

Exhibit MM

0 Search for people, documents, tools...

---

Detailed history for object 111046442317260 at v2

---

Name Does Facebook have the ability to see what I'm doing on non-Facebook sites?

Version 2

Content

```
1 <faq>
2   <question>
3     Does Facebook have the ability to see what I'm doing on non-
4     Facebook sites?
5   </question>
6   <answer>
7     Facebook cannot track your actions on external sites unless you
8     decide to connect your Facebook account to that site and/or explicitly 9     decide to publish a story to your Wall via the Like button. For 10    example, if you are on Digg, and digg an article or comment on an
11    article, Facebook will only be notified of the actions for which Digg
12    wants to create a story. Facebook will have no access to other actions
13    you have taken or other information involving your Digg account.
14
15    To take advantage of the ability to generate stories from another site,
16    you must "connect" your Facebook account to that site, or otherwise be
17    logged into Facebook while you interact with one of these sites.
18  </answer>
19 </faq>
```

Published? Yes

Update Time 6/3/2011 3:21:35 pm