

1 BACKGROUND

2 Seltzer filed the original complaint in this action on June 10, 2012, asserting claims for 3 breach of contract, fraud, promise without intent to perform, rescission of contract, declaratory
4 relief, and permanent injunctive relief. (Compl., ECF No. 1) The dispute arises out of a funding
5 agreement whereby Seltzer provided Defendants with a $200,000 loan. (Id. ¶ 12)

6 Defendants answered the complaint on November 4, 2010, (ECF Nos. 15, 16), and the 7 parties conducted discovery thereafter. Beginning in July or August of 2011, the parties
8 commenced settlement negotiations. (Mot. to Enforce 3, ECF No. 29); (Resp. in Opp’n 2, ECF
9 No. 35) Pursuant to these negotiations, several telephone discussions were had and several letters
10 were exchanged. Permeating these discussions and letters was the suggestion that Defendants 11 were experiencing “severe financial difficulties,” (Decl. of David P. Beitchman ISO Resp. in 12 Opp’n (“Beitchman Decl.”) Ex. C, at 13, ECF No. 35-1),² and Plaintiff’s consistent request for 13 verification of Defendants’ financial situation, (id. Exs. A, B, E).

14 Eventually, on October 25, 2011, Plaintiff’s counsel sent a letter “confirm[ing] the 15 settlement agreement reached between the parties,” indicating that “[t]his agreement represents the 16 essential agreed terms.” (Decl. of Dennis F. Donovan ISO Mot. to Enforce (“Donovan Decl.”) Ex.
17 2, ECF No. 29 (“Settlement Confirmation letter”)) And, on October 26, 2011, Plaintiff filed a 18 Notice of Settlement, indicating that “a settlement has been reached . . . with regard to all claims
19 and issues against defendants.” (Not. of Settlement 1, ECF No. 26) That same day, Magistrate 20 Judge Major issued an Order confirming settlement and setting deadline to file joint motion for 21 dismissal. (Order, Oct. 26, 2011, ECF No. 27) The parties failed to file a joint motion for 22 dismissal by the Court’s deadline, and informed Magistrate Judge Major that there was “a dispute
23 regarding the allegedly previously agreed upon settlement.” (Order, Dec. 16, 2011, ECF No. 28)
24 As a result, Defendants filed the instant motion to enforce agreed settlement and dismiss action on 25 January 12, 2012. (Mot. to Enforce, ECF No. 29)

1 LEGAL STANDARD

2 “It is well settled that a district court has the equitable power to enforce summarily an 3 agreement to settle a case pending before it.” Callie v. Near, 829 F.2d 888, 890 (9th Cir. 1987).
4 The Court “may enforce only complete settlement agreements,” however. Id. Thus, “[w]here
5 material facts concerning the existence or terms of an agreement to settle are in dispute, the parties
6 must be allowed an evidentiary hearing.” Id.; see also Russell v. Puget Sound Tug & Barge Co., 7 737 F.2d 1510, 1511 (9th Cir. 1984) (“Summary enforcement of a settlement agreement ‘is ill-
8 suited to situations presenting complex factual issues related either to the formation or 9 consummation of the [settlement] contract, which only testimonial exploration in a more plenary 10 proceeding is apt to satisfactorily resolve.’” (alteration in original) (quoting Autera v. Robinson, 11 419 F.2d 1197, 1200 (D.C. Cir. 1969))).

12 ““The construction and enforcement of settlement agreements are governed by principles of 13 local law which apply to interpretation of contracts generally.”” United Commercial Ins. Serv., 14 Inc. v. Paymaster Corp., 962 F.2d 853, 856 (9th Cir. 1992) (quoting Jeff D. v. Andrus, 899 F.2d 15 753, 759 (9th Cir. 1989)). Accordingly, the Court applies California law regarding the formation 16 and interpretation of the parties’ alleged settlement agreement.

