

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF COLORADO

Civil Action No. 14-CV-01796-MSK

AMANDA DANIELS,

Plaintiff,

v.

THE CITY OF WALSENBURG,

JOHN SALAZAR, in his official and individual capacity;

RICHARD ISNETTO, in his official and individual capacity;

JIM CHAMBERLAIN, in his official capacity;

KURT LIEBCHIEN, in his official capacity;

GARRY HORNSBY, in his official capacity; and

JOSEPH HIBPSHMAN, in his official capacity;

Defendants.

STIPULATED PROTECTIVE ORDER

Plaintiff, Amanda Daniels, and these Defendants, the City of Walsenburg, John Salazar, Richard Isnetto, Jim Chamberlain, Kurt Liebchen, and Garry Hornsby, by and through their undersigned counsel, have stipulated to the terms of this Order. Upon a showing of good cause in support of the entry of a protective order to protect the discovery and dissemination of confidential information or information that will improperly annoy, embarrass, or oppress any Party, witness, or person providing discovery in this case, IT IS ORDERED:

RECITALS & THRESHOLD GOOD CAUSE SHOWING

1. Plaintiff has sued Defendants for violation of her Constitutional rights. Defendant denies all liability on Plaintiff's claims.
2. Given the nature of the case, there is good cause to believe that discovery may involve the disclosure of confidential information, including medical records of Plaintiff and Defendant John Salazar, which normally are required to be maintained confidentially. A blanket protective order, therefore, is appropriate in this case, and a document-by-document showing is not required. See Gillard v. Boulder Valley Sch. Dist. Re-2, 196 F.R.D. 382, 386 (D. Colo. 2000).
3. Based on these recitals and the terms of disclosure that follow, the Parties have agreed to this Stipulated Protective Order to facilitate the efficient production of information that the producing Party may claim in good faith is entitled to confidential treatment, while at the same time protecting the Parties' interests in the confidential treatment of that information and the full and fair disclosure of discoverable information in this action.

DEFINITIONS AND TERMS

1. This Protective Order shall apply to certain documents, materials and information, not made available to the public – and designated by one of the attorneys for the Parties in the manner provided in paragraph 3 below as containing Confidential. Information, including, but not limited to:

- a. Medical records involving Plaintiff or any Defendant.
- b. Any private or personal information contained in the personnel file of any Party or employee of any Party;
- c. Information including identifiable characteristics regarding third persons, including minors, who are not parties to this litigation;
- d. Information which is not ordinarily made available to the general public.

2. As used in this Protective Order, "document" is defined as provided in Fed. R. Civ. P. 34(a). A draft or non-identical copy is a separate document within the meaning of this term.

3. Information designated "Confidential" or "Subject to Protective Order" shall be information that is deemed by a Party, after a good-faith review by legal counsel, to be confidential in that it implicates common law and/or statutory privacy interests, such as medical records of the Plaintiff or Defendant Salazar. Confidential information shall not be disclosed or used for any purpose except the preparation and trial of this case.

4. Any Party to this action, after a good-faith review and determination that a document or other material contains confidential information, may designate that document or material as "Confidential" after entry of this Order by conspicuously stamping or labeling the document or material with the word "Confidential" or "Subject to Protective Order" or so indicating in the substance of the document, such as in discovery responses. Documents or materials produced by either Party shall not be treated as confidential pursuant to this Order unless they are stamped or labeled in such a fashion except as provided in this Order. The inadvertent failure to designate material as "Confidential" does not preclude a Party from subsequently making such a designation in good faith, and, in that case, the material is treated as confidential only after being properly designated.

a. Parties to this action may in good faith designate deposition testimony as "Confidential" by advising opposing counsel of record, in writing, within 21 days after receipt of a copy of the transcript, or such other time period as may be mutually agreed upon by the Parties, of the pages and lines of the deposition which the Party believes in good faith are confidential. Alternatively, any Party may, on the record at the deposition, designate deposition testimony as Confidential by advising all persons present that the Party believes that the portion of the deposition in question falls under the scope of this Order.

b. In the case of mutually agreed upon joint witness interviews (should any be agreed to), by a statement of counsel during the interview in the presence of other counsel attending, if any, and following the interview, by a letter to such counsel, if any, that such interview or any portion thereof is “Confidential”.

c. In the case of any other production of discovery materials not otherwise specifically identified above, including, but not limited to computer storage devices, a written statement made by counsel of the designating Party to counsel for the other Parties to this action, that such discovery material or any portion thereof is “Confidential”.

d. The Parties to this Order may modify the procedures set forth in paragraphs 4(a)-(c) hereof through agreement of counsel on the record at such deposition or, in the case of an interview, in the presence of counsel attending such interview, without further order of the Court.

