11 VERN ROBERT THEROUX JR.
12 Plaintiff,
13 v.
14 LEMON GROVE ULTRA MART, INC.
15 dba LAUNDROMAT/KANO FOODS
16 Defendant.

Case No.: 19-cv-1906-CAB-KSC

ORDER DECLINING
SUPPLEMENTAL JURISDICTION OVER STATE LAW CLAIM

17
18 The complaint in this action asserts one claim under federal law for violation of the 19 Americans with Disabilities Act (“ADA”), along with a claim for violation of California’s
20 Unruh Act. The complaint asserts jurisdiction based on the existence of a federal question
21 (the ADA claim), and supplemental jurisdiction over the state claim.

22 Federal courts have the discretion to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over all 23 claims that are “so related to claims in the action within such original jurisdiction that they
24 form part of the same case or controversy under Article III of the United States
25 Constitution.” 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a). Even if supplemental jurisdiction exists, however,
26 district courts may decline to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over a claim if: (1) it raises
27 a novel or complex issue of state law; (2) it substantially predominates over the claim(s)
28 over which the court has original jurisdiction; (3) the court has dismissed all claims over

1 which it has original jurisdiction; or (4) there are other compelling reasons for declining
2 jurisdiction. 28 U.S.C. § 1367(c). The Supreme Court has identified additional factors that
3 district courts should consider when deciding whether to exercise supplemental
4 jurisdiction, “including the circumstances of the particular case, the nature of the state law
5 claims, the character of the governing state law, and the relationship between the state and 6 federal claims.” City of Chicago v. Int’l Coll. of Surgeons, 522 U.S. 156, 173 (1997).

7 “While discretion to decline to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over state law
8 claims is triggered by the presence of one of the conditions in § 1367(c), it is informed by 9 the Gibbs<sup>1</sup> values ‘of economy, convenience, fairness, and comity.’” Acri v. Varian
10 Assocs., Inc., 114 F.3d 999, 1001 (9th Cir. 1997) (en banc) (citations omitted). A district
11 court need not “articulate why the circumstances of [the] case are exceptional” to dismiss
12 state-law claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. section 1367(c)(1)-(3). San Pedro Hotel Co., Inc.
13 v. City of L.A., 159 F.3d 470, 478–79 (9th Cir. 1998) (citation omitted).

14 Here, the complaint states a federal claim for violation of the ADA, along with a 15 state law claim for violation of the Unruh Act. As a result, while the ADA does not entitle
16 a plaintiff to recover damages, the complaint seeks statutory damages under the Unruh Act.
17 Meanwhile, the same injunctive relief available under the ADA is also available under the 18 Unruh Act. See Schutza v. Cuddeback, 262 F. Supp. 3d 1025, 1031 (S.D. Cal. 2017)
19 (noting that “[i]t is unclear what advantage—other than avoiding state-imposed pleading
20 requirements—Plaintiff gains by being in federal court since his sole remedy under the 21 ADA is injunctive relief, which is also available under the Unruh Act.”). Thus, the state
22 claim and the issues related thereto substantially predominate over the ADA claim, which 23 appears to be a secondary claim included to justify filing the complaint in this Court, rather 24 than a necessary (let alone predominant) claim in this lawsuit. See Rutherford v. Ara
25 Lebanese Grill, No. 18-CV-01497-AJB-WVG, 2019 WL 1057919, at *3 (S.D. Cal. Mar.

28 <sup>1</sup> United Mine Workers of Am. v. Gibbs, 383 U.S. 715 (1966).

1 6, 2019) (declining supplemental jurisdiction over Unruh Act claim because Unruh Act
2 claim substantially predominated over ADA claim).

3 In addition, the important interest of comity supports declining jurisdiction. See
4 United Mine Workers v. Gibbs, 383 U.S. 715, 726 (1966) (holding that comity is a factor
5 to be considered before exercising supplemental jurisdiction). California has a strong 6 interest in protecting its citizens and businesses from abusive litigation and also in 7 preventing its own laws from being misused for unjust purposes. In 2012, in an attempt to 8 deter baseless claims and vexatious litigation, California adopted heightened pleading
9 requirements for disability discrimination lawsuits under the Unruh Act. See Cal. Civ.
10 Proc. Code § 425.50<sup>2</sup>; SB 1186, Chapter 383 § 24 (Ca. 2012). Mr. Theroux, who describes 11 himself as a “tester” in the complaint, has filed twelve disability discrimination cases in 12 this court over the past year, and an online search of San Diego County Superior Court
13 records reveals that Mr. Theroux filed over twenty lawsuits in that court in 2019 alone.
14 Accordingly, the need for California’s procedural protections appears particularly acute.

15 Finally, “federal courts may properly take measures to discourage forum shopping.”
16 Rutherford v. Econolodge, No. 18CV1471-LAB (JMA), 2019 WL 950329, at *3 (S.D. Cal.
17 Feb. 27, 2019) (citing Hanna v. Plumer, 380 U.S. 460, 467–68 (1965)); Schutz v.
18 Cuddeback, 262 F. Supp. 3d at 1031 (holding that plaintiff who had filed numerous ADA
19 actions in federal court was engaging in forum shopping “to avoid California’s heightened 20 pleading requirements for disability discrimination claims.”). “[I]t would be improper to 21 allow Plaintiff to use the federal court system as a loophole to evade California’s pleading
22 requirements.” Rutherford v. Ara Lebanese Grill, 2019 WL 1057919, at *5. “Therefore,
23 as a matter of comity, and in deference to California’s substantial interest in discouraging

26 <sup>2</sup> Under the Unruh Act a plaintiff alleging disability discrimination must include in his complaint: (1) an
27 explanation of the specific access barrier or barriers encountered; (2) the way in which the barrier denied
28 the individual full and equal access, or in which it deterred the individual on each particular occasion. (3) the date/s when the claimant encountered the specific barriers. The section also contains additional requirements for high-frequency litigants. Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 425.50.

1 unverified disability discrimination claims, the Court declines supplemental jurisdiction
2 over Plaintiff's [state law claims]." Schutz v. Cuddeback, 262 F. Supp. 3d at 1031.

3 In sum, because (1) Plaintiff's state law claim predominates over his federal claim
4 under the ADA, and (2) the interests of comity and discouraging forum shopping constitute
5 exceptional circumstances, the Court sua sponte declines supplemental jurisdiction over 6 claim two in the complaint. Claim two is DISMISSED WITHOUT PREJUDICE to 7 refiling in state court.

8 It is SO ORDERED.
