UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

CAPITOL BUILDERS HARDWARE INC.,
Plaintiff,
v.
AMERICAN SAFETY CASUALTY
INSURANCE COMPANY, et al.,
Defendants.

Case No. 14-cv-02785-HRL

ORDER DIRECTING CROSS-
COMPLAINANT TO FILE MOTION FOR DEFAULT JUDGMENT

Re: Dkt. No. 48

United States District Court
Northern District of California

The plaintiff in this case sued two corporations. Both defendants were served, but only American Safety Casualty Insurance Company (“ASCIC”) appeared to defend itself. ASCIC filed cross-claims against the absent defendant and against two individual cross-defendants. The plaintiff voluntarily dismissed its claims and the court closed this case, Dkt. No. 42, but the court re-opened this case for the limited purpose of permitting ASCIC to seek default judgments against the cross-defendants. Dkt. Nos. 45, 46. The Clerk of Court entered defaults against the cross-defendants several months ago, Dkt. No. 48, but ASCIC has not yet moved for default judgment.

ASCIC shall move for default judgment on the cross-claims, if at all, no later than March 22, 2016.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

Dated: 1/19/16

HOWARD R. LLOYD
United States Magistrate Judge
