Re: In re Google Referrer Header Privacy Litigation, No. 10-4809

Dear Judge Davila:

We are writing to correct an error in our August 30, 2013 letter to you regarding In re Google Referrer Header Privacy Litigation. In footnote 15 on page 7, we erroneously stated that approximately $100,000 would be received by the class. This number was based on 7,000 class members each receiving the $15 award. In fact, about 600,000 class members filed claims, producing a total payment of $9.2 million. We apologize for this error, which resulted from a calculation based on the number of class members who had opted out and not the number of class members who applied for settlement funds.

At the same time, the fact that the revised settlement provided that almost half the settlement fund would go directly to class members strengthens the argument of Consumer Privacy Groups that the Fraleley settlement benefitted from Judge Seeborg's substantial review.

Respectfully,

/s/ Marc Rotenberg
