	Case No. C 08-991 JF (RS)

For the reasons set forth below, the motion will be denied. Cruz did not seek, and was not awarded, statutory damages under the RFDCPA. On September 30, 2009, the Court granted Cruz summary judgment on her FDCPA claim but inadvertently did not include an award of damages. Cruz then filed a motion seeking alteration and amendment of the judgment to include an award of statutory damages, fees and costs under the statute. The order of December 18, 2009 awarded Cruz $1,000.00 in damages as well as reasonable attorney's fees and costs according to proof.

Defendants also claim that because Cruz did not provide any evidence of damages, she should not have been awarded damages under the FDCPA. However, the Court already has held that the FDCPA is a strict liability statute. Statutory damages are based upon the Court's assessment of the frequency and persistence of noncompliance by the debt collector, the nature of the noncompliance, and the extent to which the noncompliance was intentional. See 15 U.S.C. § 1692(k)(a)(2)(A). Defendants offer no new arguments as to why the $1,000 statutory award is erroneous. Accordingly, the motion will be DENIED.
