

The subject matter jurisdiction of the federal district courts is limited and is set forth generally at 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1332. Under those statutes, federal jurisdiction is available only when a “federal question” is presented or the parties are of diverse citizenship and the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000. A party seeking relief in the district court must at least plead facts that bring the suit within the court's jurisdiction. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a). Failure to plead such facts warrants dismissal of the action. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(h)(3).

Plaintiff has neither pled a specific amount in controversy nor offered a specific statement upon any federal question she intends to rely. Furthermore, the plaintiff has not satisfied her burden to establish diversity jurisdiction. Consequently, this case will be dismissed. A separate Order accompanies this Memorandum Opinion.
