29 I, Joseph J. De Hope, Jr., declare as follows:

- 30 1. I am an attorney licensed to practice before this Court and am senior counsel with
- 31 the law firm Hinshaw & Culbertson LLP, counsel for Murray & Murray PC ("Murray") for the
- 32 purpose of responding to the subject subpoena. The following facts are within my personal
- 33 knowledge, and, if called upon to do so, I could and would testify competently thereto.
- 34 2. Murray is not a party to this litigation as filed in either California or Texas.
- 35 //
- 36 //

1 For the electronic discovery component:
2 9 computers - figure processing 50gb of data. File shares and other potential media
3 sources like usb, cd, external drives etc - 25gb of data.

4 Process, deduplicate, date and search term filter to reduce the data. Output to 5 review platform for atty review. I'd suggest the paper go up on this as well to better
6 manage the review and production.

7 Electronic data processing: $450/gb

8 De-duplicate, search, filter: $200/gb (data typically grows due to compressed files
9 like email, zip, etc). Usually reduce data by 80%.

10 Hosting data: $99 one-time seat license, $65/gb per month hosting

11 Under the assumptions above:

12 75gb data processed $33,750

13 85gb de-dupe, filter, etc: $17,000

14 5 seat review licenses: $500

15 20gb of data hosted: $1300/month

16 100/hours tech time @ 200: $20,000

17 10/hours management @ 250: $2500

18 Obviously if any of these assumptions change up or down the pricing model can 19 change. I typically come into the front and spend a day or so trying to absolutely reduce 20 what we can before getting into costly processing and similar.”

21 7. It appears that the total for this estimate is in the range of $88,105
22 depending upon actual time and expenses incurred.

23 8. It is respectfully submitted that a third party should not be expected or 24 required to incur these substantial costs to search for and produce documents and 25 electronically stored information.

Rule 45, Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Parts C & D:

(c) PROTECTING A PERSON SUBJECT TO SUBPOENAS.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The issuing court must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction — which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney’s fees — on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises — or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

- (i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the issuing court for an order compelling production or inspection.
- (ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party’s officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

- (A) When Required. On timely motion, the issuing court must quash or modify a subpoena that:
  - (i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;
  - (ii) requires a person who is neither a party nor a party’s officer to travel more than 100 miles from where that person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person — except that, subject to Rule 45(c)(3)(B)(iii), the person may be commanded to attend a trial by traveling from any such place within the state where the trial is held;
  - (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
  - (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.
- (B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the issuing court may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:
  - (i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information;
  - (ii) disclosing an unretained expert’s opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert’s study that was not requested by a party; or
  - (iii) a person who is neither a party nor a party’s officer to incur substantial expense to travel more than 100 miles to attend trial.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(c)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

- (i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
- (ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(d) DUTIES IN RESPONDING TO A SUBPOENA.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

- (A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.
- (B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.
- (C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.
- (D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

- (A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:
  - (i) expressly make the claim; and
  - (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.
- (B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information to the court under seal for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(e) CONTEMPT. The issuing court may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena. A nonparty’s failure to obey must be excused if the subpoena purports to require the nonparty to attend or produce at a place outside the limits of Rule 45(c)(3)(A)(ii).

EASTERN DISTRICT OF TEXAS

} RESPONSES AND OBJECTIONS OF
THIRD PARTY MURRAY & MURRAY
TO SUBPOENA IN A CIVIL CASE
FROM DEFENDANT YAHOO! INC.

19 Pursuant to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, MURRAY & MURRAY, PC
20 (“MURRAY”) makes the following response and objections to the Subpoena to 21 MURRAY served on December 22, 2008 by Yahoo! Inc. (“defendant”). While asserting 22 the following objections, MURRAY reserves the right to assert additional objections and 23 limitations concerning the Subpoena as it may deem necessary or appropriate as 24 developments warrant.

25 GENERAL OBJECTIONS

26 MURRAY makes the following general objections, whether or not separately set 27 forth in response to each and every instruction, definition and document request made by 28 defendant.

