Class Counsel

1 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 Plaintiffs Matthew Campbell and Michael Hurley (“Plaintiffs” or “Class Representatives”) 4 and Class Counsel, pursuant to the settlement (the “Settlement”) reached between Plaintiffs and 5 Defendant Facebook, Inc. (“Facebook” or “Defendant”) respectfully request the Court approve 6 this application for attorneys’ fees and costs and service awards.

7 Class Counsel seek an attorney’s fee award of $3,236,304.69 and a cost award of 8 $653,695.31, which represents a significant negative multiplier. Pursuant to the Settlement 9 Agreement, and after reviewing summaries of Class Counsel’s time records, Facebook has agreed 10 to take no position on this request. The requested amount is fair, adequate and reasonable based 11 upon the relief achieved in this action, the substantial effort required to obtain such relief, the 12 complex legal issues and technical matters, and the contingent nature of the representation. The 13 reasonableness of the requested fee is also evidenced by the fact that it represents a significant 14 negative multiplier. The Ninth Circuit has ruled that there is a ““strong presumption that the 15 lodestar figure represents a reasonable fee”” and ““although a court can adjust the lodestar upward 16 or downward based on certain factors, adjustments are the exception rather than the rule.”” 17 Rodriguez v. West Publ. Corp., 602 Fed. Appx. 385, 387 (9th Cir. 2015) (quoting Fischel v.
18 Equitable Life Assur. Soc’y of U.S., 307 F.3d 997, 1007 (9th Cir. 2002)). However, to avoid 19 protracted litigation on this issue, Class Counsel agreed to, and hereby seeks, an attorneys’ fee 20 award of approximately fifty percent of the full lodestar of $6,509,773. In similar contexts, courts 21 within this District have found that a significant negative multiplier “strongly suggests” the 22 reasonableness of a negotiated fee. Moreover, the technical complexity of the case is highlighted 23 by the fact that over sixty percent of the expenses incurred by Class Counsel were for technical 24 experts and consultants. The settlement was the product of intensive negotiations across several 25 months and multiple in-person mediation sessions on a developed record at an advanced stage of 26 litigation – at the close of factual discovery after this Court had certified a class for injunctive and 27 declaratory relief. The settlement achieves the goals of the litigation as articulated in the 28 operative Second Amended Complaint by addressing each of the challenged practices that the

1 Court certified for class treatment, while protecting the interests of any Settlement Class members 2 that may not be remedied through injunctive relief by expressly excluding monetary relief from 3 the class release.

4 Class Counsel further request awards of $5,000 – the amount deemed “presumptively 5 reasonable” in this District – to each of the two Class Representatives in recognition of the risk 6 they undertook in bringing these claims and their significant involvement in this litigation over 7 the past three years, including full-day depositions. Facebook takes no position on this request.

8 II. SUMMARY OF CLASS COUNSEL’S WORK IN THIS LITIGATION

9 As detailed in the Declaration of Class Counsel, Class Counsel expended a total of 10 11,173.50 hours across three years of litigation against the well-financed technology giant, 11 Facebook, even though recovery was uncertain, performing the following tasks, among others:
12 (1) extensive pre-suit investigation, (2) preparation and filing of multiple complaints, 13 (3) successful opposition to Facebook’s motion to dismiss, (4) successfully moving for 14 certification of an injunction class, (5) intensive discovery and prevailing on multiple discovery 15 motions, and (6) participation in four settlement mediation sessions. See Declaration of Class 16 Counsel (“Joint Decl.”) at ¶¶ 5-23.

17 A chronological summary of Class Counsel’s work is provided below.

18 A. Case Investigation and Factual Research Prior to Filing (September 2013 to 19 December 2013)

20 Class Counsel began work on this action at the beginning of September, 2013, four 21 months prior to filing. That pre-filing investigation included extensive review of Facebook’s 22 messaging function, consultation with multiple experts, review of Facebook’s terms of service 23 and privacy policies during the relevant time period and investigation of publicly available 24 information related to the alleged conduct.

25 B. Consolidation of Actions and Successful Opposition to Facebook’s Motion to 26 Dismiss (January 2014 to December 2014)

27 Plaintiffs, on behalf of themselves and those similarly situated, commenced this action 28 (the “Action”) on December 30, 2013. In their initial complaint, Plaintiffs asserted claims for violations of the Electronic Communications Privacy Act, 18 U.S.C. §§ 2510 et seq. (“ECPA”);

1 the California Invasion of Privacy Act, Cal. Penal Code §§ 630 et seq. (“CIPA”); and California’s
2 Unfair Competition Law California Business and Profession Code §§ 17200 et seq. (“UCL”).
3 Therein, Plaintiffs alleged that Facebook, as a routine policy and business practice, captured and 4 reads its users’ personal, private Facebook messages without their consent for purposes including, 5 but not limited to, data mining and user profiling, and generating “Likes” for web pages. (Dkt. 1).

