1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 1. INTRODUCTION

3 The KFC Defendants<sup>1</sup> jointly file this motion to dismiss under Fed. R. Civ. Proc.
4 12(b)(3) and 12(b)(6) with regard to Plaintiff eBay, Inc.'s ("Plaintiff" and/or "eBay") Second 5 Amended Complaint ("SAC").

6 The First Amended Complaint was dismissed as to the KFC Defendants by Order of 7 this Court dated February 24, 2009.<sup>2</sup> The Court dismissed the First Amended Complaint as to the 8 KFC Defendants pursuant to Rule 12(b)(3) on the grounds that the forum selection clause contained
9 in that certain Publisher Service Agreement ("PSA") binds eBay and provides that eBay's claims
10 can only be maintained in the Central District of California and/or the Los Angeles Superior Court.
11 More specifically, the Court ruled as follows:

12 " . . . [T]he Non-DPS Defendants [i.e., the KFC Defendants] argue
13 that eBay is bound by the forum selection clause set forth in the PSA. A 14 forum selection clause is presumed to be valid and enforceable absent a 15 showing that 'enforcement would be unreasonable and unjust, or that the 16 clause was invalid for such reasons as fraud or overreaching.' [Citation
17 omitted.] eBay does not contest the validity of the clause; rather, it 18 asserts that it is not bound by the clause because it is not a signatory
19 to the PSA. In response, Defendants argue that eBay is bound by the 20 PSA as a third-party beneficiary.

21 In the Ninth Circuit, a third-party beneficiary of an agreement is 22 bound by the terms of the agreement, including a valid forum

24 <sup>1</sup> The KFC Defendants consist of Defendants Kessler's Flying Circus, BrianDunning.com, 25 Thunderwood Holdings, Inc., Dunning Enterprise, Inc., Brian Dunning and Todd Dunning.
Individual Defendant names will be used in this brief to the extent context requires.

26 <sup>2</sup> A true and correct copy of the Order (1) Granting Motions to Dismiss for Improper Venue and (2)
27 Granting In Part Motion to Dismiss for Failure to State a Claim Upon Which Relief May Be 28 Granted, dated February 24, 2009 ("Order") is attached to the KFC Defendants' Compendium of Exhibits ("Compendium") as Exhibit "1."

1 selection clause. [Citation omitted.] Defendants argue that while eBay
2 may not be an actual signatory to the PSA, eBay does enter into a
3 supplemental Terms and Conditions ('T&C') Agreement with advertising
4 affiliates. The T&C Agreement appears to supplement the PSA, reciting
5 in relevant part as follows:

6 In consideration for Your participation in the Affiliate Program (the 7 'Program') maintained by eBay Inc. ('eBay') through Commission
8 Junction ('CJ'), You agree to comply with these Supplemental Terms
9 and Conditions ('Terms and Conditions') in addition to the terms of the 10 Commission Junction Publisher Service Agreement ('PSA'). If any of 11 these Terms and Conditions conflict with those of the PSA, then these 12 Terms and Conditions will control. Capitalized terms not defined herein
13 have the meanings set forth in the PSA.

14 Foreman Decl. Ex. 2. This language in the T&C Agreement,
15 when read together with eBay's own allegations in the FAC with 16 respect to the role of the PSA, indicates that eBay is a third-party
17 beneficiary of the PSA. Pursuant to the PSA, advertising affiliates earn 18 revenue by 'promoting Advertisers,' including eBay. See PSA at 1.
19 Indeed, the T&C Agreement appears expressly to incorporate the terms
20 of the PSA. [Citation omitted.] ” (Order at 6:12 to 7:10, emphasis 21 added.)

