Re: Viacom International, Inc. v. Youtube, Inc.
No. 1:07-cv-2103 (S.D.N.Y.):
Subpoena to BayTSP

Dear Maria:

I write in response to your letter of today.

It appears that our many months of negotiating the scope of the subpoena in good faith with BayTSP have been in vain. In proposing its new “search term” approach, BayTSP appears to have completely reneged on what we understood to be commitments to produce documents responsive to many of the requests – commitments that we thought were settled. Apparently, what we believed was a “meeting of the minds” was in fact, not.

Accordingly, we will be filing a motion to compel full compliance with the subpoena with the court. All prior offers to narrow the scope of the subpoena in an effort to obtain speedier compliance are obviously withdrawn.

Sincerely,

/s/

Brandon Baum
