STIPULATION AND ORDER PROTECTING

WHEREAS, the parties to this action anticipate the exchange of business, research, development, technical or commercial information through discovery, which information is otherwise treated as confidential by the parties; and

WHEREAS, disclosure of such information to persons not parties to this action might result in damage to one of the parties.

It is hereby STIPULATED AND AGREED by the undersigned attorneys, subject to the Court's approval, pursuant to Rule 26(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, that the following provisions shall govern the handling of confidential information in these proceedings:

1. The term "Confidential Information" shall mean information which the designating party or a designating non-party deems to constitute trade secrets or other confidential business, research, development, technical or commercial information which is not publicly known and which cannot be ascertained from an inspection of publicly available documents and materials.

2. “Producing Person” or “Designating Person” shall mean a party to this action or third party witness (including counsel for the party or witness) who requests the protections provided by this Order, who is producing information pursuant to any discovery request.

5. Any deposition testimony, document or thing, including discovery in documentary form, such as responses to interrogatories, responses to document requests, and responses to requests for admissions, and all information derived from inspection of files and facilities pursuant to discovery herein, may be designated by the Producing Person and marked “CONFIDENTIAL” at the time of production if the Producing Person believes that the matter produced contains Confidential Information.

6. All deposition testimony, documents and things, including discovery in documentary form, produced in this action may also be used in the related actions, Leach v. Honeywell Int’l Inc., 1:14-cv-12245-LTS (D. Mass.), and Johnsen v. Honeywell Int’l Inc., 4:14-cv-594-RLW (E.D. Mo.) (together, the “Related Actions”), but not in any other proceeding. All such produced items and information shall remain subject to the terms of this Protective Order unless or until a separate protective order is entered in the relevant Related Action.

7. Documents and things designated “CONFIDENTIAL” may only be disclosed to:

 - (i) The deponent is listed as an author, addressee, or recipient on the face of a document designated “CONFIDENTIAL”;

(ii) The Confidential Information or document was produced by or obtained from said deponent; or

(iii) Upon order of the Court for good cause shown;

h. The Court, its personnel and members of the jury in this action or the Related Actions;

i. Court reporters; and

j. Any mediator(s) or arbitrator(s) retained by the parties in connection with this action or the Related Actions.

8. No person receiving Confidential Information designated “CONFIDENTIAL” under this Order shall use such Confidential Information for any purpose other than for purposes of this action or the Related Actions (preparation for trial, trial, and any pre-trial or post-trial proceedings) and shall not disclose such Confidential Information to any other person, except as specified herein.

9. Designated Counsel for the respective parties shall be responsible for obtaining, prior to disclosure and as a condition thereof, the written agreement of any person to whom any Confidential Information is disclosed (other than a person identified in paragraphs 7(a), 7(b), 7(c), 7(d), 7(e), 7(h), and 7(i)) to be bound by the terms of this Protective Order. Such written agreement shall be in the form annexed hereto as Exhibit A; provided, however, that such agreement given on the record in a deposition after reading of the Protective Order shall fully substitute for such written agreement. Any person receiving access to Confidential Information submits himself or herself to a Court of competent jurisdiction within the United States for the purpose of ascertaining and enforcing any sanction for violation of this Protective Order.

10. Portions of deposition transcripts may be designated as "CONFIDENTIAL" by any party to this action or the Related Actions, or by the deponent, either (a) on the record during the deposition, or (b) by written notice to all counsel of record within thirty (30) days after the party wishing to make the designation receives the transcript. Pending the expiration of said thirty (30) days, all parties and persons shall presumptively treat the deposition transcript as "CONFIDENTIAL." If no portions of the transcript are designated as "CONFIDENTIAL" by any party to this action or the Related Actions, or by the deponent, within said thirty (30) days, the transcript shall not be considered to be designated "CONFIDENTIAL." Counsel for the parties in this action and the Related Actions shall be responsible for marking the designated portions of copies of the transcript in their possession with the legend "CONFIDENTIAL" if written notice is provided within said thirty (30) days. With regard to designations made during the deposition, the designating party shall have the right to have all persons, except the deponent and its counsel, outside counsel of record for named parties, the court reporter, and such other persons bound by this Protective Order, excluded from a deposition, or any portion thereof, before the taking of testimony which has been designated as "CONFIDENTIAL" under this Protective Order.

Confidential Information disclosed pursuant to this Protective Order shall not and cannot be used by a recipient for any purpose other than for purposes of this action and the Related Actions.

13. This Order shall be without prejudice to the right of any Non-Designating Party to bring before this Court at any time the question of whether any particular information is properly categorized. The burden of proving that information is properly designated pursuant to this Order shall be consistent with the laws of Colorado.

14. The parties shall make every reasonable effort to mark every document and thing containing Confidential Information with the legend set forth in paragraph 5 hereof, but the inadvertent failure to mark the legend on the document or thing, where notice has otherwise been given that it is Confidential Information, shall not exempt it from the provisions of this Protective Order.

15. Nothing herein shall be construed to limit in any way a party's use of its own Confidential Information.

16. This Order is intended to provide a mechanism for the handling of Confidential Information, the disclosure or production of which there is no objection to other than confidentiality. Each party reserves the right to object to any disclosure of information or production of any documents it deems confidential on any other ground it may deem appropriate. Any party may move for relief from, or general or particular modification of, the mechanism for maintaining confidentiality herein set forth or the application of this Order, in any particular circumstance.

17. This Order may be amended without leave of Court in the form of a written stipulation of the parties that shall be filed in this case. This Order is intended to regulate the handling of Confidential Information during the pretrial period of this litigation but shall remain in force and effect until modified, superseded or terminated on the record by written stipulation of the parties or by Order of the Court.
