7 IN RE EX PARTE APPLICATION OF
8 TATSUHITO KUROKAWA,

9 Applicant.

Case No. 23-mc-80025-BLF

10 ORDER GRANTING *EX PARTE
11 APPLICATION TO AUTHORIZE
12 FOREIGN DISCOVERY

[Re: ECF No. 1]

13 On January 30, 2023, Applicant Mr. Tatsuhiro Kurokawa filed an ex parte application
14 pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1782 (“Section 1782”) for an order granting leave to obtain limited
15 discovery from Respondent Google LLC (“Google”) in connection with a potential legal action in 16 Japan. See ECF No. 1 (“App.”). Google has responded to the application. ECF No. 12
17 (“Response”). For the reasons set forth below, the Court GRANTS the application.

18 I. BACKGROUND

19 Applicant has been operating a medical clinic named “Kurokawa Clinic” in Osaka, Japan
20 since 1989. Declaration of Yasuhiro Watanabe, ECF No. 1-1 (“Watanabe Decl.”) ¶ 4. The 21 Kurokawa Clinic has a Google Maps page. Id. On July 26, 2022, a review was posted on the 22 Kurokawa Clinic page by a Google account named “yamada hanako” (the “Subject Account”). Id.
23 The review gave a two-star rating and contained an “offensive and false comment.” Id. ¶ 4, Ex. A.

24 Applicant seeks to file a lawsuit in Japan for defamation and unlawful interference with 25 business against the individual who posted the review. Watanabe Decl. ¶¶ 5-6. Applicant seeks 26 discovery of information relating to the Subject Account from Google to determine who to name
27 in the lawsuit. Id. ¶ 7; see ECF 1-4 (subpoena). The subpoena asks for documents associated with 28 the identified account, including any names, addresses, email addresses, and telephone numbers,

1 as well as identifying access log information, such as IP addresses, for July 26, 2022. ECF No. 1-2 4 at 6.

3 Applicant filed an ex parte application asking this court to authorize the serving of this
4 subpoena on Respondent. See App. Google filed a response. See Response. Google does not
5 oppose the issuance of the subpoena, but it does expressly reserve all rights and objections related
6 to the subpoena. Id. at 1. Google asks that the Court provide it with 30 days from the date of 7 service of the subpoena to file a motion to quash or modify the subpoena. Id. at 2.

8 II. LEGAL STANDARD

9 Section 1782 provides, in relevant part:

10 The district court of the district in which a person resides or is found may order him
11 to give his testimony or statement or to produce a document or other thing for use
12 in a proceeding in a foreign or international tribunal, including criminal 13 investigations conducted before formal accusation. The order may be made ... upon 14 the application of any interested person and may direct that the testimony or 15 statement be given, or the document or other thing be produced, before a person
16 appointed by the court.... To the extent that the order does not prescribe otherwise,
17 the testimony or statement shall be taken, and the document or other thing
18 produced, in accordance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

19 28 U.S.C. § 1782(a). The statute’s purpose is “to provide federal-court assistance in the gathering
20 evidence for use in foreign tribunals.” Intel Corp. v. Advanced Micro Devices, Inc., 542 U.S. 241, 21 247 (2004). Section 1782 permits district courts to authorize discovery “where three general
22 requirements are satisfied: (1) the person from whom the discovery is sought ‘resides or is found’
23 in the district of the district court where the application is made; (2) the discovery is ‘for use in a 24 proceeding in a foreign or international tribunal’; and (3) the application is made by a foreign or 25 international tribunal or ‘any interested person.’” Khrapunov v. Prosyankin, 931 F.3d 922, 925
26 (9th Cir. 2019) (quoting § 1782(a)).

27 But “a district court is not required to grant a § 1782(a) discovery application simply 28 because it has the authority to do so.” Intel, 542 U.S. at 264. Instead, a district court has discretion to authorize discovery under Section 1782. Id. at 260-61. In exercising this discretion, a district court should consider the following four factors identified by the Supreme Court: (1) whether the “person from whom discovery is sought is a participant in the foreign proceeding”; (2)

1 “the nature of the foreign tribunal, the character of the proceedings underway abroad, and the 2 receptivity of the foreign government or the court or agency abroad to U.S. federal court judicial
3 assistance”; (3) whether the request “conceals an attempt to circumvent foreign proof-gathering
4 restrictions or other policies of a foreign country or the United States”; and (4) whether the request
5 is “unduly intrusive or burdensome.” Id. at 264-65. In exercising its discretion, the district court
6 should consider the twin aims of the statute: “providing efficient assistance to participants in 7 international litigation and encouraging foreign countries by example to provide similar assistance
8 to our courts.” Id. at 252.

9 Section 1782 applications are generally considered on an ex parte basis because “parties
10 will be given adequate notice of any discovery taken pursuant to the request and will then have the 11 opportunity to move to quash the discovery or to participate in it.” IPCom GMBH & Co. KG v.
12 Apple Inc., 61 F. Supp. 3d 919, 922 (N.D. Cal 2014) (quoting In re Republic of Ecuador, No. C-13 10-80225 MISC CRB (EMC), 2010 WL 3702427, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 15, 2010)).

14 “Consequently, orders granting § 1782 applications typically only provide that discovery is 15 ‘authorized,’ and thus the opposing party may still raise objections and exercise its due process
16 rights by challenging the discovery after it is issued via a motion to quash, which mitigates
17 concerns regarding any unfairness of granting the application ex parte.” In re Varian Med. Sys.
18 Int’l AG, No. 16-mc-80048-MEJ, 2016 WL 1161568, at *2 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 24, 2016).

