Re: Xerox Corporation v. Google Inc., et al.
C.A. No. 10-136 (LPS) (MPT)

Dear Judge Stark:

We write in advance of tomorrow's claim construction hearing to inform the Court that the parties have reached agreement with respect to construction of one of the previously disputed claim terms. As to the claim term "a characteristic vocabulary," which appears in asserted claim 10 of the '979 patent, the parties jointly propose the following construction: "one or more words or phrases that describe the class." Regarding this construction, the parties also agree that "the class" as used in the construction refers back to the phrase "each class in the organized classification of document content," which phrase precedes "a characteristic vocabulary" in claim 10.

Respectfully,

Maryellen Noreika (#1014)