22 The Court also determined that eBay did not establish that the forum selection clause
23 in the PSA is superseded by the eBay's "User Agreement" as argued by eBay at oral argument:

24 "At oral argument, eBay contended that a separate 'user agreement'
25 supersedes the forum selection clause of the PSA. See Hr'g Tr. 25-26, 26 Dec. 12, 2008. However, the FAC does not explain how violation of 27 the user agreement is unrelated to the alleged breach of the PSA or 28

1 why the PSA should not be considered the primary and controlling
2 agreement for all claims related to the PSA. Moreover, the FAC
3 only alleges that individual Defendants Shawn Hogan, Brian
4 Dunning, and Todd Dunning entered into the user agreement. See
5 FAC ¶35. Accordingly, while eBay has met its burden of showing that 6 venue would be proper in this district in the absence of an applicable 7 forum selection clause, it has failed to present sufficient allegations as 8 to why it is not bound by the forum selection clause contained in the 9 PSA. The Central District of California and/or the Los Angeles
10 Superior Court would provide an alternate and viable forum to bring
11 claims against the Non-DPS Defendants. [Citation omitted.]

12 Accordingly, the motion to dismiss by the Non-DPA Defendants for 13 improper venue will be granted, with leave to amend.” (Order at 7:14 to 14 8:1, emphasis added.)

15 As set forth below, eBay does not (and cannot) present sufficient allegations
16 establishing that it is not bound by the forum selection clause contained in the PSA. On this ground
17 alone, the SAC should be dismissed without leave to amend.

18 Notwithstanding the propriety of dismissal for improper venue, the allegations in the 19 SAC reveal that eBay’s claims are time-barred by the contractual limitations period set forth in the 20 PSA. In the event the Court is not inclined to dismiss the SAC for improper venue, the SAC should 21 be dismissed without leave to amend for failure to state a claim because eBay’s claims are time 22 barred.

23 Finally, but by no means least, the claims alleged in the SAC are barred because 24 were previously released by eBay as against the KFC Defendants. Indeed, eBay’s admitted agent, 25 Commission Junction, Inc. (“CJ”) within the last month expressly released all claims relating to the 26 PSA on behalf of eBay and affirmed its authority to do so in settlement of a state court action
27 pending in the County of Orange, State of California which alleged the same wrongful conduct 28

1 against the KFC Defendants as alleged in the SAC.

2 In sum, eBay has failed to (and cannot) cure the failure to allege facts establishing 3 proper venue in this District and the SAC fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted
4 because the claims alleged in the SAC are both time barred and have otherwise been expressly 5 released. As such, the SAC should be dismissed without leave to amend.

6 2. ARGUMENT

7 A. The SAC Should be Dismissed for Improper Venue

8 In connection with a Motion under Rule 12(b)(3) the Court need not accept as true
9 the allegations of the SAC, and it may consider evidence from any party outside the pleadings
10 themselves. Murphy v. Schneider National, Inc., 362 F. 3d 1133, 1137 (9th Cir. 2004). As the 11 Court noted in its Order, “ultimately the plaintiff bears the burden of showing that venue is proper.
12 Piedmont Label, Co. v. Sun Garden Packing Co., 598 F. 2d 491, 496 (9th Cir. 1979).” (Order, at 13 5:4-5.) Moreover, forum selection clauses are presumed valid under federal law and enforcement 14 will be ordered unless it clearly would be “unreasonable and unjust, or the clause was invalid for 15 such reasons as fraud or over-reaching.” M/S Breman v. Zapata Off-Shore Co., 407 U.S. 1, 15
16 (1972); Manetti-Farrow, Inc. v. Gucci America, Inc., 858 F.2d 509, 512 (9th Cir. 1988).

17 As set forth in the Order, this Court has already determined that based on the 18 allegations in the First Amended Complaint regarding the role of the PSA and the language of the 19 T&C Agreement (which expressly incorporates the terms of the PSA) eBay is a third party
20 beneficiary of the PSA, and is bound by the venue selection clause contained in the PSA.<sup>3</sup> Nothing
21 alleged in the SAC contradicts this finding by the Court. To the contrary, the allegations of the 22 SAC affirm that eBay’s claims derive from the KFC Defendants’ participation in eBay’s Affiliate 23 Marketing Program – the terms of which are governed by the PSA and the T&C Agreement (to 24 which eBay is admittedly a party) which expressly incorporates the terms of the PSA.

