Mark,

We reviewed the draft stipulation and found that it does not reflect the parties' original agreement concerning the scope of products that would be added to the case. Back in November, Apple informed us that it wanted to add 5 Samsung products (the Galaxy Tab 8.9, Galaxy Tab 7.0, Galaxy Player 4.0, Galaxy Player 5.0, and Galaxy S II Skyrocket). In return, Samsung requested the addition of the iPhone 4S. See November 22, 2011 letter from V. Maroulis to R. Hung (attached). Your draft stipulation surprisingly lists an additional 13 Samsung products.

Please let us know if Apple will remove the 13 newly added products from the draft stipulation and honor its agreement on this issue.

Thanks, Todd

Todd:

Look OK?

Thanks.
