RE: Adelman, Howard & Judith Sclawy as Co-PR/Michael Adelm v BSA
 Our File No. 40756

Dear Bob:

We previously discussed submitting Michael's blood sample to a reference laboratory for testing. As you recall, William Hearn testified that his lab had blood samples, which if properly tested could identify the concentration of phenylpropanolamine and pseudophedrine in Michael's blood. Dr. Hearn recommended that, if it were to be tested, it should be sent to a reference laboratory called NMS Labs in Pennsylvania. He testified that there was probably a sufficient sample of blood left to conduct the forensic analysis.

I spoke with a representative at NMS Labs who indicated 1 ml of blood was sufficient to conduct testing. Dr. Hearn testified that the gray tube contained 2 ml of blood. The test code for the ephedrine panel – which tests for phenylpropanolamine and pseudophedrine – is 4023B. We must submit a Sample Submission Form, which is attached hereto. One must go to the current custodian of the blood and another to NMS with payment of $154.00. The defense will pay for the testing.

Please indicate whether this is acceptable and we will begin the process.

Very truly yours,

Kevin D. Franz
