Re: Viacom International, Inc. v. YouTube, Inc., No. 1:07-cv-2103 (S.D.N.Y.) and Premier League v. YouTube, No. 1:07-cv-3582

Dear Brandon:

We are reassessing our position with regard to the production of information stored on BayTSP's proprietary databases and apologize for the resultant delay in responding to your letter dated April 2, 2008. We will provide further information next week.

With the exception of information stored on the proprietary databases, we have completed the collection of electronic and hard copy documents from BayTSP and are in the process of formulating a search term list through which we will filter the collected documents to locate responsive documents. We will keep you apprised regarding the date by when we anticipate BayTSP will produce documents.

Finally, BayTSP will produce documents relating to the Viacom-related entities identified in the attachments to my letters dated February 20, 2008 and March 28, 2008. Moreover, pursuant to our agreement we will not be producing (1) documents relating to BayTSP's clients that are not named plaintiffs in this litigation with the exception of these Viacom-related entities; and (2) BayTSP's source code, firm ware, computer programs and algorithms.

Sincerely,

/s/ Maria Ellinikos