25 Paragraphs 18 through 23 of the SAC, which follow the sub-heading “eBay’s 26

27 _____
28 <sup>3</sup> True and correct copies of the PSA and the T&C Agreement are attached to the Compendium as Exhibits “2” and “3,” respectively.

1 Affiliate Marketing Program,” describe the intent, purpose and mechanics of eBay’s Affiliate
2 Marketing Program. Most significantly, eBay alleges that the Affiliate Marketing Program is 3 designed to increase traffic to eBay by the placement of advertisements for eBay by third party
4 affiliates such as the KFC Defendants. (SAC at ¶19). Such affiliates are compensated by eBay
5 under the Affiliate Marketing Program when the affiliate advertisement causes an internet user to 6 take some action at eBay’s site resulting in revenue to eBay or is likely to result in revenue to eBay
7 in the future. (SAC at ¶19). In addition, eBay and/or its agent, CJ, tracked affiliate compensation
8 under the Affiliate Marketing Program and CJ, on behalf of eBay, administered the Affiliate
9 Marketing Program. (SAC at ¶19:12-14 and ¶20). Finally, eBay alleges that “CJ pays affiliates on 10 a periodic basis (usually monthly) with funds remitted by eBay, based on the number of Revenue
11 Actions taken by users referred by those affiliates.”(SAC at ¶23).

12 Although the SAC references neither the PSA nor the T&C Agreement (as was the 13 case with the First Amended Complaint), it is undisputed that the terms of the PSA and the T&C
14 Agreement (which expressly incorporates the terms of the PSA) governed the KFC Defendants’
15 participation in eBay’s Affiliate Marketing Program:

16 eBay Terms and Conditions

17 eBay Affiliate Program – Supplemental Terms and Conditions

18 “In consideration of Your participation in the Affiliate program
19 maintained by eBay Inc. (‘eBay’) through Commission Junction, Inc.
20 (‘CJ’), You agree to comply with these Supplemental Terms and 21 Conditions (‘Terms and Conditions’) in addition to the terms of the 22 Commission Junction Publisher Service Agreement (‘PSA’).” (T&C
23 Agreement at p.1).

24 * * *

25 Commission Junction Publisher Service Agreement

26 “The Advertiser [i.e., eBay] compensates the Publisher [i.e., the KFC
27 Defendants], in accordance with this Agreement.”

1 Nothing alleged in the SAC contradicts the fact that the KFC Defendants'
2 participation in eBay's Affiliate Marketing Program derives from the PSA and the T&C Agreement.
3 Indeed, eBay does not dispute (because it cannot dispute) that but for the KFC Defendants'
4 participation in eBay's Affiliate Marketing Program, the KFC Defendants would have no reason to 5 participate in the alleged cookie stuffing scheme which eBay alleges caused eBay to pay
6 unauthorized commissions to the KFC Defendants under the PSA.

7 The allegations of the SAC establish that each of the claims alleged in the SAC derive 8 from the KFC Defendants' participation in the Affiliate Marketing Program, and more specifically
9 the allegations that the KFC Defendants' alleged cookie stuffing scheme was designed to cause eBay
10 to pay unauthorized commissions to the KFC Defendants. Indeed, each of the claims alleged in the 11 SAC contain an allegation that the KFC Defendants' alleged cookie stuffing scheme damaged eBay.

12 In short, but for the KFC Defendants' participation in eBay's Affiliate Marketing
13 Program via the PSA and the T&C Agreement, eBay would have no claims against the KFC
14 Defendants. As set forth below, eBay's attempt to allege that its claims derive primarily from the 15 "User Agreement" allegedly entered into by the KFC Defendants is absurd.

16 B. eBay's Claims Do Not Derive From The User Agreement

17 In dismissing the First Amended Complaint, the Court did not find persuasive eBay's 18 argument that the User Agreement entered into by the individual KFC Defendants supersedes the 19 forum selection clause of the PSA. Indeed, as cited above, the Court specifically determined that 20 "the FAC does not explain how violation of the user agreement is unrelated to the alleged breach of 21 the PSA or why the PSA should not be considered the primary and controlling agreement for all
22 claims related to the PSA. . . [eBay] has failed to present sufficient allegations as to why it is not 23 bound by the forum selection clause contained in the PSA." (Order at 7:15-18 and 21-22). eBay
24 has not corrected (because it cannot correct) this deficiency.