6 On January 21, 2014, David Shadpour filed a related action, which alleged similar facts
7 and averred identical causes of action against Facebook (see Shadpour v. Facebook, Inc., Case 8 No. 5:14-cv-00307-PSG (N.D. Cal.), Dkt. 1).

9 Class Counsel conferred with counsel for Shadpour and successfully negotiated an 10 agreement to seek consolidation of the actions. Joint Decl. at ¶ 10. On April 15, 2014, the Court 11 entered an order granting Plaintiffs’ Motion to Consolidate the Related Actions (the 12 “Consolidation Order”) and consolidating the related actions for all purposes. (See Dkt. 24.).
13 Following entry of the Court’s Consolidation Order, the Class Representatives filed a 14 Consolidated Amended Complaint on April 25, 2014, asserting ECPA, CIPA, and UCL claims on 15 behalf of themselves and a proposed class of “[a]ll natural-person Facebook users located within 16 the United States who have sent or received private messages that included URLs in their content, 17 from within two years before the filing of this action up through and including the date when 18 Facebook ceased its practice.” (See Dkt. 25.).¹

19 On June 17, 2014, Facebook filed a Motion to Dismiss Plaintiffs’ Consolidated Amended 20 Complaint. (See Dkt. 29.) Plaintiffs filed an opposition (see Dkt. 31), and Facebook, in turn, filed 21 a reply brief (see Dkt. 35). On December 23, 2014, the Court issued an order granting in part and 22 denying in part Facebook’s Motion to Dismiss Plaintiffs’ Consolidated Amended Complaint, 23 dismissing the claims under CIPA § 632 and the UCL, but denying dismissal of the claims under 24 ECPA and CIPA § 631. (See Dkt. 43.)

25 C. Discovery and Discovery-Related Motions Practice (January 2015 to October 26 2015)

27 Following entry of the Court’s order granting in part and denying in part Facebook’s

28 ¹ On October 2, 2015, David Shadpour voluntarily dismissed his claims, with prejudice, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(a). (See Dkt. 123.)

1 motion to dismiss the Consolidated Amended Complaint, the parties engaged in almost two years
2 of extensive discovery, including the production of hundreds of thousands of pages of documents, 3 fact and expert depositions of 18 witnesses (spanning 19 days of testimony), informal conferences
4 and discussions, hundreds of hours reviewing and analyzing Facebook's source code and detailed 5 technical documentation, substantial discovery motion practice and the exchange of hundreds of 6 pages of written discovery requests and responses. Joint Decl. at ¶ 12.

7 More specifically, during the ten-month period between the Court's order on Facebook's 8 motion to dismiss and Plaintiffs' filing of their motion for class certification, Plaintiffs 9 propounded three sets of requests for Production (totaling 60 Requests), two sets of 10 Interrogatories (totaling eight Interrogatories), and a Request for Admission. Plaintiffs also 11 served a third-party subpoena—consisting of three document requests—on one of Facebook's 12 outside PR agencies. Similarly, during this time period Plaintiffs took five depositions of 13 Facebook witnesses, including multiple 30(b) depositions covering numerous highly technical 14 topics.² Joint Decl. at ¶ 13.

15 Plaintiffs' review and analysis of Facebook source code was particularly time consuming, 16 given the complexity of Facebook's systems (see, e.g., Dkt. 122 at 3; Dkt. 130 at 8), which 17 Facebook characterized as "complicated and vast" (Dkt. 113 at 5). Indeed, this extensive source 18 code review and analysis was at the core of discovery in this case. Joint Decl. at ¶ 14. It 19 ultimately led to the articulation of the additional practices described in Plaintiff's motion for 20 class certification as well as in the Second Amended Complaint, as the Court recognized. See, 21 e.g., Order Granting in Part and Denying in Part Motion for Class Certification (Dkt. 192 at 4, 6).

22 Facebook propounded commensurate discovery, in the form of two sets of Requests for 23 Production, each, for Plaintiffs Campbell and Hurley (totaling 30 Requests per Plaintiff), one set 24 of Requests for Production for Plaintiff Shadpour (totaling 22 Requests), two sets of 25 Interrogatories, each, to Plaintiffs Campbell and Hurley (totaling 15 Interrogatories for Plaintiff

26 ² The depositions covered a wide spectrum of technical topics, including the operation of 27 Facebook's source code underlying the architecture related to Private Message functionality, site 28 security, and Facebook's creation and use of data and metadata from the processing of URLs contained within Private Messages.

