E-FILED 08-05-2011

NOT FOR CITATION
IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA
SAN JOSE DIVISION

LAILA BATTI,

No. C08-00286 EJD (HRL)

Plaintiff,

v.

ORDER GRANTING DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO VACATE A PORTION OF
SEPTEMBER 14, 2010 DISCOVERY
ORDER

COUNTY OF SANTA CLARA, PETER
CRANDALL, CHRISTINA ARQUERO, and DOES 3-20,

[Re: Docket No. 381]

Defendants.

Discovery has been an ongoing and fiercely fought battle in this litigation. Both sides have filed their fair share of motions; and, many of those motions each raised myriad issues as to which the parties could not agree.

Although discovery closed long ago, the parties continue, even now, to wrangle over depositions. In this latest skirmish, defendants move to vacate the portion of this court's September 14, 2010 order (Docket No. 274) giving plaintiff leave to conduct six additional depositions beyond the presumptive ten-deposition limit. The dispute over additional depositions was but one of about ten issues raised by plaintiff's underlying motion (Docket No. 184). And, as noted in the September 14, 2010 order, plaintiff's request to take additional depositions struck this court merely as an effort to tie up loose ends in discovery. Nevertheless, the court exercised its discretion and gave plaintiff an opportunity to take six additional

1 depositions if she wished. Defendants now move to prevent those depositions from proceeding,
2 arguing that (1) additional depositions now are not feasible and (2) plaintiff was not diligent, in
3 any event, in pursuing those additional depositions.

4 Prior to the reassignment of this case, Judge Ware referred defendants' motion to the 5 undersigned for disposition. The matter was deemed submitted without oral argument. CIV.
6 L.R. 7-1(b). Having considered the moving and responding papers, this court grants the motion.

7 Plaintiff's argument about waiver of objections to the September 14, 2010 order is 8 unconvincing. Defendants do not contend that the underlying order is wrong. Rather, they 9 argue that it would be unfair to have to now carry out the portion of the order re additional 10 depositions.

11 The primary basis for defendants' motion is moot. Indeed, the pretrial filing deadlines,
12 pretrial conference, and trial have been re-set for dates later this fall. As noted above, however,
13 this court was not overwhelmed as to the purported need for the additional depositions. And,
14 the record presented indicates that plaintiff was not diligent in pursuing them—conduct which 15 suggests that she did not really need more depositions after all. Indeed, it seems that plaintiff
16 said nothing about those depositions until defendants filed the instant motion seeking to prevent 17 them from going forward. Plaintiff's counsel says that he was busy on other cases. But, there is 18 no indication that the deadlines or trials in those other matters were a surprise. Plaintiff says
19 that the depositions might be helpful, but she does not argue that she needs them. Nor does she 20 say how she will be prejudiced (if at all) if she is prevented from taking them. Instead, she 21 essentially says that she is entitled to take them. But, for the reasons stated above, plaintiff's
22 claims of entitlement are stale. Moreover, if past history in this matter is any guide, it seems
23 likely that permitting additional depositions now would lead to even more discovery disputes
24 which might well impact the current case schedule.

25 As a matter of managing discovery, which closed long ago, this court therefore will 26 relieve defendants of their obligation to produce any further witnesses for deposition. Their
