APPLE INC.'S COMPLAINT

1 Plaintiff Apple Inc. (“Apple”) complains and alleges as follows against Defendants
2 Samsung Electronics Co., Ltd., Samsung Electronics America, Inc., and Samsung
3 Telecommunications America, LLC (collectively “Samsung”).

4 THE NATURE OF THE ACTION

5 1. Apple revolutionized the market in personal computing devices. Apple’s iconic 6 mobile devices, including the iPhone and iPad, are now among the most distinctive and 7 successful products in the world. The revolutionary patented design and user experience of these 8 products are the result of Apple’s massive investment in innovation and have contributed to the 9 extraordinary acclaim and success of Apple’s products.

10 2. Samsung has systematically copied Apple’s innovative technology and products,
11 features, and designs, and has deluged markets with infringing devices in an effort to usurp
12 market share from Apple. Instead of pursuing independent product development, Samsung
13 slavishly copied Apple’s innovative technology, with its elegant and distinctive user interfaces
14 product design, in violation of Apple’s valuable intellectual property rights.

15 3. In April 2011, Apple sued Samsung in this Court for a previous round of products
16 that infringe intellectual property rights related to Apple’s iPhone and iPad mobile devices:
17 Apple Inc. v. Samsung Electronics Co., Ltd., et al., Case No. 5:11-cv-01846-LHK, which is set for 18 trial before the Honorable Lucy H. Koh on July 30, 2012 (hereinafter the “Earlier Case”).
19 Despite that lawsuit, Samsung has continued to flood the market with copycat products, including
20 at least eighteen new infringing products released over the last eight months. While Samsung’s
21 new products infringe many of the same design patents, utility patents, trademarks, and trade
22 dress rights that are at issue in the Earlier Case, Samsung’s new products also infringe additional 23 utility patents, some of which issued after Apple filed the Earlier Case.

24 4. Apple is filing this suit to put an end to Samsung’s continued infringement.

25 THE PARTIES

26 5. Apple is a California corporation having its principal place of business at 1 Infinite
27 Loop, Cupertino, California 95014.

1 products within this District, expect their actions to have consequences within this District, and
2 derive substantial revenue from interstate and international commerce.

3 VENUE AND INTRADISTRICT ASSIGNMENT

4 11. Venue is proper within this District under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) and (c) because
5 Samsung transacts business within this District and offers for sale in this District products that 6 infringe the Apple patents. In addition, venue is proper because Apple's principal place of 7 business is in this District and Apple suffered harm in this District. Moreover, a substantial part
8 of the events giving rise to the claims occurred in this District. Pursuant to Local Rule 3-2(c), 9 intellectual property actions are assigned on a district-wide basis. Further, SEC has 10 counterclaimed against Apple in this District, and its accusations with respect to its purportedly
11 owned patents have had harmful effects in this District.

12 BACKGROUND

13 APPLE'S INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS

14 Apple's Utility Patents

15 12. Apple has protected its innovative designs and cutting-edge technologies through a 16 broad range of intellectual property rights. Among the patents that Apple has been awarded are 17 the utility patents listed below, attached as Exhibits 1-8, to which Apple owns all rights, title, and 18 interest. Four of these patents were issued after Apple filed the Earlier Case, and none is at issue 19 in that case.

SAMSUNG’S INFRINGING PRODUCTS

13. Rather than innovate and develop its own technology and a unique Samsung style for its smart phone and tablet computer products, Samsung has chosen to copy Apple’s technology, user interface, and innovative style in its phone, media player, and tablet computer products.

14. As detailed in the Amended Complaint in the Earlier Case, Samsung released a series of products in 2010 and early 2011 that slavishly copied Apple’s iPhone, iPod, and iPad products.

15. Samsung continues to choose to infringe Apple’s patent rights through the design and promotion of its mobile phones, tablet computers, and media players to trade upon the goodwill that Apple has developed in connection with its Apple family of mobile products.

16. Beginning in August 2011 and continuing through December 2011, Samsung released at least 17 new infringing smartphones, media players, and tablets. Specifically, Samsung has imported into, offered for sale, or sold in the United States the following products, each of which infringes Apple’s patent rights: the Galaxy S II Skyrocket, Galaxy S II Epic 4G Touch, Galaxy S II - T-Mobile, Galaxy S II - AT&T, Galaxy Nexus, Illusion, Captivate Glide, Exhibit II 4G, Stratosphere, Transform Ultra, Admire, Conquer 4G, and Dart smartphones, the Galaxy Player 4.0 and Galaxy Player 5.0 media players, and the Galaxy Tab 7.0 Plus and Galaxy Tab 8.9 tablets.

1 Infringement of Apple's Patents

2 17. Samsung's infringement of the Apple utility patents identified in this Complaint
3 provides Samsung with unique functionality for its products that is the result of Apple's
4 innovation, not Samsung's. Samsung has not obtained permission from Apple to use its 5 inventions in the identified utility patents.
