11 Textron Financial Corp.,

12 Plaintiff,

13 v.

14 Michael S. Gallegos,

15 Defendant.
16

Case No.: 15-cv-1678-LAB-AGS

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION ON PLAINTIFF’S APPLICATION FOR A SHOW-CAUSE ORDER

17 Defendant Michael Gallegos owes plaintiff nearly $22 million. While Gallegos
18 claims poverty, plaintiff says that Gallegos is using his businesses to fund a posh lifestyle,
19 including a $7 million mansion, luxury cars, and college expenses for two daughters. To 20 help collect the debt, the Court assigned Gallegos’s interests in various businesses to 21 plaintiff and warned Gallegos not to “evade payment.” (ECF No. 191, at 2.) Thereafter,
22 Gallegos shuttled money from one of these businesses to another company he co-owns.
23 That company—which was not listed in the assignment order—paid the lease on his
24 personal Mercedes Benz.

25 This shell game is proper, contends Gallegos, because no business covered by the 26 assignment order directly paid him. And plaintiff is only entitled to such direct payments,
27
28

1 or so the argument goes.¹ Plaintiff finds this argument unconvincing and moves for a show-
2 cause hearing to determine if Gallegos is in contempt.

3 Gallegos’s actions are gravely troubling. His businesses appear to pay his expenses,
4 yet he draws no salary, which would be subject to garnishment by creditors (and taxation).
5 He should pay his debts or pay for his debt-dodging. But the current assignment order—
6 agreed to jointly by the parties—may lay an imperfect foundation for criminal contempt
7 on these facts. To eliminate any wiggle room, this Court recommends modifying that order
8 as follows:

9 AMENDED ASSIGNMENT ORDER

10 1. For purposes of this amended assignment order, the following definitions
11 apply:

12 a. Payment: A “payment” refers to the transfer of any thing of value
13 (including but not limited to money, securities, valuables, and credit), except for a bona 14 fide salary for defendant Michael Gallegos. The term “payment” includes both direct and 15 indirect transfers.

16 b. Personal expenses: The term “personal expenses” includes expenses
17 for Gallegos himself as well as for his immediate family.

18 2. Plaintiff SPE LO Holdings, LLC, is assigned Gallegos’s interests in any 19 payment from any entity listed in the attached Appendix. SPE LO is entitled to any payment
20 these entities make—or would otherwise make—that is: (a) directly to Gallegos; or (b) for 21 Gallegos’s personal expenses; or (c) to any intermediary so that another may ultimately 22 make a payment directly to Gallegos or for Gallegos’s personal expenses.

23 3. Gallegos must immediately report to SPE LO the amount and source of any 24 salary he is currently receiving. This is a continuing duty, so Gallegos must also

26 _____
27
28 ¹ Gallegos admits that one business improperly paid him $250 after his interest in that payment was assigned to plaintiff, but claims it was due to a clerical error.

1 immediately report any changes to his salary, such as a new salary source or any changed
2 salary amount.

3 4. Gallegos shall not cause or encourage any entity listed in the attached
4 Appendix to make a payment: (a) to him directly; or (b) for his personal expenses; or (c) to 5 any intermediary so that another may ultimately make a payment directly to Gallegos or 6 for Gallegos's personal expenses.

7 5. If any entity listed in the attached Appendix fails to provide SPE LO a
8 payment to which it is entitled as described above, Gallegos must immediately cause the 9 assignment and transfer of that payment to SPE LO.

10 6. Gallegos must immediately provide each entity listed in the attached
11 Appendix with a copy of this amended assignment order and inform each such entity of its 12 obligation to immediately re-direct the payments described above to SPE LO.

13 7. Gallegos is warned that if he violates this or any other Court order, the case
14 may be referred to the U.S. Attorney's Office for a criminal contempt prosecution.

15 * * * * *

16 In light of the foregoing, this Court recommends that SPE LO's request for a show-
17 cause order be DENIED.

18 Within five calendar days of the District Judge's adoption of the foregoing proposed
19 amended assignment order or issuance of a different amended assignment order, Gallegos
20 must file with this Court a notarized verification that he has read that amended assignment
21 order in its entirety (including any Appendix), that he fully understands it, and that he 22 agrees to obey it. That verification must be signed by Gallegos personally, under penalty
23 of perjury, in the presence of a notary licensed in the state of California.

24 Any objection to this report is due by July 17, 2017.

25 Dated: June 30, 2017
