Re: Apple v. Samsung Electronics, et al., No. 5:11-cv-01846-LHK (N.D. Cal.)

Dear Rich:

I write regarding Apple's November 9 proposed stipulation adding several Samsung products to the litigation, namely the Galaxy Tab 8.9, Galaxy Tab 7.0, Galaxy Player 4.0, Galaxy Player 5.0, and Galaxy S II Skyrocket. Samsung has considered Apple's proposal and will join the stipulation so long as Apple will stipulate to Samsung's adding the iPhone 4S to the action. Please let us know if Apple will accept this compromise.

On a separate note, please let us know as soon as practicable whether Apple will stipulate to Samsung's serving supplemental invalidity contentions under Patent Local Rule 3-6. On November 10, 2011, Jason Bartlett was sent a letter from Marissa Ducca describing several supplemental invalidity contentions regarding prior art discovered through the recent depositions of Apple's inventors. In particular, Samsung would like to supplement its contentions for the '891, '002, '828, '163, and '129 patents. The letter from Ms. Ducca provides the details of these contentions as well as ample reasons why Apple would not be unduly prejudiced by them.

Sincerely,

/s/ Victoria F. Maroulis