25 In the SAC eBay alleges at Paragraph 16 that "[p]ursuant to the User Agreements
26 entered into by [the KFC Defendants], as discussed in paragraph 26 infra, [the KFC Defendants]
27 have consented to the jurisdiction of and venue in the Northern District of California." eBay goes 28

1 on to allege in Paragraph 16 that “under the User Agreements, the Defendants have agreed that any
2 claim or controversy at law or equity that arises out of this Agreement or eBay’s services must be
3 resolved by a court located in Santa Clara County, California.”

4 At Paragraph 26 of the SAC eBay provides its purported explanation as to why the 5 User Agreement should be considered the primary or controlling agreements as to its claims.
6 However, eBay neither attaches nor quotes any User Agreement. Moreover, eBay does not mention
7 the PSA nor otherwise attempt to explain how purported violations of the User Agreement are 8 unrelated to the KFC Defendants’ alleged breach of the PSA or why the PSA should not be 9 considered the primary and controlling agreement for all claims related to the PSA. eBay simply 10 ignores the PSA in the portion of the SAC that it contends explains the propriety of venue in the 11 Northern District of California.

12 At Paragraph 26 eBay “explains” the connection to the User Agreement as follows:

13 (1) software allegedly created by the KFC Defendants caused unidentified internet users to access 14 eBay website in an unauthorized way, (2) such access by unidentified internet users was unknown to 15 the internet users and is attributable to the KFC Defendants, (3) the alleged access by unidentified
16 internet users attributable to the KFC Defendants violates the User Agreements entered into 17 between the individual KFC Defendants and eBay on November 10, 2000 (Brian Dunning) and May 18 21, 2003 (Todd Dunning), and (4) each cause of action alleged in the SAC arises out of this alleged 19 unauthorized access by unidentified internet users allegedly attributable to the KFC Defendants.

20 This “explanation” falls short of the explanation requested of the court in the Order.

21 eBay fails to explain how the alleged violation of the User Agreement as described by 22 eBay is unrelated to the alleged breach of the PSA such that it supersedes the PSA as the primary 23 document underlying eBay’s claims. As set forth above, the allegations of the SAC establish that 24 each of the claims alleged in the SAC derive from the KFC Defendants’ participation in the Affiliate
25 Marketing Program, and more specifically that the KFC Defendants’ alleged cookie stuffing scheme
26 was designed to cause eBay to pay unauthorized commissions to the KFC Defendants under the 27 PSA. It cannot be reasonably disputed that but for the KFC Defendants’ participation in eBay’s
28

1 Affiliate Marketing Program via the PSA and the T&C Agreement, the KFC Defendants could not
2 have bilked commissions from eBay under the PSA as alleged by eBay. eBay does not, because it
3 cannot, allege that the User Agreement has any connection to the PSA and the payment of 4 commissions to the KFC Defendants thereunder. All of eBay's claims are related to the KFC
5 Defendants participation in the Affiliate Marketing Program via the PSA and the T&C Agreement
6 which expressly incorporates the terms of the PSA. Nothing in the SAC contradicts this.

7 The fact that eBay's claims are related primarily to the KFC Defendants'
8 participation in the Affiliate Marketing Program via the PSA and the T&C Agreement is further 9 evidenced by the discovery requests served by eBay on January 22, 2009. Practically every request
10 for documents, special interrogatory and request for admission served by eBay references eBay's
11 Affiliate Marketing Program.<sup>4</sup> By way of example:

12 REQUEST FOR ADMISSION NO. 6:

13 Admit that KFC participated in an eBay Affiliate Marketing
14 Program or programs.

15 REQUEST FOR ADMISSION NO. 11:

16 Admit that, while participating in an eBay Affiliate Marketing
17 Program or Programs, KFC utilized software programs and/or code that 18 performed Cookie Stuffing.