17 ANALYSIS

18 Here, the parties contest only the existence of any settlement agreement. Defendants 19 contend that the parties entered into an enforceable settlement agreement as of the October 25,
20 2011, Settlement Confirmation letter. But Plaintiff argues the parties never entered into a mutual 21 settlement agreement, and even if they had, any agreement would be unenforceable due to 22 Defendants’ fraudulent misrepresentations of fact. Because the Court finds that the parties lacked 23 the requisite intent to be bound by the agreement as set forth in the Settlement Confirmation letter,
24 it does not reach whether there are any grounds for rescission under California Civil Code section 25 1689(b)(1).

26 As the Court indicated to the parties prior to the start of the evidentiary hearing, the Court 27 was unable to resolve the factual issue whether the parties intended to be bound as of the date of 28 the Settlement Confirmation letter, or whether they intended to be bound only upon the execution

1 of a final, written and signed instrument, based on the parties' briefing, affidavits, and exhibits
2 alone. And yet, Defendants—who, as the moving parties, bore the burden to establish the requisite
3 intent, see Olam v. Congress Mortg. Co., 68 F. Supp. 2d 1110, 1137 n.39, 1140 (N.D. Cal.
4 1999)—nevertheless submitted based on only the evidence as set forth in the moving papers.

5 Defendants contend that the Settlement Confirmation letter, drafted after several months of 6 negotiations and reciting the “essential agreed terms” of the settlement agreement, constitutes an 7 enforceable contract under California law. Referring to Stephan v. Maloof, 79 Cal. Rptr. 461,
8 463–64 (Cal. Ct. App. 1969), Defendants contend that even if the parties intended to execute a 9 more formal written document, the mere contemplation of further documentation does not render 10 the October 25 agreement unenforceable. (Mot. to Enforce 5, ECF No. 29) But unlike in Stephan,
11 where it was “not contended that all of the material conditions and terms were not agreed upon,” 12 id. at 463, here further negotiations were contemplated before the parties intended to be bound.

13 Indeed, as was the case in Callie, 829 F.2d at 890, the Settlement Confirmation letter 14 indicates that the agreement was contingent upon the execution of a stipulated judgment in the 15 amount of $100,000. (Donovan Decl. Ex. 2, at 16, ECF No. 29) No such document was ever
16 drafted. The letter additionally indicates that the agreement would contain bankruptcy protection 17 provisions. (Id. at 17) No such provisions were ever drafted. And finally, the phrasing of the 18 Settlement Confirmation letter itself contemplates the execution of a more detailed agreement in 19 the future: “The settlement agreement shall include all other relevant and necessary terms to be 20 mutually agreed upon.” (Id.) A later draft of the settlement agreement was indeed circulated, 21 (See Beitchman Decl. Ex. F), but was never signed.

22 Moreover, Plaintiff testified at the evidentiary hearing that the settlement agreement was at 23 all times contingent upon Defendants' verification of their apparently dire financial situation.
24 Plaintiff asserts that he never intended to enter into a settlement agreement until he was satisfied 25 that it was his best course of action—in other words, that it would be better to settle for less than 26 he feels he is owed now, rather than risk receiving nothing later, should Defendants go into 27 bankruptcy. Despite engaging in extended settlement negotiations, because Plaintiff never 28

1 received reliable documentation of Defendants' financial difficulties,³ Plaintiff states that he did
2 not—and indeed would not—commit to any settlement agreement.

3 On the basis of this evidence, the Court must conclude that the parties did not mutually 4 intend to be bound as of the October 25 Settlement Confirmation letter, and as such no enforceable
5 settlement agreement existed. Defendants' motion is therefore DENIED.

6 CONCLUSION

7 For the reasons stated above, Defendants' motion to enforce agreed settlement and dismiss
8 action is DENIED. The pretrial dates as set forth in Magistrate Judge Major's December 16,
9 2011, Order remain in effect. (ECF No. 28)

³ The sole document provided to Plaintiff regarding Loiacono's financial status was an October 28 3, 2011, faxed copy of Loiacono's April 5, 2011, notice of home foreclosure. (Beitchman Decl. Ex.
D, ECF No. 35-1) Of note, however, by the time this document was faxed to Plaintiff, the notice of foreclosure had been rescinded, on August 23, 2011. (Id. Ex. G)
