objections to Judge Lloyd's Discovery Order as to his 6 denial of Plaintiff's motion for sanctions in relation to the deposition of Nurse Anderson and his 7 denial of Plaintiff's motion to compel further interrogatory responses.