1           1.       MURRAY objects to the Subpoena as a whole on the ground that it
2 requests information from MURRAY client files protected from disclosure by the duty of 3 confidentiality under Business and Professions Code Section 6068(e) and the attorney-
4 client privilege as well as the work product doctrine.

5           Absent client consent to production, MURRAY has a duty to maintain the 6 confidentiality of client files under Evidence Code section 955, Business and Professions
7 Code Section 6068(e) and the attorney-client privilege. The duty of confidentiality
8 applies to all information relating to client representation, whatever its source, and 9 applies to secrets that the client has requested be held inviolate, or the disclosure of which 10 would likely be detrimental to the client. See e.g., Cal. State Bar Form. Opns. 1993-133,
11 1988-96, 1986-87, 1981-58 & 1980-52. MURRAY thus objects to the Subpoena as a
12 whole to the extent it requires MURRAY to disclose client confidential information
13 without the consent of Site Technologies, Inc. and/or Site/Technologies/Inc. or their 14 successors in interest.

15           2.       MURRAY objects to the subpoena as a whole on the ground that the 16 subpoena does not provide reasonable time for compliance pursuant to Rule 45 of the 17 Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Accordingly, MURRAY objects to producing 18 documents on the date and time specified in the subpoena.

19           3.       MURRAY objects to the requests to the extent that they seek documents 20 containing communications or other matters protected by the attorney client privilege, the 21 work product doctrine and or similar privileges or immunities.

22           4.       MURRAY objects to each and every request to the extent the requests
23 require MURRAY to produce any document containing any information received from a 24 third party under a nondisclosure agreement. MURRAY also objects to producing the 25 content of any part of any agreement between any of its clients and a third party, which 26 by its terms may not be disclosed by MURRAY.

27           //

1           5.       MURRAY objects to the requests to the extent they seek documents that
2 contain confidential information which would impinge on the constitutional and protected
3 right to privacy of individuals or entities under California law.

4           6.       MURRAY objects to the requests to the extent they seek materials which 5 are not in its possession, custody or control.

6           7.       MURRAY objects to the requests to the extent they require MURRAY to 7 produce originals of responsive documents, or otherwise organize the documents to be 8 produced.

9           8.       MURRAY objects to each request to the extent it is overbroad and requires 10 production of information that is neither relevant to the subject matter of this lawsuit nor 11 reasonably likely to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

12          9.       MURRAY objects to each request to the extent it requires MURRAY to 13 make an unduly burdensome search for documents, including searching for electronic 14 documents that are not readily accessible.

15          10.      MURRAY objects to each request to the extent it is vague and ambiguous
16 and thereby renders it impossible for MURRAY to determine what documents or 17 information defendant actually seeks.

18          11.      MURRAY objects to the Subpoena on the ground that the expense associated 19 with the production of any documents is unreasonable as to MURRAY, a third party, and 20 thus any such expense should be paid for by defendant.

21                   OBJECTIONS TO DEFINITIONS AND INSTRUCTIONS

22          1.       MURRAY objects to the definitions of "YOU" and "YOUR" in Item 1 of 23 the Definitions to the extent it includes each of MURRAY's "employees, attorneys,
24 representatives, agents, and all entities acting in consort, joint-venture or partnership
25 relationships with, and others acting, on behalf of MURRAY." This definition is vague 26 and ambiguous and renders the Subpoena overbroad, burdensome, unreasonable and 27 oppressive.

1           2.       MURRAY objects to the definition of “SRA” in Item 2 of the Definitions
2 to the extent it includes “including without limitation, all of its corporate locations, and 3 all predecessors, former and current subsidiaries, parents, and affiliates, and all past and
4 present directors, officers, agents, representatives, employees, consultants, and attorneys
5 of Software Rights Archive, LLC (inclusive of its former and current subsidiaries), and 6 all entities acting in consort, joint venture or partnership relationships with, and others
7 acting, on behalf of Software Rights Archive, LLC (inclusive of its former and current 8 subsidiaries).” This definition is vague and ambiguous and renders the Subpoena
9 overbroad, burdensome, unreasonable and oppressive.

