20 Defendant hereby submits its Status Report and Request to Appear Telephonically at 21 Status Conference.

22 At the last Status Conference, the possibility of the Court holding a settlement conference
 23 with plaintiff was discussed. The Court suggested that counsel discuss the potential benefits of a 24 settlement conference, and let the Court know if counsel believed the time spent would be 25 efficacious. Defense and plaintiff's counsel spoke telephonically, and the conclusion was reached 26 that there was little possibility of settlement between the parties, and a settlement conference 27 would not be productive.

Defense counsel is informed by plaintiff's counsel more recently that the circumstances since the last Status Conference have not changed.

Defense counsel requests the opportunity to appear telephonically at the Status Conference in order to avoid the time and expense of appearing at the Status Conference since plaintiff still has not identified counsel to substitute for his current counsel, who has indicated his intent to withdraw.
