Cell Phone Forensics

Cell phones are the most prevalent form of communication available today. We find them used in every type of case from murder to marital infidelity. Cell phones today can contain call histories, movies, text messages, photos, friend lists, email, and other critical data to a case.

We have examined hundreds of cell phones and we can do a forensically sound examination of virtually any phone. While some may advertise that they can retrieve deleted information from cell phones, that is rarely the case for text messages.

In many cases, the only way to retrieve information from a cell phone is to photograph the screens in a lab environment using forensically sound forensic procedures. Don't be fooled by companies over-promising what can be retrieved from a cell phone. Call us and we will give you the correct information based on the type of phone.

We have performed cell phone forensics in both civil and criminal cases and have extensive experience in this new area of forensics. We also provide training in the area of cell phone forensics.

In some instances we can recover deleted text messages from some phones as well as other deleted data such as movies, audio files and pictures. Recovering deleted data from cell phones only applies to certain types of phones and certain carriers. We can give you a quick assessment of the potential for recovering this deleted data before we are engaged to examine the phone. No one can guarantee recovery of deleted data from cell phones since this is highly dependent on many factors.

Video Forensics

With the prevalence of digital cameras, camera phones, cameras on computers, and cameras on everything from pens to sunglasses, there is a high probability that digital images of value to your case are stored on these devices. However, a problem arises when the quality of the image is too poor to identify a suspected person or object. Guardian Digital Forensics can help.

If you have video in your case and it needs enhancement, or if you believe that the video might have been tampered with, then Guardian can help. We can enhance the video using forensically sound techniques. We can also examine the video to determine if it has been corrupted in some way.

Photo Forensics

With our in house capability for perform photo clarification and enhancement, we can provide you with all types of photo forensic services.

Employee Compliance

When an employee wastes their time at work, they are wasting your money. Discreetly wasting time at work is easier than ever since almost every employee has a computer and an internet connection. Whether you are concerned about employee productivity, an employee taking home company information on a thumb drive, or any other concern, our examiners have the tools and the training to find out what your employees are doing, or not doing as the case may be.

We also provide network monitoring products and services via our NetSentry Division. View the movie to learn more about this powerful, yet easy to use technology.

Data Recovery and Retention

At the heart of digital forensics is the ability to recover data. If you have lost important data on your computer there is a good chance it is not "really" gone. With our knowledge and forensic tools there is a good chance we can recover the data. We also provide data retention services. If you have critical data, we can come to your location to collect it, and then store it in our secure facility. This is an excellent precaution to take if you are concerned about future litigation.

We can recover deleted files, formatted hard drives, re-partitioned hard drives and other types of media such as USB sticks, damaged CD-ROMs and DVDs.

We also provide data tape recovery services for most backup tapes and drives.

We provide Microsoft Exchange Information Store recovery from tape or hard drives.

E-Mail recovery from damaged PST files and Exchange database. (.ebd)

Did your computer crash and you want to get back those irreplaceable family photos? We can help you.

Criminal

Guardian Digital Forensics is the leading computer forensics company in the United States that specializes in providing digital forensic services in criminal defense cases. Having worked as computer forensic experts in hundreds of criminal cases overall, our computer forensics examiners are highly skilled and experienced. With almost any type of technology, including computers, cell phones, GPS, audio, video, photos, and more we can provide expert forensics services, including expert witness testimony.

We are one of the very few digital forensic companies that take cases involving child pornography, internet predators, Limewire stings, and sex crimes. We have handled complex cases involving capital murder, serial murder, fraud, and many others in the last ten years.

Civil

Our computer forensics examiners have extensive experience with cases in the civil arena. We have worked cases involving employee misconduct, intellectual property, software infringement, fraud and more. Our examiners are experts in accounting software, computer programming languages, and email investigations. If you are in the midst of a civil case we have the expertise you need to get the data critical to your case, to interpret the findings, and to testify in court as expert witnesses.

Domestic

Our computer forensics and cell phone forensics examiners have worked on almost every type of domestic case. Whether your case involves divorce, child custody, a cheating spouse, a stealing spouse, or any number of other types of domestic cases we have the experience and expertise you need.
