UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA
SAN JOSE DIVISION

JANE DOE 1, et al.,
Plaintiffs,
v.
KEVIN K. MCALEENAN, et al.,
Defendants.

Case No.18-cv-02349-BLF (VKD)

ORDER GRANTING ADMINISTRATIVE MOTION TO FILE
UNDER SEAL

Re: Dkt. No. 217

In connection with plaintiffs’ motion to compel and for sanctions (Dkt. No. 218), plaintiffs filed an administrative motion to file portions of the accompanying attorney declaration and an exhibit under seal. Dkt. No. 217. Although the portions sought to be sealed were designated confidential by defendants, defendants did not file a response pursuant to Civil Local Rule 79-5(e)(1). Nevertheless, having considered plaintiffs’ submission, the Court grants the administrative motion, as set forth below.

There is a strong presumption in favor of access by the public to judicial records and documents accompanying dispositive motions that can be overcome only by a showing of “compelling reasons supported by specific factual findings.” Kamakana v. City & Cty. of Honolulu, 447 F.3d 1172, 1178–79 (9th Cir. 2006) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted). However, the presumption does not apply equally to a motion addressing matters that are only “tangentially related to the merits of a case.” Ctr. for Auto Safety v. Chrysler Grp., LLC, 809 F.3d 1092, 1101 (9th Cir. 2016), cert. denied sub nom. FCA U.S. LLC v. Ctr. for Auto Safety, 137 S. Ct.

1 38 (2016). A litigant seeking to seal documents or information in connection with such a motion
 2 must meet the lower “good cause” standard of Rule 26(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.
 3 Id. at 1098–99; Kamakana, 447 F.3d at 1179–80.

4 Plaintiffs’ motion to seal concerns information submitted in connection with a motion to 5 compel discovery and for sanctions. The underlying motion does not address the merits of the 6 parties’ claims or defenses, but rather whether the Court should compel defendants to produce a
 7 particular document and sanction defendants for their conduct in discovery. The material to be
 8 sealed is only tangentially related to the merits of the case. The Court therefore applies the “good 9 cause” standard of Rule 26(c).

10 The portions of the documents accompanying plaintiffs’ motion to compel that plaintiffs
 11 ask to file under seal concern material that defendants have designated confidential. With respect
 12 to Exhibit S, the portions sought to be redacted are the identities and contact information for 13 individuals in law enforcement, and the Court finds good cause for sealing that information. With 14 respect to the portions of the declaration of Mariko Hirose that plaintiffs seek to seal, those 15 portions appear to contain information similar to material filed in connection with the parties’ May 16 7, 2019 discovery dispute (Dkt. No. 180). Plaintiffs take the position that the information has 17 already been disclosed in the published opinion in ACLU v. Clapper, 785 F.3d 787 (2d Cir. 2015).
 18 However, as the Court previously concluded, it is not clear whether the material defendants have 19 designated here is precisely the same as the information published in Clapper. Dkt. No. 226.
 20 Accordingly, the Court grants plaintiffs’ administrative motion and permits sealing of the 21 following materials:

Document	Portion to be Sealed
Declaration of Mariko Hirose (Dkt. No. 219)	Pg. 8, lines 9, 13-14
Exhibit S to the Hirose Declaration	Entire document
