THE FLORIDA BAR and

PLAINTIFF'S REQUEST FOR JUDICIAL NOTICE

COMES NOW petitioner, John B. Thompson, (Thompson) an attorney on his own behalf, and moves the court to take judicial notice of The Bar's bad faith in the following regard:

Steve Chaykin
Florida Bar Governor
Akerman Senterfitt
Miami, Florida Via Fax and e-mail

Dear Mr. Chaykin:

The Florida Bar formally informs me that you are the individual who green-lighted The Bar's most recent demand that I agree to a forced mental exam, although The Bar has used none of the Rules-mandated procedures (see Rule 3-7.13, for instance) in making this baseless demand, which is rendered illegal by The Bar's failure to follow its own procedures.

You have never met me, Mr. Chaykin. According to your words in the Daily Business Review, I am “an enemy of The Bar and outside its core values” because I don’t share your opinions on homosexuality. Be that as it may, The Bar’s Ken Marvin tells me that such a face-to-face meeting must occur before such a demand is ever made of a lawyer by The Bar. The right to confront one’s accusers is a rather “core value” of our system of jurisprudence, don’t you agree? It’s found in the Bill of Rights.

I am going to give you one last chance to correct your mistake in this regard. Please advise when and where you and I can meet (you can have anyone there you like for security purposes), and you can judge for yourself whether I am the “lunatic lawyer” that The Bar’s SLAPP complainants assert I am and that your formally and personally assert I am.

Last call, Mr. Chaykin. Don’t blow it.

Regards, Jack Thompson