5. Any documents or interrogatory answers that are marked as Confidential are to be treated as such by the Party receiving the discovery and shall be utilized by such Party only for the prosecution or defense of this case. Except as agreed upon by the Parties, or ordered by the Court, disclosure of such material or information contained therein is limited to:

- (a) The Parties or representatives of the City or its self-insurance pool;
- (b) Parties’ counsel, counsel’s legal and clerical assistants and staff;
- (c) Persons with prior knowledge of the documents or the Confidential Information contained therein;
- (d) Court personnel, including court reporters, persons operating video recording equipment at depositions, and any special master or mediator appointed by the Court or agreed to by the Parties;
- (e) Any independent document reproduction services or document or video recording and retrieval services;
- (g) Deposition witnesses questioned by counsel of record for a Party in connection with this action, but only to the extent necessary to assist such counsel in the prosecution or defense of this action, and provided that such witness is advised of and agrees to be bound by the terms of this Order;

(h) An author or recipient of the Confidential Discovery Material to be disclosed, summarized, described, characterized or otherwise communicated or made available, but only to the extent necessary to assist counsel in the prosecution or defense of this action;

(i) The claims counsel or representative of any insurer of any Party to this action, provided that such disclosure is made only in connection with a claim for a defense or indemnity arising from this action; and

(j) Any expert witness or outside consultant retained or consulted by the Parties.

Counsel shall advise all persons to whom discovery materials are disclosed pursuant to this paragraph of the existence of this Order, and they shall agree to be bound prior to sharing this Confidential Information with them.

6. A Party may object to the designation of particular Confidential Information by giving written notice to the Party designating the disputed information. The written notice shall identify the information to which the objection is made. If the Parties cannot resolve the objection within twenty (20) business days after the time the notice is received, it shall be the obligation of the Party designating the information as confidential to file an appropriate motion requesting that the Court determine whether the disputed information should be subject to the terms of this Protective Order. If such a motion is timely filed, the disputed information shall be treated as confidential under the terms of this Protective Order until the Court rules on the motion. If the designating Party fails to file such a motion within the prescribed time, the disputed information shall lose its designation as confidential and shall not thereafter be treated as confidential in accordance with this Protective Order. In connection with a motion filed under this provision, the Party designating the information as confidential shall bear the burden of establishing that good cause exists for the disputed information to be treated as confidential.

7. This Order is binding upon the Parties, their agents and employees, all counsel for the Parties and their agents and employees, and all persons to whom disclosure of discovery materials or testimony are limited pursuant to the terms of this Order. Nothing in this Order shall preclude any Party from filing a motion seeking further or different protection from the Court under the Federal Rules Of Civil Procedure, or from filing a motion with respect to the manner in which confidential discovery material shall be treated at trial. This stipulation shall be binding on the Parties prior to its entry as an Order. Should the Court not enter this stipulation as an Order, it shall remain binding upon the Parties until such time as the Court enters a different protective order providing substantially similar protections to those contained in this stipulation.

8. The Parties and their counsel shall exercise reasonable care not to disclose information contained in these confidential documents by placing them in the public record in this case. If a Party wishes to use any confidential information in any affidavit, brief, memorandum, oral argument, or other paper filed in this Court in this case, such paper or transcript must be submitted to the Court with a motion to seal in accordance with D.C.COLO.LCivR 7.2. The Parties and their counsel, however, have the right to use any such information contained in these documents, or the documents themselves, in depositions and the trial of this case. The Parties do not waive any right to object at trial to the admissibility of any document, which falls under the scope of this Order, or portion thereof, or the right to file a motion in limine regarding the use of any such documents. Additionally, nothing in this Stipulated Protective Order is intended, nor shall it be construed, as either a waiver or an admission that any documents or information are admissible or contain either confidential, proprietary business information or trade secrets. This Protective Order is simply a procedural framework to facilitate the discovery processes and/or provide protections concerning documents and information exchanged between and among the Parties and non-parties in this case. No part of this agreement shall be used in this action or any other action as evidence that any Party has either waived or admitted to any claims solely by virtue of the act of designating documents or information as confidential.

9. Upon termination of this litigation, including any appeals, each Party's counsel shall continue to hold the information confidential. Further, the termination of this action shall not relieve counsel or other persons obligated hereunder from their responsibility to maintain the confidentiality of Confidential Information pursuant to this Protective Order, and the Court shall retain continuing jurisdiction to enforce the terms of this Protective Order, even after this action is terminated.

10. This Protective Order may be modified by the Court at any time for good cause shown following notice to all Parties and an opportunity for them to be heard.

11. The Parties agree that in the event information or documentation is inadvertently disclosed to an opposing Party, any information or documentation so disclosed shall be immediately returned to the producing Party without any copies being made or notes being taken regarding said information/documentation by those who have received the inadvertent disclosure. Further, the Parties agree that no recipient of inadvertently disclosed information or documentation shall utilize such information/documentation or any fruits derived therefrom for the purposes of this litigation and that the inadvertent disclosure of information or documentation shall not constitute a waiver of any privilege that may otherwise apply.

12. By agreeing to the entry of this Protective Order, the attorneys for the Parties adopt no position as to the authenticity or admissibility of documents produced subject to it. Neither the taking of any action in accordance with the provisions of this Protective Order, nor the failure to object thereto, shall be construed as a waiver of any claim or defense in this action.

13. Nothing in this Protective Order shall preclude any attorney for a Party from filing a motion seeking further or different protection from the Court under Rule 26(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, or from filing a motion with respect to the manner in which Confidential Information shall be treated at trial.

IT IS SO ORDERED.

DATED this 19th day of September, 2014.

BY THE COURT:

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Kathleen M. Tafoya', written over a horizontal line.

Kathleen M. Tafoya
United States Magistrate Judge