16 During the March 3, 2011 hearing on the pending motions, all parties indicated they may be 17 willing to stay these cases and participate in alternative dispute resolution. On March 7, 2011, the 18 parties filed a stipulation seeking stay of these related cases until June 6, 2011. See March 7, 2011
19 Joint Stipulation [dkt. #64]. The parties state that they will attempt to agree on an ADR process, 20 and “if such an agreement is reached,” they will engage in some form of ADR.

21 The Court is prepared to rule on the pending motions, and will not delay its ruling based on 22 speculative representations that the parties may engage in ADR. If, however, the parties select a 23 specific form of ADR by Thursday, March 10, 2011, the Court will defer ruling upon the pending 24 motions until June 6, 2011. Otherwise, the Court will issue its ruling promptly. The parties shall
