15 SANFORD WALLACE, ADAM
16 ARZOOMANIAN, SCOTT SHAW, et al.,

Case Number C 09-798 JF

ORDER¹ GRANTING EX PARTE
MOTION FOR A TEMPORARY RESTRAINING ORDER

18
19
20 Plaintiff Facebook, Inc. (“Facebook”) alleges that Defendants Sanford Wallace, Adam
21 Arzoomanian, and Scott Shaw (collectively, “Defendants”) have engaged in an ongoing phishing
22 and spamming campaign against Facebook and its users in violation of (1) the Controlling the 23 Assault of Non-Solicited Pornography and Marketing Act (“CAN-SPAM”), 15 U.S.C. § 7701 et
24 seq.; (2) the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act (“CFAA”), 18 U.S.C. § 1030 et seq., (3) Cal. Penal 25 Code § 502; and (4) Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 22948. Pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 65(b), 26 Facebook seeks a temporary restraining order (“TRO”) enjoining Defendants from engaging in 27 the alleged phishing and spamming activities. For the reasons set forth below, the motion will be

1 granted.

2 I. BACKGROUND

3 Facebook is a well-known social networking website with over 175 million users.
4 Facebook users must register with the website and agree to Facebook's Terms of Use. Upon 5 registration, users are given a unique username and password to access their own user profiles as 6 well as the profiles of their "friends." Users may send messages to each other through the 7 Facebook website, either by e-mail or by postings made on a user's "wall." To maintain the 8 integrity of its website, Facebook maintains strict policies against spam or any other form of 9 unsolicited advertising. The Terms of Use prohibit any activity that would impair the operation
10 of Facebook's website, including the use of data mining "bots" to gain access to users' login
11 information, posting of unsolicited advertising on the website or circulation of such advertising
12 via e-mail, or any use of another person's account without Facebook's prior authorization.

13 Facebook alleges that Defendants are registered Facebook users who are bound by the 14 Terms of Use. Since November 2008, Defendants allegedly have engaged in a phishing and 15 spamming scheme that has compromised the accounts of a substantial number of Facebook users.
16 The scheme generally operates as follows: Defendants send out emails to multiple Facebook
17 users. The emails appear to be legitimate messages and ask the recipients to click on a link to 18 another website. That website is a phishing site designed to trick users into divulging their 19 Facebook login information. Once users divulge the information, Defendants then use it to send 20 spam to the friends of the users, and as the cycle repeats the number of compromised Facebook
21 accounts increases rapidly. Facebook also alleges that certain spam messages redirect users to 22 websites that pay Defendants for each user visit. While Facebook has been reasonably successful
23 in combating this scheme, the expanding scope of the operation has made it increasingly difficult
24 to neutralize Defendants' activities.

25 II. DISCUSSION

26 The standard for issuing a TRO is the same as that for issuing a preliminary injunction.
27 Brown Jordan Int'l, Inc. v. Mind's Eye Interiors, Inc., 236 F. Supp. 2d 1152, 1154 (D. Hawaii
28 2002); Lockheed Missile & Space Co., Inc. v. Hughes Aircraft Co., 887 F. Supp. 1320, 1323

1 (N.D. Cal. 1995). In the Ninth Circuit, a party seeking a preliminary injunction must show either
2 (1) a likelihood of success on the merits and the possibility of irreparable injury, or (2) that
3 serious questions are raised and the balance of the hardships tips in the movant’s favor. Roe v.
4 Anderson, 134 F.3d 1400, 1401-02 (9th Cir. 1998); Apple Computer, Inc. v. Formula Int’l, Inc.,
5 725 F.2d 521, 523 (9th Cir. 1984). These formulations represent two points on a sliding scale in 6 which the required degree of irreparable harm increases as the probability of success decreases.
7 Roe, 134 F.3d at 1402.

8 In the instant case, Facebook engaged in substantial investigative activity before filing
9 and has presented sufficient evidence in support of the instant motion to demonstrate a likelihood 10 of success on the merits with respect to the claims set forth in the operative complaint. In 11 addition, the possibility of irreparable injury exists with respect to both Facebook’s reputation
12 and the personal privacy of Facebook users. See Stuhlberg Intern. Sales Co., Inc. v. John D.
13 Brush and Co., Inc., 240 F.3d 832, 841 (9th Cir. 2001) (“Evidence of threatened loss of 14 prospective customers or goodwill certainly supports a finding of the possibility of irreparable
15 harm.”). See also MySpace, Inc. v. Wallace, 498 F. Supp. 2d 1293, 1305 (C.D. Cal. 2007)
16 (activities similar to the scheme alleged in the instant case caused irreparable harm). Finally, the 17 balance of hardships clearly favors Facebook because it has expended significant time and 18 resources to combat Defendants’ activities, which as noted above are expanding at a considerable 19 rate. See id. (“The balance of hardships tips sharply in favor of Plaintiff here. Plaintiff has 20 already expended substantial time and money in combating Defendant’s unsolicited messages
21 and postings, and has dealt with over 800 resulting user complaints.”). Likewise, Defendants
22 will suffer little or no hardship if enjoined from their allegedly illegal scheme. See id.
23 Accordingly, Facebook is entitled to temporary injunctive relief.

24 A TRO may be issued without notice to the adverse party only if “(A) specific facts in an 25 affidavit or a verified complaint clearly show that immediate and irreparable injury, loss, or 26 damage will result to the movant before the adverse party can be heard in opposition; and (B) the 27 movant’s attorney certifies in writing any efforts made to give notice and the reasons why it
28 should not be required.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 65(b)(1). Moreover, in this district an applicant for a

1 TRO must give notice to the adverse party “[u]nless relieved by order of a Judge for good cause
2 shown, on or before the day of an ex parte motion for a temporary restraining order.” Civ. L.R.
3 65-1(b). Facebook has served Defendant Shaw and has attempted to provide notice to 4 Defendants Wallace and Arzoomanian by telephone and e-mail. Facebook also has presented
5 affidavits that satisfy the good cause requirements of Fed. R. Civ. P. 65(b)(1) and Civ. L.R. 65-6 1(b).
