Re: Apple v. Samsung, Case No. 11-cv-1846-LHK (PSG) (N.D. Cal.)

Dear Ketan:

I write regarding your letter of May 6, 2012, in which you requested that we make available for inspection the Samsung products discussed by Dr. Balakrishnan in his opening expert report. As you noted in your letter of April 22, Samsung made this request because it was purportedly interested in the “version of the Android code . . . installed on the devices . . . [and the] version of the Gallery, Contacts or ThinkFree Office software . . . installed on the devices.” In my letter of May 2, Apple offered to provide Samsung with the exact information requested. Your suggestion now that that offer is somehow “insufficient” is perplexing.

Samsung obviously has access to its own products and its own source code, and can easily confirm the operation of those products. During his deposition, Samsung’s expert Dr. Johnson was even provided an opportunity to inspect a number of the products discussed in Dr. Balakrishnan’s report, including the Galaxy Ace, the Galaxy S 4G, and the Galaxy S Showcase, and went so far as to read into the record the technical specifications and Android version information for those devices. See, e.g., Johnson Dep. Tr. at 195:6-197:1.

Please find below a table with the information you requested.

Sincerely,

/s/ Mia Mazza