10           3.       MURRAY objects to the definition of “SITE TECHNOLOGIES” in Item 3
11 of the Definitions to -the extent it includes “Site Technologies, Inc., including without 12 limitation, all of its corporate locations, and all predecessors, such as Delta Point, Inc., 13 former and current subsidiaries, parents, and affiliates, and all past and present directors,
14 officers, agents, representatives, employees, consultants, and attorneys of Site
15 Technologies, Inc. (inclusive of its former and current subsidiaries), and all entities acting 16 in consort, joint-venture or partnership relationships with, and others acting, on behalf of 17 Site Technologies, Inc. (inclusive of its former and current subsidiaries).” This definition
18 is vague and ambiguous and renders the Subpoena overbroad, burdensome, unreasonable
19 and oppressive.

20           4.       MURRAY objects to the definition of “SITE/TECHNOLOGIES/INC.” in 21 Item 4 of the Definitions to the extent it includes “including without limitation, all of its 22 corporate locations, and all predecessors, such as Libertech, Inc., the company as it
23 actually or purportedly existed at all times, including without limitation from June 15, 24 1992 to December 21,2000, former and current subsidiaries, parents, and affiliates, and 25 all past and present directors, officers, agents, representatives, employees, consultants, 26 and attorneys of Site/Technologies/Inc. (a.k.a. Site/technologies/inc.) (inclusive of its 27 former and current subsidiaries), and all entities acting in consort, joint-venture or 28

1 partnership relationships with, and others acting, on behalf of Site/Technologies/Inc.
2 (a.k.a. Site/technologies/inc.) (inclusive of its former and current subsidiaries).” This
3 definition is vague and ambiguous and renders the Subpoena overbroad, burdensome,
4 unreasonable and oppressive.

5 5. MURRAY objects to the term “PATENTS-IN-SUIT” in Item 5 of the 6 Definitions to the extent it includes “any application from which such patent issued”.
7 This definition is vague and ambiguous and renders the Subpoena overly broad and 8 unduly burdensome.

9 6. MURRAY objects to the term “RELATED PATENTS OR 10 APPLICATIONS” in Item 6 of the Definitions to the extent it includes “(i) any 11 application to which any patent-in-suit claims priority, (ii) any application, either in the 12 United States or any other jurisdiction, which includes a .claim of priority, directly or 13 indirectly, to any application identified in (i), and (iii) any patent, other than a PATENT-14 IN-SUIT, issuing an application identified in (i) or (ii).” This definition is vague and 15 ambiguous and renders the Subpoena overly broad and unduly burdensome.

16 7. MURRAY objects to the definition of “DOCUMENT” in Item 7 of the 17 Definitions to the extent it seeks to impose more than is required by the discovery
18 provisions of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, to the extent that it would pose an 19 unreasonable and undue annoyance, burden and expense, and to the extent it is 20 inconsistent with the Federal Rules of Evidence.

21 8. MURRAY objects to the term “COMMUNICATION” in Item 8 of the 22 Definitions to the extent that term requires production of privileged information.

23 9. MURRAY objects to the term “PERSON” in Item 9 of the Definitions
24 since the definition is vague and ambiguous in its failure to identify with reasonable
25 specificity the documents requested, thus rendering the Subpoena overbroad,
26 burdensome, and unreasonable.

27 //

1 10. MURRAY objects to the terms “RELATES TO,” “RELATING TO” and
2 “RELATED TO” in Item 10 of the Definitions to the extent those terms lack sufficient
3 specificity to enable MURRAY to determine from the face of the documents whether 4 they are responsive

5 11. MURRAY objects to the term “DESCRIBE” in Item 11 of the Definitions
6 since the definition is vague and ambiguous in its application to a document request, thus
7 rendering the Subpoena overbroad, burdensome, and unreasonable.

8 12. MURRAY objects to the instructions portion of the subpoena to the extent
9 the instructions exceed the requirements of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure,
10 including, but not limited to, requiring “continuing” search for documents, requiring a
11 search outside of MURRAY client files, and requiring an unduly burdensome privilege 12 log.