1 Campbell and 14 for Plaintiff Hurley), one set of Interrogatories to Plaintiff Shadpour (totaling 11
2 Interrogatories), and one set of Requests for Admission, each, for Plaintiffs Campbell and Hurley 3 (totaling four Requests per Plaintiff). Additionally, Plaintiffs defended numerous depositions: all 4 three Plaintiffs were deposed, while four third-party acquaintances of Plaintiffs (with whom 5 Plaintiffs corresponded via Facebook's private message function) were noticed for deposition by 6 Facebook, and of these four individuals, three were ultimately deposed. Joint Decl. at ¶ 15.

7 In addition, during this same period the parties engaged in substantial letter briefing 8 before Magistrate Judge Maria-Elena James, on a host of discovery issues ranging, inter alia, 9 from incomplete interrogatory responses and document production to 30(b)(6) deposition topics 10 to regulatory filings with EU agencies. (See, Dkt. Nos. 77, 95, 112, 113, 122.). Moreover, during 11 this same period, the parties engaged in protracted negotiation over the production of Facebook's 12 source code, involving an extensive meet and confer process, contested briefing (see, e.g., Dkt.
13 Nos. 84-85), and ultimately a joint stipulation in which Facebook agreed to produce source code 14 for the time period of September 1, 2009 through December 31, 2012. (Dkt. 90).

15 During this time period, the parties also engaged in their first mediation session on August 16 19, 2015, before Cathy Yanni of JAMS. Joint Decl. at ¶ 17.

17 D. Class Certification Briefing and Expert Discovery (November 2015 to March 18 2016)

19 During the next portion of the discovery phase, Plaintiffs filed a Motion for Class 20 Certification. (See Dkt. 138.) Defendants filed an opposition (see Dkt. 147-4), and Plaintiffs, in 21 turn, filed a reply brief (see Dkt. 167). Over the course of this time period, the parties continued 22 with discovery, with both Plaintiffs and Facebook deposing each others' experts in the class 23 certification briefing, and Plaintiffs taking additional fact witness depositions. The parties also 24 continued to encounter, negotiate and brief discovery disputes. (See, e.g., Dkt. Nos. 186,³ 189 25 190.).

26 On May 18, 2016, the Court issued an order granting in part and denying in part Plaintiffs'

27 ³ Requesting a telephonic conference to compel Facebook to provide portions of four separate 28 letter briefs related to (1) Plaintiffs' Requests for Production concerning damages; (2) topics to which produced documents alluded in Facebook's current production; (3) configuration tables; and (4) Facebook's "predictive coding" used in the course of document production.

1 Motion for Class Certification, denying certification as to a damages class under Federal Rule of 2 Civil Procedure 23(b)(3), but granting certification of an injunctive-relief class under Federal 3 Rule of Civil Procedure 23(b)(2). (See Dkt. 192.). Specifically, the Court certified for class
4 treatment three specific alleged uses by Facebook of URLs included in private messages: (1) 5 Facebook’s cataloging URLs shared in private messages and counting them as a “Like” on the 6 relevant third-party website, (2) Facebook’s use of data regarding URLs shared in private 7 messages to generate recommendations for Facebook users, and (3) Facebook’s sharing of data 8 regarding URLs in messages (and attendant demographic data about the messages’ participants) 9 with third parties. (Dkt. 192, at pp. 3-5). In addition, the Court directed the Plaintiffs to file a 10 Second Amended Complaint “(1) revising the class definition to reflect the definition set forth in 11 the class certification motion, and (2) adding allegations regarding the sharing of data with third 12 parties.” (Id. at p.6). In accord therewith, the Plaintiffs filed their Second Amended Complaint 13 on June 7, 2016. (Dkt. 196.).

14 E. Post-Certification Discovery and Settlement Negotiations (April 2016 to 15 November 2016)

16 Subsequent to the filing of Plaintiffs’ Second Amended Complaint, discovery in this 17 Action continued. Facebook propounded a third set of Interrogatories, each, to Plaintiffs 18 Campbell and Hurley, and Plaintiffs propounded a fourth and fifth set of Requests for Production 19 and third and fourth set of Interrogatories. Plaintiffs continued with the deposition of additional 20 fact witnesses, as well. Joint Decl. at ¶ 20. During this time, Plaintiffs filed three motions to 21 compel discovery (Dkt. Nos. 206, 207, 208),⁴ which were opposed by Facebook (Dkt. Nos. 214, 22 215, 216) and which were ultimately denied on October 4, 2016 by the Court, who instead 23 ordered Facebook to provide the alternative discovery described in Facebook’s motion papers 24 (Dkt. No. 218).

