Case No.: C 08-MC-80211 JF (PVT)
ORDER RE PARTIES PROPOSED FORM OF PROTECTIVE ORDER

On June 30, 2009, the parties filed a [Proposed] Stipulated Pre-Trial Protective Order. Based on the form of order submitted,
IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that no later than July 24, 2009 the parties shall brief whether this court may enter a stipulated pretrial protective order in the above-captioned action in light of its pendency in another district and the language set forth in Rule 26(c)(1)(“A party from whom discovery is sought may move for a protective order in the court where the action is pending – or as an alternative on matters relating to deposition, in the court for the district where the deposition will be taken.”). In the order granting defendant YouTube’s motion to compel dated January 14, 2009, the court had stated that the parties may agree that a stipulated protective order relating to BayTSP’s other clients shall govern from this district. (“January 14, 2009 Order”). Upon further consideration, however, the court finds that additional briefing is needed.

1 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the parties shall submit a revised form of order that 2 rewords Paragraph 13 to read as follows:

3 "Each party shall make efforts that are 'reasonably designed' to protect its 4 privileged materials. See Gomez v. Vernon, 255 F.3d 1118, 1131-32 (9th Cir. 2001).
5 What constitutes efforts that are reasonably designed to protect privileged materials
6 depends on the circumstances; the law does not require 'strenuous or Herculean 7 efforts,' just 'reasonable efforts.' See, e.g., Hynix Semiconductor, Inc. v. Rambus, 8 Inc. 2008 WL 350641, *1-*2 (ND Cal., Feb. 2, 2008); see also, FED.R.CIV.PRO.
9 26(f)(3) advisory committee's notes to 2006 amendments (discussing the substantial 10 costs and delays that can result from attempts to avoid waiving privilege, particularly 11 when discovery of electronic information is involved). When a particular Rule 34 12 request requires a production or inspection that is too voluminous, expedited or 13 complex (such as certain electronic productions) to allow for an adequate pre-14 production review, the parties may enter into non-waiver agreements for that 15 particular production. If the requesting party is unwilling to enter into such an 16 agreement, the Producing Party may move the court for a non-waiver order.

17 "In the event that, despite reasonable efforts, a Producing Party discovers it 18 has inadvertently produced privileged materials, then within 30 calendar days the 19 Producing party shall notify the Receiving Party that the document(s) or materials 20 should have been withheld on grounds of privilege. After the Receiving Party 21 receives this notice from the Producing Party under this paragraph, the Receiving 22 Party shall not disclose or release the inadvertently produced material to any person 23 or entity pending resolution of the Producing Party's claim of privilege. The parties 24 shall hold a meet and confer, as defined in Civil Local Rule 1-5(n), as soon as 25 reasonably possible after a notice of inadvertent production. If the Producing Party 26 and Receiving Party agree that the inadvertently produced material is privileged, and 27 was disclosed despite efforts by the Producing Party that were 'reasonably designed' 28 to protect the materials, then the Receiving Party shall return or certify the destruction of all copies (including summaries) of such material. If no agreement is reached, then within 10 court days after the meet and confer, the Producing Party must seek a ruling from this court to establish that the material is privileged and that the Producing Party did not waive the privilege by inadvertently producing the material. If the Producing Party seeks such a ruling, the Receiving Party shall not disclose or release the inadvertently produced material to any person or entity pending the court's ruling on the Producing Party's motion."

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the stipulated protective order shall provide appropriate instructions for requesting confidential materials be filed under seal pursuant to Local Rule 79-5.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that, pending entry of the final form of protective order, the provisions of the parties' proposed form of protective order, as modified herein, shall govern the handling of confidential information exchanged or disclosed during discovery in this case.

Dated: July 2, 2009