19 III. DISCUSSION

20 A. Statutory Requirements

21 Applicant’s request satisfies the requirements of Section 1782. First, the statute requires
22 that the respondent be found in the district. A business entity is “found” in the judicial district
23 where it is incorporated or headquartered. Illumina Cambridge Ltd. v. Complete Genomics, Inc., 24 No. 19-mc-80215-WHO(TSH), 2020 WL 820327, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 19, 2020) (collecting 25 cases). Google is headquartered in Mountain View, California. Watanabe Decl. ¶ 8. That is 26 within this district, so this requirement is met.

27 Second, the discovery must be for use in a proceeding in a foreign tribunal. For a 28 proceeding to meet this requirement, it need not be “pending” or “imminent”; it need only be

1 “within reasonable contemplation.” Intel, 542 U.S. at 259. Here, a civil lawsuit is within 2 reasonable contemplation because Applicant intends to bring a lawsuit under Japanese law once he
 3 learns the identity of the putative defendant. Watanabe Decl. ¶ 6. He has already retained counsel
 4 for the purpose of doing so. Id. ¶ 1.

5 Third, an application under Section 1782 must be brought by an “interested person.” A
 6 litigant in a foreign proceeding is an “interested person” for purposes of Section 1782. Intel, 542
 7 U.S. at 256-57. As the putative plaintiff in the civil lawsuit, Applicant is an interested person.
 8 Watanabe Decl. ¶ 6.

9 B. Discretionary Intel Factors

10 The discretionary factors identified by the Supreme Court in Intel also weigh in favor of 11 the Court granting the application.

12 1. Respondents are not participants in the foreign action.

13 The first factor, whether the respondent is a participant in the foreign action, supports
 14 obtaining discovery from entities who are not parties in the foreign tribunal. Intel, 542 U.S. at 15 264. “[N]onparticipants in the foreign proceeding may be outside the foreign tribunal’s
 16 jurisdictional reach; hence, their evidence, available in the United States, may be unobtainable
 17 absent § 1782(a) aid.” Id. Here, Google will not be a party or participant in the Japanese civil 18 lawsuit or criminal proceeding; the only other party would be the anonymous individual.
 19 Watanabe Decl. ¶ 8. This factor therefore weighs in favor of granting the application.

20 2. Japanese courts are receptive to U.S. judicial assistance.

21 The Supreme Court next requires a district court to consider “the nature of the foreign 22 tribunal, the character of the proceedings underway abroad, and the receptivity of the foreign 23 government or the court or agency abroad to U.S. federal-court judicial assistance.” Intel, 542
 24 U.S. at 264. “This factor focuses on whether the foreign tribunal is willing to consider the 25 information sought.” In re Varian Med. Sys., No. 16-mc-80048-MEJ, 2016 WL 1161568, at *4
 26 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 24, 2016).

27 The Court is not aware of any directive from Japan against the use of Section 1782
 28 evidence. See In re Jt. Stock Co. Raiffeisenbank, No. 16-mc-80203-MEJ, 2016 WL 6474224, at

1 *5 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 2, 2016) (“Absent this type of clear directive, however, a district court’s ruling
2 should be informed by section 1782’s overarching interest in ‘providing equitable and efficacious
3 procedures for the benefit of tribunals and litigants involved in litigation and international 4 aspects.’” (quoting Euromepa S.A. v. R. Esmerian, Inc., 51 F.3d 1095, 1100 (2d Cir. 1995))). In
5 fact, courts in this district have previously granted Section 1782 discovery for use in proceedings
6 in Japan. See In re Med. Corp. H&S, No. 19-mc-80058-VKD, 2019 WL 1230440 (N.D. Cal. Mar.
7 15, 2019); In re Med. Corp. Seishinkai, No. 21-mc-80160-SVK, 2021 WL 3514072 (N.D. Cal.
8 Aug. 10, 2021). Therefore, this factor weighs in favor of granting discovery.

9 3. There is no circumvention of foreign discovery procedures.

10 The third factor asks a court to consider whether the applicant is aiming to circumvent the 11 foreign jurisdiction’s proof-gathering restrictions. Intel, 542 U.S. at 265. This factor will weigh 12 in favor of discovery if there is “nothing to suggest that [the applicant] is attempting to circumvent
13 foreign proof-gathering restrictions.” In re Google Inc., No. 14-mc-80333-DMR, 2014 WL
14 7146994, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 15, 2014).

15 Here, there is no reason to believe that Applicant is seeking to circumvent Japanese
16 evidence laws. Applicant’s attorney stated as much in his declaration. Watanabe Decl. ¶ 9.
17 Absent any evidence to the contrary, this factor weighs in favor of granting discovery.

18 4. The request is not unduly burdensome or intrusive.

19 The last Intel factor asks a court to consider whether the proposed discovery is overly
20 burdensome or intrusive. 542 U.S. at 265. The subpoena seeks information from Google about 21 the anonymous individual. The subpoena is narrowly tailored to seeking the information that is 22 necessary to identify the identity of the putative defendant, and courts have found that requests
23 seeking similar information were not unduly intrusive or burdensome. Watanabe Decl. ¶¶ 10-11;
24 see Med. Corp. H&S, 2019 WL 1230440, at *3-4; Med. Corp. Seishinkai, 2021 WL 3514072, at 25 *4-5. To the extent Google asserts that any of the information sought by Applicant is burdensome
26 or confidential or proprietary, it can bring a motion to quash or the parties can enter a protective
27 order. See, e.g., In re Illumina Cambridge Ltd., No. 19-mc-80215- WHO (TSH), 2019 WL
28

1 5811467, at *5 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 7, 2019) (offering similar options to Respondents).

2 IV. ORDER

3 For the foregoing reasons, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the Court GRANTS the ex
4 parte application authorizing discovery under 28 U.S.C. § 1782(a). As requested, Google SHALL 5 file any motion to quash or modify the subpoena within 30 days of service of the subpoena.
