Regarding Court Case No. 8:09-cv-87-T-26TBM

Dear Honorable Justice Judge Richard A. Lazzara, and Clerk of the United States District Court, M.D. Florida, Tampa Division.
801 North Florida Avenue
Tampa, FL., 33602

My name is Dolores Serdar and I am 90 years old and my husband will be 92 in July. I'm trying to put my financial affairs in order as my husband is not doing well medically and has been in Leesburg Medical Center since May 29, 2018 when he fell twice at our home. I need your help because I have been defrauded.

Back in 2009 I made an investment through my financial advisor, Bob Bassari, in an oil and gas program named Quest Energy Management Group based out of Texas. I am a Senior Secured Lender in this program. Two years into the program the dividend payments stopped.

Subsequently, through my financial advisor I was informed that Quest Energy was involved in a Ponzi scheme since 2004 and involved a con man named Arthur Nadal who subsequently died in prison in 2014. My financial advisor provided a substantial amount of documentation and information to the receiving law firm: The Wyand Group, appointed by you. My advisor, my son, and I also contacted Bert Wyand and Jeff Rizzo with no success. We were told on numerous occasions that the oil fields were for sale, however, they fired all the employees of Quest and brought in their own staff and used the oil produced to pay their own staff.

My financial advisor, Bob Bassari, provided myself, the attorneys at the Wyand Group, and the General Council of the SEC with a third-party engineering report and a one hour recorded conference call with the original owner of Quest, Mr. Paul Downey, showing over 3 million barrels of recoverable oil in the fields owned by Quest.

The Wyand Group's response was that there was very little oil and the wells were only producing a few barrels per day. The proceeds of these few barrels were being used to pay the employees of the Wyand Group.

My Husband and I have worked very hard to save what we have, and I don't understand why as a Senior secured lender, I would be grouped with common and preferred stock holders.

In fact, Bob Bassari and I, on a conference call with Jeff Rizzo, with the Wyand Group, were told that the Wyand Group was given leeway by the court to group us not only with common and preferred stock holders but also attached to all the other investors in other companies who were defrauded by Arthur Nadal in unrelated investments, because the Quest program is the only one that has any real value.

Based on my own research and advice from Bob Bassari, my financial advisor, as a secured senior lender, I should be first in line to receive my original investment returned to me.

I am emphatically requesting a meeting with you to discuss and resolve this issue as I don't feel it is fair for a senior citizen to be treated in this manner. If a meeting is not possible I request to be added to the top of the list of who should be paid based on my status as a Senior Secured Lender to Quest.

Respectfully,

Dolores Serdar