25 Parallel to the above-described discovery, the parties also worked diligently on exploring 26 the possibility of settlement, beginning with a second mediation session before Cathy Yanni on 27 July 21, 2016. While not yielding a resolution to the Action, the parties agreed to come back for 28 ⁴ Respectively, these motions sought to compel production of source code, configuration tables, and further document searches.

1 a third mediation session, which occurred on July 28, 2016. This third mediation was also 2 unsuccessful. For months following the parties' third mediation session, the parties continued to 3 negotiate informally parallel with continued discovery. Eventually, the parties agreed to attend a 4 fourth mediation, which took place on December 7, 2016 before Randall Wulff. Joint Decl. at 5 ¶ 21.

6 F. Mediation and Settlement Agreement (December 2016 to January 2017)

7 As a result of these cumulative efforts, the parties were able to reach an agreement-in-8 principle to resolve this Action at the December 7, 2016 mediation, and on December 23, 2016, 9 the parties filed a Joint Status Report, advising the Court that they had reached a settlement-in-10 principle. (See Dkt. 222). Thereafter, the parties worked diligently to memorialize the terms of the 11 settlement, first in a Memorandum of Understanding executed on February 9, 2017. Prior to that 12 execution, on February 3, 2017, to facilitate agreement on issues related to the petition for the 13 award of attorney's fees and costs, Class Counsel provided Facebook with the monthly time 14 summaries of Class Counsel's lodestar to date. Joint Decl. at ¶ 22.

15 G. Work after Execution of Memorandum of Understanding (February 2017 to 16 Present)

17 Subsequent to the execution of the Memorandum of Understanding, Class Counsel 18 negotiated and drafted the Settlement Agreement executed and filed with this Court on March 1, 19 2017 (Dkt. 227-3), drafted the Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action Settlement and 20 related filings (Dkt. 227), attending the April 12, 2017 hearing on this motion, implemented the 21 notice program ordered by this Court and conferred and coordinated with Facebook on issues 22 related to the settlement. Joint Decl. at ¶ 23.

23 III. THE REQUESTED ATTORNEYS' FEES AND COSTS ARE FAIR, 24 REASONABLE, AND APPROPRIATE UNDER THE CIRCUMSTANCES

25 In a class action settlement, a court may award reasonable attorneys' fees and costs that 26 are authorized by law or by the parties' agreement. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(h); see also Hendricks
27 v. Starkist Co., 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 134872, at *34 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 29, 2016) (stating a court 28 has the power to award reasonable attorneys' fees and costs where "a litigant proceeding in a

1 representative capacity secures a ‘substantial benefit’ for a class of persons.”).

2 After review of monthly summaries of Class Counsel’s time records demonstrating an 3 aggregate lodestar of $6,525,168.50 through February 2, 2017, Facebook agreed to take no
4 position on an award of attorneys’ fees and costs of up to $3,890,000. SA at ¶ 57. At that time, 5 Class Counsel approximated that they would seek $3,230,000 in fees – a significant reduction to 6 roughly fifty percent of lodestar – and $660,000 in costs; however, it was agreed Class Counsel 7 may apply in different amounts not to exceed $3,890,000. Id. As detailed below, after further 8 review of time records and expenses, Class Counsel seeks $3,236,304.69 in attorney’s fees 9 (roughly 50% of lodestar) and $653,695.31 in expenses.

10 Given that Class Counsel agreed to a significant lodestar reduction to avoid extended 11 litigation and Facebook agreed to take no contrary position, “the court need not inquire into the 12 reasonableness of the fees . . . with precisely the same level of scrutiny as when the fee amount is 13 litigated” as “the parties are compromising precisely to avoid litigation.” Staton v. Boeing, 327 F.
14 3d 938, 966 (9th Cir. 2003). The Court’s role is instead “to ensure that the Parties’ agreement on 15 fees and expenses is reasonable and does not reflect a collusive settlement placing the interests of 16 counsel above the interest of the Class.” Sadowska v. Volkswagen Group of America, Inc., 2013 17 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 188582 (C.D. Cal. Sept. 25, 2013). However, the Court must still ensure that 18 the attorney’s fees and costs awarded are “fundamentally fair, adequate, and reasonable.” See 19 Staton, 327 F.3d at 952. In this case, the amount Class Counsel agreed to accept in attorney’s 20 fees is roughly half their lodestar, making it eminently fair, reasonable, and adequate for the class.
21 See, infra, case cited at p. 15 (finding that negative multiplier suggests the reasonableness of a 22 negotiated fee). Gong-Chun v. Aetna, No. 1:09-cv-01995-SKO, 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 96828 at 23 *53 (E.D. Cal. Jul. 12, 2012).

