

SUMMARY OF ABBREVIATIONS

"RIF" - Released in full
"RIP" - Released in part

BOX/ DOC	PAGES	DOCUMENT DESCRIPTION	EXEMPT/ STATUS	JUSTIFICATION
1	3	Document appears to be a prosecutorial summary of plaintiff's status with respect to various aspects of his criminal case. It is in a format that may have been attached to the cover of a folder.  The only redactions are of third party individuals' names and information that could be used to identify those parties.  There are no visible dates	(b)7C, j(2) RIP	Exemption (b)(7)(C) is asserted to protect the names and other identifying information of third parties, witnesses, and law enforcement personnel who provided information to the investigation team on the grounds that disclosure could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.  There are no public interests to weigh.
2	1	Metropolitan Police Department form titled "Firearms Registration Certificate".  The only portions redacted are names of individuals certifying the form.  Document is dated August 18, 1993	(b)7C, j(2) RIP	Exemption (b)(7)(C) is asserted to protect the names and other identifying information of third parties, witnesses, and law enforcement personnel who provided information to the investigation team on the grounds that disclosure could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy.  There are no public interests to weigh.

3	3	Document is a Metropolitan Police Department's "Event Report" describing in summary various aspects of the particular crime including findings and observations of the investigating officers. Only the names of the law enforcement personnel assigned to the case are redacted. Document is dated May 14, 1992.	(b)7C, j(2) RIP	Exemption (b)(7)(C) is asserted to protect the names and other identifying information of third parties, witnesses, and law enforcement personnel who provided information to the investigation team on the grounds that disclosure could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. There are no public interests to weigh.
---	---	--	---------------------------------------	---

4	2	Document titled "Affidavit in Support of an Arrest Warrant" This appears to be a standard form that is filled out in order to obtain an arrest warrant. It contains information about the plaintiff as well as various statements and accounts of events discovered during the investigation. Redacted portions would reveal not only the identity of the individuals providing the information but also various other identifying information such as the location from where the incident was observed, and the names and signatures of local law enforcement officers, including support employees. The affidavit is dated August 17, 1992	(b)7C, (b)7D, (b)7F, j(2) RIP	Exemption (b)(7)(C) is asserted to protect the names and other identifying information of third parties, witnesses, and law enforcement personnel who provided information to the investigation team on the grounds that disclosure could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. The documents contain certain information which, according to exemption (b)(7)(D), could reasonably be expected to disclose the identity of a confidential source or information provided by a source. Disclosure of such information could also be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of an individual, as presented by exemption (b)(7)(F). There are no public interests to weigh.
---	---	---	---	---

5	1	This is a cover sheet for a Criminal Division Complaint for the Superior District Court of Columbia The only parts redacted are the names and badge numbers of officers who signed the form. Document is dated August 20, 1992	(b)7C, j(2) RIP	Exemption (b)(7)(C) is asserted to protect the names and other identifying information of third parties, witnesses, and law enforcement personnel who provided information to the investigation team on the grounds that disclosure could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. There are no public interests to weigh.
6	9	Document titled "Prosecution Report" from the Metropolitan Police Department. Both pages have redacted names and signatures of investigating officers, their badge numbers, as well as the names of various third-party individuals who talked to the police regarding the crime. The individuals' statements as well as any other identifiable information (home &amp; work telephone numbers, age, dob) pertaining to those individuals was redacted. No visible date.	(b)7C, (b)7D, (b)7F, j(2) RIP	Exemption (b)(7)(C) is asserted to protect the names and other identifying information of third parties, witnesses, and law enforcement personnel who provided information to the investigation team on the grounds that disclosure could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. The documents contain certain information which, according to exemption (b)(7)(D), could reasonably be expected to disclose the identity of a confidential source or information provided by a source. Disclosure of such information could also be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of an individual, as presented by exemption (b)(7)(F). There are no public interests to weigh.

7	1	Xerox copies of a compilation of various individuals' photographs. All photos except of the defendant have been redacted. No visible date	(b)7C, j(2) RIP	Exemption (b)(7)(C) is asserted to protect the names and other identifying information of third parties, witnesses, and law enforcement personnel who provided information to the investigation team on the grounds that disclosure could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. There are no public interests to weigh.
---	---	---	---------------------------------------	---