 ORDERS

1 I, JASON R. BARTLETT, declare as follows:

2 1. I am a partner at the law firm of Morrison & Foerster LLP, counsel for Apple Inc.
3 (“Apple”). I am licensed to practice law in the State of California. I have personal knowledge of 4 the matters stated herein or understand them to be true from members of my litigation team. I
5 make this declaration in support of Apple’s Opposition to Samsung’s Motion to Enforce Various 6 Court Orders.

7 2. Apple finished producing all designer sketchbooks it could find relating to the 8 patents-in-suit by December 30, 2011. Apple discovered five additional sketchbooks belonging
9 to Apple designer Bart Andre after December 30, and immediately inspected the sketchbooks to 10 identify pages relevant to the asserted designs. Apple produced the twenty-two unredacted pages
11 of content it identified as relevant, as well as additional redacted pages and covers, on January 9,
12 2012. On information and belief, Apple has now produced sketchbooks relating to all design
13 patents-in-suit.

14 3. Apple disclosed on November 15, 2011 that it used a 2003 date cut-off in 15 connection with Industrial Designer document productions. A true and correct copy of portions
16 of Apple’s transparency disclosures is attached as Exhibit A, showing that individuals Samsung
17 knew to be industrial designers were given a search term list with a date limitation of “June 1, 18 2003 to April 30, 2011.” A true and correct copy of a letter sent by Apple to Samsung on January 19 5, 2012 summarizing Apple’s position on a number of discovery issues, including a summary of 20 the correspondence and discussions on sketchbook productions, is attached as Exhibit B.
21 Irrelevant information relating to a license agreement and internal code names for projects has 22 been redacted to avoid unnecessary issues in Apple’s motion to file under seal in both Exhibits A
23 and B.

24 4. Apple began producing computer-aided design (“CAD”) files during the 25 preliminary injunction phase of this case. On information and belief, Apple has produced all
26 CAD files, including all drafts, all sketches, and all design models that it has been able to find that 27 industrial designers created or had created when they were designing the products at issue. By 28 December 31, Apple had produced industrial design CAD files covering all announced

1 generations of iPhone, iPod touch, and iPad, as well as CAD relating to the 035 model that
2 Samsung requested. Attached as Exhibit C is a true and correct copy of an Apple CAD file that
3 was produced to Samsung bearing the Bates label APLNDC-NCC00000119.

4 5. Samsung notified Apple on January 4, 2012 that it was unable to open two CAD
5 files that Apple had produced. On January 7, 2012, Apple responded that while it was 6 investigating the issue, it would provide the CAD in PDF form. A true and correct copy of this e-
7 mail exchange is attached as Exhibit D.

8 6. Apple sent a letter to Samsung on January 13, 2012 explaining that the above-
9 referenced CAD files should be opened by choosing File→Open from the relevant software
10 application, as opposed to double-clicking the file icons. A true and correct copy of this letter is 11 attached as Exhibit E.

12 7. On January 9, 2012, Apple provided notice to Samsung that it would make its 13 design models available for inspection on January 13. A true and correct copy of this letter is 14 attached as Exhibit F. On information and belief, [REDACTED]

20 Samsung attended this inspection and Apple agreed via e-mail to provide additional days for 21 inspection. A true and correct copy of this e-mail exchange is attached as Exhibit G.

22 8. Apple has canvassed individuals working on touch hardware, design, operating 23 system software, core driver software, and product design to identify any working prototypes, and 24 has asked that Samsung do the same. Samsung has not responded to this request. On information
25 and belief, many Apple engineers have old dead parts sitting in desk drawers, on shelves, or in 26 boxes. It would be an enormous burden to Apple to collect, transport, and present for inspection
27 non-working prototype pieces and parts.

10. Samsung has requested that Apple de-designate photographs of the Model 035 tablet taken by Samsung. Concurrently with this filing, Apple is producing to Samsung de-designated photographs with scale and size information redacted and no confidentiality designations. Attached as Exhibit I is a true and correct copy of the cover letter to this production.

11. On November 28, Apple identified for Samsung what files it searched to find photographs submitted to the USPTO during the prosecution of the D'889 patent. A true and correct copy of this correspondence is attached as Exhibit J.

12. Attached as Exhibit K is a true and correct copy of selections from the January 6, 2012 deposition in connection with Investigation No. 337-TA-796 before the U.S. International Trade Commission.

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed this 17th day of January, 2012 at San Francisco, California.