24 ECPA provides for an award of reasonable attorneys’ fees and costs. See 18 U.S.C.
25 §2520(b)(3) (providing appropriate relief includes “a reasonable attorney’s fee and other litigation 26 costs reasonably incurred.”); DirecTV, Inc. v. Yee, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 37277, at *13 (N.D.
27 Cal. April 26, 2005) (“DirecTV is also entitled to reasonable attorney’s fees and costs incurred in 28 prosecuting its claims for violations of the ECPA”). In addition, in light of the CIPA claim, the

1 requested attorney’s fees are appropriate in this Action pursuant to California’s “private attorney 2 general” statute, which provides for an award of attorney’s fees “to a successful party against one 3 or more opposing parties in any action which has resulted in the enforcement of an important 4 right affecting the public interest if . . . a significant benefit, whether pecuniary or nonpecuniary, 5 has been conferred on the general public or a large class of persons.” See Cal. Civ. Proc. Code 6 § 1021.5; Serrano v. Unruh, 652 P.2d 985, 991 (Cal. 1982) (explaining that such an award 7 advances “the policy of encouraging private actions to vindicate important rights affecting the 8 public interest”).⁵

9 A. Class Counsel Obtained an Excellent Result

10 As detailed in the concurrently filed Motion for Final Approval of Class Action 11 Settlement, the Settlement before the Court provides significant relief for the Class that is 12 specifically tailored to the harm alleged. As the Settlement reflects, Facebook made substantial 13 changes that bring Facebook’s message processing practices in compliance with Class Counsel’s 14 view of ECPA and CIPA’s requirements. Specifically, Facebook confirmed that the alleged 15 unlawful uses of URL data challenged in the operative Second Amended Complaint ceased—16 namely, Facebook confirmed that, as of the respective dates set forth in the Settlement, it ceased 17 utilizing data from URLs within private messages to (1) generate recommendations to its users in 18 its Recommendations Feed; (2) share anonymous, aggregate data with third parties through its 19 Insights feature; and (3) increase “Like” counter numbers on third party websites. In addition, 20 Facebook confirmed that, as of the date of the Settlement, it was not using any data from 21 EntShares created from URL attachments sent by users in Facebook Messages in any public 22 counters in the “link_stats” and Graph APIs. In addition, during the course of this litigation, 23 Facebook made changes to its operative disclosures to its users, stating that it collects the 24 “content and other information” that people provide when they “message or communicate with 25 others,”—thereby further explaining the ways in which Facebook may use that content.

26 ⁵ The Legislature enacted the private attorney general statute so that the costs of enforcing 27 important rights in the public interest would be shifted from private plaintiffs to defendants in 28 certain circumstances. See Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 1021.5; see also Serrano, 32 Cal. 3d at 632-33 (holding that “absent facts rendering the award unjust, parties who qualify for a fee should recover for all hours reasonably spent, including those on fee-related matters.”).

1 Facebook has also agreed to display additional educational language on its United States website 2 for Help Center materials concerning its processing of URLs shared within messages. In sum, the 3 Settlement addresses each of the challenged practices that the Court certified for class treatment
4 and achieves the goals of the litigation as articulated in the operative Second Amended 5 Complaint, while protecting the interests of any Settlement Class Members that may not be 6 remedied through injunctive relief by specifically excluded claims for monetary relief from the 7 Settlement Class Members' Released Claims.

8 B. The Fee Amount Was Negotiated at Arms' Length by Skilled and 9 Experienced Counsel

10 "Ideally, litigants will settle the amount of a fee." Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 437 11 (1983). Thus, a court "should refrain from substituting its own value for a properly bargained-for 12 agreement." In re Apple Computer, Inc. Derivative Litig., No. C 06-4128 JF (HRL), 2008 U.S.
13 Dist. LEXIS 108195, at *12 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 5, 2008) (awarding attorneys' fees based on "the 14 terms of the settlement"). Courts therefore apply lessened scrutiny to fee agreements "negotiated 15 at arm's length with sophisticated defendants by the attorneys . . . intimately familiar with the 16 case" and where the fee "neither detracts from nor diminishes the payments and benefits that will 17 flow to Plaintiffs themselves." In re First Capital Holdings Corp. Fin. Prods. Sec. Litig., MDL 18 No. 901, 1992 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 14337, at *12 (C.D. Cal. June 10, 1992) (approving agreed-upon 19 fee of $8 million); accord Sadowska, 2013 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 188582, at *25-26.

