3 Plaintiffs ROBERT PAYNE and ROBERT BARTILUCCI have filed with this
4 Court a Motion to Substitute in as their attorney of record René L. Barge and Katherine J.
5 Odenbreit of the law firm Class Action Litigation Group. Because the Notice of 6 substitution has just been filed and the Court has not yet ordered such substitution, counsel
7 did not previously have the opportunity to review Defendant MENU FOODS' Motion to 8 Stay the case. Counsel respectfully request the Court consider this objection on behalf of 9 Plaintiffs PAYNE AND BARTILUCCI.

INTRODUCTION

3 Plaintiffs PAYNE and BARTILUCCI have requested René L. Barge and Katherine J.
4 Odenbreit of the law firm Class Action Litigation Group be substituted in as their counsel of 5 record. These motions are being filed concurrently with this Notice. Attorney Katherine J.
6 Odenbreit learned that Defendant MENU FOODS filed a Motion for Stay pending the outcome of 7 the hearing before the Multidistrict Litigation Panel on May 31, 2007 just last week.¹ Counsel for 8 Menu Foods was immediately contacted in reference to this motion. Plaintiffs initially requested
9 MENU FOODS take the motion off-calendar as moot because Plaintiffs had no intention of 10 engaging in discovery or motion practice prior to the decision by the MDL Panel to consolidate the 11 many pending actions.² Plaintiffs were told MENU FOODS would consider the proposal.³ In 12 addition, upon review of the Motion, Plaintiffs' new counsel discovered defendant MENU FOODS
13 is requesting a stay pending a determination on class certification by the transferee court should the 14 MDL Panel consolidate the multiple Pet Food Product Litigation cases.⁴ Subsequent to this 15 conversation, the Court took the motion hearing off calendar stating the motion could be 16 considered without oral argument. Plaintiffs then requested MENU FOODS withdraw their pending Motion to Stay, without prejudice.⁵

17 On Tuesday, May 29, 2007, defendant MENU FOODS declined Plaintiffs' proposal
18 indicating they would not withdraw the motion.⁶

II.

A STAY PENDING A DETERMINATION OF CLASS CERTIFICATION WOULD SEVERELY PREJUDICE PLAINTIFFS AND DENY PLAINTIFFS DUE PROCESS.

21 Defendant MENU FOODS claims in its moving papers that Plaintiffs could not
22 conceivably be prejudiced by a "brief stay".⁷ However, this is not what defendants are asking.
23 Defendant MENU FOODS has asked that the stay be in place well beyond the ruling and/or

1 transfer by the MDL Panel. Defendant is asking this stay be left in place “pending...a
2 determination of class certification by the transferee court.”⁸

3 Class certification in this case could be months even years away. In the meantime,
4 Plaintiffs would be essentially denied any participation in this litigation. If a stay is in place until 5 class certification is determined, Plaintiffs would be denied the opportunity to bring a motion for 6 conditional certification motion and thereby denied due process to pursue their case. It is likely 7 many different firms will be involved in the litigation. If this case is stayed pending the 8 determination of class certification, plaintiffs would not be able to be represented in that process.

9 Further, there are many cases which have been stayed by various courts. If all cases were 10 stayed pending a determination of class certification, no plaintiff would be able to bring such a 11 motion. This would prohibit the case from moving forward or ever being certified.

12 Therefore, Plaintiffs respectfully request the Court deny defendant MENU FOODS’
13 request for a stay pending the determination of class certification.

14 III.

15 STAYING THE CASE AT THIS POINT IS MOOT

16 The hearing to determine whether or not these cases will be consolidated and if so, where 17 was held on May 31, 2007. The MDL Panel has taken the matter under submission. Surely, the 18 MDL Panel will promptly issue a ruling in the matter. We anticipate a ruling within the next thirty 19 days, if not sooner. In addition, Plaintiffs have agreed to stipulate to extensions of time for 20 defendants’ responses to any pending pleadings and to take reasonable efforts to prevent additional 21 work for the parties pending the outcome of the MDL hearing.⁹ Therefore, defendants are in no
22 way prejudiced by denial of the Stay.

23 The Parties have an obligation to notify this Court of the outcome of the MDL hearing. It
24 is also anticipated that it will take some time for the MDL to coordinate any transfer to a different
25 District Court. Therefore, it would not make sense to be filing substantive motions, discovery
26 requests and other pleadings that may involve the Court if the case is being transferred. Again, 27 defendant will not be prejudiced by denial of their motion to stay or in the alternative, a delay in 28 the Court’s ruling.

IV.

CONCLUSION

Based on the foregoing, Plaintiffs respectfully request the Court deny defendant MENU FOODS' (and any joining defendants') Motion to Stay the case, or in the alternative, continue the hearing in order for the Court to rule on Plaintiffs' Motion for Substitution of attorney and allow Plaintiffs to present their oral arguments on this issue to the Court or take the matter under submission until such time a ruling has been issued by the MDL Panel.
