MEMORANDUM OPINION

Plaintiff has filed a pro se complaint, ECF No. 1, and application for leave to proceed in forma pauperis (“IFP”), ECF No. 2. For the reasons explained below, the court will grant plaintiff’s IFP application and dismiss the complaint for lack of subject matter jurisdiction. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(h)(3).

Plaintiff, a resident of the District of Columbia, sues an unnamed homeless shelter near 2nd and E Streets in Northwest Washington, D.C., and 3 unnamed shelter employees, and in doing so, fails to comply with by D.C. LCvR 5.1(c)(1). He alleges that several of defendant’s employees have treated him with disrespect. More specifically, he contends that in January, he went to the shelter to retrieve some of his belongings but was prohibited from entering the premises. He demands $145 million in damages.

The subject matter jurisdiction of the federal district courts is limited and is set forth generally at 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1332. Under those statutes, federal jurisdiction is available only when a “federal question” is presented or the parties are of diverse citizenship and the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000. A party seeking relief in the district court must at least plead facts that bring the suit within the court’s jurisdiction. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a). Failure to plead such facts warrants dismissal of the action. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(h)(3).