19 REQUEST FOR ADMISSION NO. 23:

20 Admit that KFC received commissions from eBay, whether 21 directly or through Commission Junction, that were based, in whole or in 22 part, Cookie Stuffing caused by KFC.

23 * * *

24
25
26
27 <sup>4</sup> True and correct copies of eBay's First Request for Admissions, First Set of Special 28 Interrogatories and First Request for Documents served on Defendant KFC are attached to the Compendium as Exhibits "4" through "6," respectively.

1 As set forth above, eBay cannot reasonably deny (and has at least tacitly admitted)
2 that the claims alleged in the SAC arise from the KFC Defendants' participation in the Affiliate
3 Marketing Program via the PSA and T&C Agreement. Even if eBay were to establish that its 4 claims also arise from the User Agreement (which it cannot, and has not), the User Agreement does 5 not contain an effective forum selection clause as to this action.

6 eBay's User Agreement can be found on eBay's website.<sup>5</sup> eBay's User Agreement
7 (which eBay does not attach to the SAC) provides that it "is effective for current users" as of 8 August 13, 2008. (User Agreement at "Introduction.") This action was commenced by eBay
9 against the KFC Defendants on August 25, 2008. As such, as of the commencement of this action,
10 the August 13, 2008 User Agreement was effective regardless of when eBay alleges any of the KFC
11 Defendants entered into a User Agreement.

12 In the SAC, eBay alleges that "under the User Agreement, the Defendants have 13 agreed that any claim or controversy at law or equity that arises out of this Agreement or eBay's
14 services must be resolved by a court located in Santa Clara County, California." (SAC at ¶16).
15 This allegation is false. The User Agreement actually provides the following language with respect
16 to venue selection:

17 "You agree that any claim or dispute you may have against eBay must 18 be resolved by a court located in Santa Clara County, California." (User
19 Agreement at "Resolution of Disputes - Law and Forum of Disputes," 20 emphasis added).

21 Therefore, the forum selection clause in the User Agreement only applies to claims
22 brought against eBay. It seems eBay did not want to limit venue as to any claims it may bring 23 against any User. As such, even if eBay were to establish that its claims also arise to some extent
24 from the User Agreement (which it cannot, and has not), the User Agreement does not contain an 25 effective forum selection clause as to this action.

26
27 <sup>5</sup> A true and correct copy of the eBay User Agreement is attached to the Compendium as Exhibit 28 "7."

1 D. The Venue Selection Clause In The PSA Requires That The Case Be Dismissed And 2 Not Transferred

3 The wording of a forum selection clause may properly limit litigation to particular 4 courts within a state: e.g., to state courts rather than federal district courts located in the state.
5 American Soda, LLP v. U.S. Filter Wastewater Group, Inc., 428 F. 3d 921, 926 (10th Cir. 2005)
6 (“Courts of the State of Colorado” meant state courts not federal courts); see also, Milk N’ More
7 Inc. v. Beavert, 963 F. 2d 1342, 1345 (10th Cir. 1992). The forum selection clause in the PSA
8 limits litigation to state courts in Los Angeles except to the extent “federal courts have exclusive 9 jurisdiction.” In the event the federal court has exclusive jurisdiction, litigation is limited to federal 10 court in Los Angeles. Paragraph 9(d) of the PSA provides as follows:

11 “This Agreement is governed by the laws of the State of California
12 (USA), except for its conflict of law provisions. The exclusive forum
13 for any actions related to this Agreement shall be in the state courts, 14 and, to the extent that federal courts have exclusive jurisdiction, in Los 15 Angeles, California. The parties consent to such venue and 16 jurisdiction and waive any right to a trial by jury.” (Emphasis added.)