20 These circumstances characterize the situation here. The parties here did not reach an 21 agreement on settlement until after (i) extensive discovery had been conducted, (ii) Facebook's 22 motion to dismiss was briefed, litigated and decided, (iii) Plaintiffs' motion for class certification 23 was fully briefed, litigated and decided, (iv) factual discovery was fully mature and substantially 24 completed, and (v) the parties participated in four mediations facilitated by two highly respected 25 mediators. These circumstances demonstrate that both parties were fully apprised of the strengths 26 and weaknesses of their respective positions. Further, it was only after reaching an agreement on 27 the Settlement's substantive terms that the parties turned to negotiating the fee. Further 28 demonstrating that the fee is fair and the product of good-faith negotiations, Facebook reviewed

1 monthly summaries of Class Counsel’s time records prior to agreeing to take no position in 2 opposition to the fee requested in this motion. See Settlement Agreement, ¶¶ 57-60 (Dkt. 227-3).

3 C. Application of the Lodestar Method Demonstrates the Reasonableness of the 4 Requested Fee

5 The Ninth Circuit recently reconfirmed that “[t]here is a strong presumption that the 6 lodestar figure represents a reasonable fee.” Rodriguez v. West Publ. Corp., 602 Fed. Appx. at 7 387. “Only in rare or exceptional cases will an attorney’s reasonable expenditure of time on a 8 case not be commensurate with the fees to which he is entitled.” Cunningham v. County of Los 9 Angeles, 879 F.2d 481, 488 (9th Cir. 1988) (emphasis omitted). Lodestar is calculated by 10 multiplying the number of hours reasonably expended on the litigation by a reasonable hourly 11 rate. Hensley, 461 U.S. at 433; Paul, Johnson, Alston & Hunt v. Graulity, 886 F.2d 268, 272 (9th 12 Cir. 1989). As this figure approximates the market value of the legal services, it “presumptively 13 provides an accurate measure of reasonable attorney’s fees.” In re Toys R Us FACTA Litig., 295 14 F.R.D. 438, 460 (C.D. Cal. 2014), (quoting Harris v. Marhoefer, 24 F.3d 16, 18 (9th Cir. 1994)); 15 Guam Soc’y of Obstetricians & Gynecologists v. Ada, 100 F.3d 691, 696 (9th Cir. 1996).

16 The accompanying Declaration of Class Counsel sets forth the hours worked and the 17 billing rates used to calculate Class Counsel’s lodestar in this Action, including both a 18 chronological summary of the work performed (¶¶ 5-23) and a tabulation of the hours spent on 19 various categories of activities related to the Action (¶¶ 24-33). See Winterrowd v. American 20 General Annuity Insurance Co., 556 F.3d 815, 827 (9th Cir. 2009) (“Testimony of an attorney as 21 to the number of hours worked on a particular case is sufficient evidence to support an award of 22 attorney fees, even in the absence of detailed time records.”) (internal quotations omitted). In 23 total, Class Counsel and their professional staffs spent 11,173.50 hours working on this case for a 24 lodestar of $6,509,773. Joint Decl. at ¶ 31.

25 1. The Time Class Counsel Devoted to this Case Was Appropriate

26 Class Counsel’s efforts were necessary to achieving the Settlement and are consistent with 27 the time expended by class counsel in similar litigation. See, e.g., In re Countrywide Fin. Corp.
28 Customer Data Security Breach Litig., No. 3:08-md-01998-TBR, 2010 WL 3341200, at *10

1 (W.D. Ky. Aug. 23, 2010) (11,453 hours in case that settled about one year after filing of 2 complaint); In re Sony Gaming Networks & Customer Data Security Breach Litig., 996 F. Supp.
3 2d 942, No. 3:11-md-02258-AJB-MDD (S.D. Cal. Apr. 30, 2015) (5,580 hours where class 4 certification had not been briefed).

5 As detailed in the Declaration of Class Counsel and Section II above, Class Counsel 6 expended 11,173.50 hours performing the following tasks, among others: (1) engaged in 7 extensive pre-suit investigation, (2) prepared and filed multiple complaints, (3) successfully 8 opposed Facebook’s motion to dismiss, (5) undertook extensive discovery, document review, 9 technical review and depositions, and brought myriad successful discovery motions, (4) moved 10 for and was granted certification of an injunction class, (6) prepared for and participated in four 11 settlement mediations before mediators, and (7) negotiated the terms of the Settlement and the 12 documents related thereto. See Joint Decl. at ¶¶ 5-23, 31.

