Terry, thanks for the heads up. You are correct, we will oppose the motion. Our client was one of the first to arrive at the base, on Jan. 16, 2002, and he is one of the most cooperative individuals I know of, so I cannot think why the motion for leave to amend his return should be delayed. But if you care to elaborate on the difficulties you are encountering, we would of course take that into consideration.

Best regards,
Pat

Dear Counsel:

We will be moving today to deviate from the sequence of filing factual returns contemplated by Judge Hogan's order with respect to petitioner ISN 200 due to difficulties we have had completing the petitioner's return. In other words, this petitioner's return would be delayed and not filed this month. I assume that you will oppose the motion, but please let me know if that is not the case.

Thanks.