17 Federal courts do not have exclusive jurisdiction over the federal claims alleged by 18 eBay in the Complaint. As such, the claims alleged by eBay can only be brought in state court in 19 Los Angeles. There are some matters that are within the exclusive jurisdiction of the federal courts, 20 but these are very few. Most claims, including most federal question claims, are subject to the 21 concurrent jurisdiction of federal and state courts. Gulf Offshore Co. v. Mobile Oil Corp., 453 U.S.
22 473, 478 (1981). Indeed, in considering the propriety of state court jurisdiction over any federal 23 claim, it is presumed that state courts enjoy concurrent jurisdiction. That presumption can only be 24 rebutted by an explicit statutory directive confining jurisdiction to federal courts or by clear
25 incompatibility between state court jurisdiction and federal interests. Gulf Offshore, supra, 453
26 U.S. at 478.

27 It is well settled that both federal law claims alleged by eBay in the SAC are subject
28

1 to the concurrent jurisdiction of the state and federal courts. First, the CFAA does not contain an
2 explicit directive conferring exclusive jurisdiction and it has otherwise been held that no exclusive
3 federal jurisdiction exists as to civil actions under the CFAA. H&R Block Tax Services, Inc. v.
4 Riviera-Alicea, 570 F. Supp. 255, fn. 5 (D.P.R. 2008), citing, Prominent Consulting LLC v. Allen
5 Bros., 543 F. Supp. 2d 877, 884 (N. D. Ill. 2008). Likewise, civil RICO claims are not within the 6 exclusive jurisdiction of the federal courts. The seminal Ninth Circuit case on the issue is Lou v.
7 Belzberg, 834 F. 2d 730, 735 (9th Cir. 1987). The Lou court determined that although there are 8 persuasive arguments both for and against concurrent jurisdiction, “the stronger arguments favor
9 concurrent jurisdiction” as to civil RICO claims.

10 Therefore, the subject venue selection clause requires that the case be dismissed
11 since it cannot be brought in federal court. To the extent eBay re-files the claims alleged in the 12 SAC against the KFC Defendants, such claims can only be filed in state court located in Los 13 Angeles.

14 3. THE SAC SHOULD BE DISMISSED BASED ON THE LIMITATIONS PROVISION IN 15 THE PSA

16 This motion under Rule 12(b)(6) looks to determine whether the SAC contains 17 allegations sufficient to state claims for which the Court may grant relief even if the allegations and 18 reasonable inferences from them are reviewed in plaintiff's favor. Display Research Laboratories,
19 Inc. v. Telegen Corporation, 133 F. Supp. 2d 1170 (N.D. Cal. 2001). In addition to the allegations
20 in the SAC, the Court may consider in a Rule 12(b)(6) motion matters for which authenticity is not 21 questioned and on which the complaint necessarily relies. Parrino v. FHP, Inc., 146 F.3d 699, 706
22 (9th Cir. 1998); In Re Stacs Elecs. Sec, Litig. 89 F.3d 1399, 1405 n.4 (9th Cir. 1996). Therefore,
23 the Rule 12(b)(6) motion is based on the contents of the PSA which has previously been accepted
24 and relied on by this Court.

25 Just as the PSA governs the questions of the proper venue, it also provides the period
26 of time in which actions may be brought among CJ, eBay and the KFC Defendants based on claims
27 relating to eBay’s Affiliate Marketing Program. Paragraph 7(a) of the PSA states the contractual 28

1 limitation period as follows:

2 "NO ACTION, SUIT OR PROCEEDING SHALL BE BROUGHT 3 AGAINST THE OTHER PARTY TO THIS AGREEMENT MORE
4 THAN ONE YEAR AFTER THE TERMINATION OF THIS
5 AGREEMENT." (Formatted as in original text.)

6 As set forth above, the T&C Agreement expressly incorporates the terms of the PSA.
7 It is undisputed that eBay is a party to the T&C Agreement. In any event, with respect to the PSA,
8 it is settled law that a third-party beneficiary is bound by all provisions of the contract, including the 9 contractual limitations provision in the contract. Janet Perez-Encinas v. Amerus Life Ins. Co., 468
10 F. Supp 2d. 1127, 1134 (N.D. Cal. 2006) (Judge Breyer); Skylawn and Skyview Memorial Lawn v.
11 Superior Court, (1979) 88 Cal. App. 3d. 316, 319. A third-party beneficiary must take the 12 limitations provision in the contract when the beneficiary seeks to enforce rights or obtain recovery
13 based on the contract. See, L.E. Sanders v. American Casualty Company, (1969) 269 Cal. App.
14 2d. 306, 309. A third-party beneficiary cannot have any greater rights under the contract than the 15 other parties. Skylawn, supra. at 319. Downey v. Federal Express Corporation, 1993 U.S. Dist.
16 LEXIS 16114, at *7 (N.D. Cal. 1993) (Judge Patel). The Court is bound to interpret this 17 limitations provision in its "ordinary and popular sense and give it the meaning a "layperson would 18 ordinarily attach to it." Perez-Encinas, supra. at 1133. Cal. Code of Civ. Proc. §§ 1638 and 1644.