13 Moreover, in taking this matter on a contingent basis, Class Counsel assumed 14 considerable risk. Indeed, this Action involves novel issues predicated on claims involving the 15 ECPA’s and CIPA’s application to electronic messages. The caselaw in this context is not fully 16 developed, which resulted in the parties advancing conflicting interpretations of certain elements
17 of Plaintiffs’ ECPA and CIPA claims during the litigation, including the definition of message 18 “content,” the extent to which an interception of an electronic message occurs “in transit,” the 19 contours of the affirmative defense of implied consent, and the extent to which an “ordinary 20 course of business” defense applies to an electronic communications service provider’s 21 acquisition and/or use of message content. Moreover, these novel legal issues were disputed in a 22 highly technical context that required Class Counsel, and their retained experts, to review 23 extensive source code and technical documents. These issues, and other difficult issues 24 implicated by these claims, required Class Counsel to research and devise litigation strategies to 25 move the case through class certification towards trial, without the certainty of ever receiving 26 compensation. Joint Decl. at ¶¶ 12-14. Despite facing such risks, Class Counsel effectively 27 prosecuted this case, foregoing other work in the process. Thus, the time devoted by Class 28 Counsel to this Action on a purely contingent basis supports the requested fee.

1 2. Class Counsel’s Hourly Rates Are Reasonable

2 The accompanying Declaration of Class Counsel sets forth the billing rates used to 3 calculate their lodestars and summarize the experience of the attorney timekeepers who worked 4 on this litigation. Joint Decl. at ¶¶ 24-33. In assessing the reasonableness of an attorney’s hourly 5 rate, courts consider whether the claimed rate is “in line with those prevailing in the community 6 for similar services by lawyers of reasonably comparable skill, experience and reputation.” Blum
7 v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 895-96 n.11 (1984). Courts apply each biller’s current rates for all 8 hours of work performed, regardless of when the work was performed, as a means of 9 compensating for the delay in payment.

10 Class Counsel here are experienced, highly regarded members of the bar. They have 11 brought to this case extensive experience in data privacy litigation, consumer class actions and 12 complex litigation, including specific experience litigating and settling cases regarding data 13 privacy. Joint Decl. at ¶¶ 40-55.; see also Dkt. 227-2 at pp. 6-13. Class Counsel’s customary 14 rates, which were used in calculating the lodestar here, are in line with prevailing rates in this 15 District, have been approved by courts in this District and other courts in comparable markets, 16 and are paid by hourly-paying clients. Joint Decl. at ¶¶ 27-30.

17 D. The Requested Fee Represents a Significant Negative Multiplier

18 For the purpose of awarding class counsel a reasonable fee, the lodestar may be adjusted 19 in light of the (1) results obtained, (2) novelty and complexity of the questions presented, (3) skill 20 exhibited by counsel, (4) preclusion of other legal work because of counsel’s acceptance and 21 prosecution of the case, and (5) risk of nonpayment. Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 22 1029 (9th Cir. 1998); Kerr v. Screen Extras Guild, Inc., 526 F.2d 67, 70 (9th Cir. 1975); Ketchum
23 v. Moses, 24 Cal.4th 1122, 1132, 17 P.3d 735, 741 (Cal. 2001). The Ninth Circuit recently held 24 that a district court “must apply a risk multiplier to the lodestar ‘when (1) attorneys take a case 25 with the expectation they will receive a risk enhancement if they prevail, (2) their hourly rate does 26 not reflect that risk, and (3) there is evidence the case was risky.’ Failure to apply a risk 27 multiplier in cases that meet these criteria is an abuse of discretion.” Stetson v. Grissom, 821 F.3d 28 1157 (9th Cir. 2016) (italics in original); see also Stanger v. China Elec. Motor, Inc., 812 F.3d

1 734 (9th Cir. 2016). Each of these three factors is present here – Class Counsel anticipated a risk 2 multiplier upon commencement of this action; the hourly rates utilized in the lodestar calculation 3 include no risk multiplier; and this case posed heightened risks due to the application of novel 4 legal issues in a highly technical context. Joint Decl. at ¶ 33.

5 However, to avoid protracted litigation on the fee issue and facilitate settlement, Class 6 Counsel agreed to seek an award that reflects a significant negative adjustment of roughly fifty 7 percent on the documented lodestar. Courts within this District and its sister district have held 8 that a significant negative multiplier “strongly suggests the reasonableness of the negotiated fee.”
9 Rosado v. Ebay Inc., No. 5:12-CV-04005-EJD, 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 80760, at *26 (N.D. Cal.
10 June 21, 2016) (negative multiplier of 0.54); See Gong-Chun v. Aetna, No. 1:09-CV-01995-SKO, 11 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 96828, at *53 (E.D. Cal. Jul. 12, 2012) (holding that a negative multiplier 12 of 0.79 suggests that the negotiated fee award is reasonable); Chun-Hoon v. Mckee Foods Corp., 13 716 F. Supp. 2d 848, 854 (N.D. Cal. 2010) (reasoning that a negative multiplier suggests a 14 reasonable and fair valuation of the services provided by class counsel). In short, the negative 15 multiplier applied to the presumptively reasonable lodestar confirms the fairness of the requested 16 fee award.

