

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF FLORIDA

JOHN B. THOMPSON,

Plaintiff,

v.

Case No. 07-21256 (Judge Adalberto Jordan)

THE FLORIDA BAR and DAVA J. TUNIS, JOHN HARKNESS,
AND FRANK ANGONES,

Defendants.

PLAINTIFF'S NOTICE TO THE COURT

COMES NOW plaintiff, John B. Thompson, hereinafter Thompson, as an attorney on his own behalf, and provides notice to the court as follows:

Thompson, despite his allegedly disabling mental illness that he apparently has masked in two appearances in the last week on Fox News and CNN Headline News, has been asked to be the lone guest to be interviewed at the top of the show today on Your World with Neil Cavuto on the Fox News Channel. The topic: Manhunt 2. This is a Mature game being sold to teens in America, which is banned for sale to adults in the UK. The maker? Thompson's SLAPP Bar complaint.

And folks, speaking of Take-Two's Manhunt 2, get a load of this breaking all over the news world this very moment:

"BREAKING: Rockstar Confirms Manhunt 2 Hack

Since late yesterday GamePolitics has been following a rumor that hackers had discovered a means to reveal the original, unedited content of Manhunt 2.

In other words, the apparent hack made visible the version of the game rated "Adults Only" by the ESRB.

Now we've had confirmation from a Take Two representative that it's not a rumor.

It's true."

In 2005, Thompson prepped Senator Clinton, the wife of the man who gave Judge Jordan herein his job, for her news conference about Take-Two's leaving of hidden oral and anal sex scenes in the GTA: San Andreas game. That illegal act caused a recall of all copies of the game, led to a 355-21 House Resolution condemning Thompson's SLAPP complainant, a loss of $100 million by Take-Two, a halving of its share values, a warning by the ESRB that it had better never happen again, and a stern warning by the FTC that if it happened again the company might receive the regulatory equivalent of the death penalty.

Well, it's happened again. This is the same fraudulent, criminal company whose word The Bar is taking against Thompson's.

The Bar's reliance upon the word of these criminal scofflaws is itself alone proof of The Bar's bad faith.

I HEREBY CERTIFY that this has been served upon record counsel this 1st day of November, 2007, electronically.