19 Since eBay terminated the KFC Defendants from its Affiliate Marketing Program on 20 June 19, 2007 (SAC ¶ 57), it was required to commence this action on or before the end of the day
21 on June 19, 2008, pursuant to this contractual limitation provision. The meaning of this phrase is 22 plain—"NO ACTION" means these parties cannot sue each other after an agreed upon date for any 23 claim requiring an application of the terms of this contract. eBay did not file this lawsuit until 24 August 25, 2008, which is beyond one year from termination.

25 There is no unfairness in applying this contractual limitation to eBay's claim since it
26 expressly adopted the terms of the PSA and even presumably had the opportunity to modify that 27 provision through the T&C Agreement. Furthermore, the SAC reveals that eBay knew as of the 28

1 date of termination all facts giving rise to its claims. (SAC ¶ 60) Therefore, the entire SAC should
2 be dismissed under Rule 12(b)(6) without leave to amend because all of its claims are time barred.

3 4. THE SAC SHOULD BE DISMISSED BECAUSE ALL OF THE CLAIMS ALLEGED IN 4 THE SAC HAVE BEEN RELEASED AS AGAINST THE KFC DEFENDANTS

5 As this Court previously noted in the Order, CJ (eBay's agent for the purposes of 6 eBay's Affiliate Marketing Program) previously sued the KFC Defendants in state court in Southern 7 California (the "State Court Action"). <sup>6</sup>As also noted in the Order "the issues in the [State Court
8 Action] arose out of the same conduct alleged in [eBay's] FAC, with Commission Junction
9 seeking a return of fees paid to [the KFC Defendants] on the grounds that such fees were 10 improperly credited because of the cookie stuffing scheme described above." (Order at 3:12-21),
11 (emphasis added.)

12 In the SAC eBay affirms that CJ was its agent for the purposes of administering 13 eBay's Affiliate Marketing Program, including preventing and detecting fraudulent activities and 14 paying commissions under the PSA:

15 20. At all relevant times, eBay used the services of CJ, a subsidiary 16 of ValueClick, Inc., in administering the Affiliate Marketing Program.
17 The relationship between eBay and CJ was governed at all relevant times
18 by various Advertiser Service Agreements. Under those agreements, CJ
19 was responsible for, among other things, recruiting affiliates, tracking 20 affiliate traffic, monitoring compliance by affiliates, preventing and 21 detecting fraudulent activity, and paying affiliates using funds remitted 22 by eBay.

23 * * *

24 23. As part of the services it renders with respect to eBay's Affiliate 25 Marketing Program, CJ pays affiliates on a periodic basis (usually 26

27 <sup>6</sup> A true and correct copy of the Second Amended Complaint filed by CJ in the State Court Action is

1 monthly), with funds remitted by eBay, based on the number of Revenue
2 Actions taken by users referred by those affiliates.