17 The contingent nature of the fee, alone, would justify a positive multiplier in this case, 18 even though Class Counsel do not seek that. See In re Washington Public Power Supply System
19 Secs. Litig., 19 F.3d 1291, 1299 (9th Cir. 1994) (“Contingent fees that may far exceed the market 20 value of the services if rendered on a non-contingent basis are accepted in the legal profession as 21 a legitimate way of assuring competent representation for plaintiffs who could not afford to pay 22 on an hourly basis regardless whether they win or lose.”); Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 23 1043, 1051 (9th Cir. 2002) (courts reward successful class counsel in contingency case “by 24 paying them a premium over their normal hourly rates”). The fact that Class Counsel assumed 25 representation here on a purely contingent basis strongly supports the reasonableness of the 26 amount requested. That is particularly so given the complex and novel nature of the issues 27 involved in this case and the corresponding risks that Class Counsel might receive nothing for 28 their efforts.

1 E. Class Counsel’s Litigation Expenses Were Reasonably Incurred in 2 Furtherance of the Prosecution of the Claims, and Should be Awarded

3 The Settlement terms and well-settled precedent support Class Counsel’s entitlement to 4 recovery of out-of-pocket costs reasonably incurred in investigating, prosecuting, and settling 5 these claims. See, e.g., In re Media Vision Tech. Sec. Litig., 913 F. Supp. 1362, 1366 (N.D. Cal.
6 1996). Class Counsel incurred $653,695.31 in unreimbursed out-of-pocket costs over the course 7 of this litigation. Joint Decl. at ¶¶ 34-37. Over sixty percent of those costs were associated with 8 expert and consultant work, including extensive expert analysis of the relevant source code and 9 related technical documents necessary to fully understand and document the architecture related 10 to Facebooks’ private messaging function. Joint Decl. at ¶¶ 34-37 and Ex. 2 attached thereto.
11 Other significant costs include mediation fees, deposition transcripts, travel for depositions and 12 hearings, legal research, postage, and other customary litigation expenses. Id. Moreover, as 13 detailed in the Declaration of Class Counsel, these costs were reasonably incurred in furtherance 14 of the investigation, prosecution, and Settlement of the Action and should be reimbursed. Id.; see 15 In re Toys R Us FACTA Litig., 295 F.R.D. at 469.

16 F. The Requested Service Awards Are Reasonable and Should Be Approved

17 As the Ninth Circuit has recognized, “named plaintiffs, as opposed to designated class 18 members who are not named plaintiffs, are eligible for reasonable incentive payments.” Staton, 19 327 F.3d at 977; Rodriguez v. West Publishing Corp., 563 F.3d at 958 (service awards “are fairly 20 typical in class action cases”). Such awards are “intended to compensate class representatives for 21 work done on behalf of the class [and] make up for financial or reputational risk undertaken in 22 bringing the action.” Id.; see also Van Vranken v. Atl. Richfield Co., 901 F. Supp. 294, 299-300
23 (N.D. Cal. 1995).

24 In this District, service awards in the amount of $5,000 per class representative are 25 “presumptively reasonable.” In re LinkedIn User Privacy Litig., 309 F.R.D. 573, 592 (N.D. Cal.
26 2015); Dyer v. Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., 303 F.R.D. 326, 335 (N.D. Cal. 2014); Faigman v. AT & 27 T Mobility LLC, No. C-06-04622-MHP, 2011 WL 672648, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 16, 2011).

1 Here, Class Counsel seek, and Facebook does not oppose, service awards in the amount 2 $5,000 for each of the Plaintiffs serving as Class Representatives. See Settlement Agreement, 3 ¶ 60. The requested service awards are well justified under the circumstances. The Class
4 Representatives sat for day-long depositions, produced almost one thousand private message 5 communications in discovery (and reviewed over one thousand messages for responsiveness to 6 Facebook’s Requests for Production), collectively responded to 31 interrogatories, answered four 7 requests for admissions, and invested substantial time over the past three years in collaborating 8 and communicating with Class Counsel, monitoring the litigation and reviewing case filings and 9 other pertinent documents. Joint Decl. at ¶¶ 15, 38-39, and Exhibits 3, 4 attached thereto. Thus, 10 the requested service awards of $5,000 to each Class Representative are reasonable and justified.

11 IV. CONCLUSION

12 For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiffs respectfully request that the Court: (a) award Class 13 Counsel attorneys’ fees of $3,236,304.69 and expenses of $653,695.31, with such amount to be 14 paid by Facebook as forth in the Settlement; and (b) grant service awards in the amounts of 15 $5,000 for each of the Class Representatives.