3 The State Court Action was dismissed with prejudice on March 23, 2009.<sup>7</sup> The 4 parties to the State Court Action entered into a Settlement and Mutual General Release Agreement
5 (the "Settlement Agreement").<sup>8</sup> Pursuant to the Settlement Agreement eBay's acknowledged agent,
6 CJ, released the KFC Defendants on behalf of itself and eBay as its principal in connection with the 7 Affiliate Marketing Program as follows:

8 4. Releases by CJI. With the exception of the obligations of the 9 KFC Parties under this Agreement, CJI, together with their principals,
10 agents, attorneys, representatives, subsidiaries, parents, assigns,
11 successors, and predecessors (the "CJI Releasers") hereby absolutely,
12 fully and forever releases, relinquishes and discharges the KFC Parties,
13 together with their principals, agents, attorneys, representatives,
14 subsidiaries, parents, assigns, successors, and predecessors (the "KFC
15 Releasees") from any and all claims, debts, actions, obligations, 16 liabilities, demands, damages, losses, costs, attorneys' fees, interests and 17 expense of any kind or nature, character and description, whether known 18 or unknown, whether suspected or unsuspected, whether fixed or 19 contingent, which the CJI Releasers have held or now hold against the 20 KFC Releasees arising from or related to the Action or any claim which 21 could have been alleged in the Action, or otherwise arising from or 22 related to the relationship between the CJI Releasers and the KFC
23

24 _____
25 <sup>7</sup> A true and correct copy of the entered dismissal is attached to the Compendium as Exhibit "9."
26 The KFC Defendants request that the Court take judicial notice of the fact of the dismissal of the 27 State Court Action with prejudice.

28 <sup>8</sup> A true and correct copy of the Settlement and Mutual General Release Agreement, which is part of the court record in the State Court Action, is attached to the Compendium as Exhibit "10." The KFC Defendants request that the Court take judicial notice of the content of the Agreement.

1 Parties, from the beginning of time to the date of execution of this
2 Agreement (the “CJI Released Claims”). The CJI Releasors
3 acknowledge that they have been advised by legal counsel and are 4 familiar with the provisions of California Civil Code Section 1542,
5 which provides as follows:

6 “A GENERAL RELEASE DOES NOT EXTEND TO 7 CLAIMS WHICH THE CREDITOR DOES NOT KNOW
8 OR SUSPECT TO EXIST IN HIS OR HER FAVOR AT 9 THE TIME OF EXECUTING THE RELEASE, WHICH 10 IF KNOWN BY HIM OR HER MUST HAVE 11 MATERIALLY AFFECTED SETTLEMENT WITH THE 12 DEBTOR.”

13 The CJI Releasors, being aware of this code section, expressly waive 14 to the maximum extent permissible under the law, any rights they may 15 have thereunder, as well as under any other statutes or common law
16 principles of similar effect.<sup>9</sup>

17 The Settlement Agreement expressly provides that CJ has the authority to execute the 18 Settlement Agreements on behalf of its principals including eBay and bind eBay as to its terms
19 including the releases:

20 19. Authority of Signatories. Each person signing this Agreement
21 on behalf of a Party, Releasor and/or the Releasee represents and 22 warrants to the other Party, Releasor and/or Releasee that such person
23 has the authority to execute and bind the Party, Releasor and/or Releasee 24 on whose behalf such signatory is signing and that no other person or 25 entity is required to sign this Agreement to make the Agreement fully 26

27 _____
28 <sup>9</sup> The “KFC Parties” are defined as the KFC Defendants in the Settlement Agreement.

1 enforceable against and binding upon such Party, Releasor and/or 2 Releasee.

3 It is well established that an agent can, and does bind its principal to the extent it
4 purports to do so to a third party, particularly while acting within the scope of its apparent
5 authority. Lippert v. Bailey (1966) 241 Cal.App.2d 376, 382 (An agent may alter the principal's 6 legal relationship when acting within the scope of its agency and may enter into contracts which 7 bind the principal and so create legal obligations that the principal must fulfill); CPI Builders, Inc.
8 v. Impco Technologies, Inc. (2002) 94 Cal.App.4th 1167, 1174. In this case there is no question that 9 CJ acted as the agent of eBay as to the administration of eBay's Affiliate Marketing Program, 10 including preventing and detecting fraudulent activities and paying commissions under the PSA. As 11 such, the claims alleged in the SAC are barred because the claims have been unconditionally
12 released as against the KFC Defendants.

13 5. CONCLUSION

14 Based on the foregoing, the KFC Defendants respectfully request that the SAC be 15 dismissed in its entirety with prejudice.
