Judge Atonaga,

A statement in favor of making fairness end the time wasting harshness of life and difference regarding the case (study) of Kardonick v. JPMorgan Chase. It is possible the defendant, Chase Bank, could not help certain circumstances and that the relationship between the business owners and the business users needs improvement. Or in other words, what needs help between the two larger felt parties can be helped with your, the judge's, and both parties, and extra needed helpful cooperative view so unneeded fighting differences will improve to surplus cooperation rather than differences.

I feel the card company tried to collect money they felt they deserved from unemployed people (coming from my perspective here) and differences happened in our "complicated" economic distribution. Can we settle better than a "careless" expensive lawsuit to benefit both and extra (even paid) parties in this bad economic time when we all need money and everything is unfair? I believe when I last received a post card like the one about this lawsuit I was in a depressed environment trying to get from it and people were trying to hold me in it and we all need to answer (perhaps with interview and testimonies) for those and more behaviors, and I felt I needed some money and did not answer much to objecting the lawsuit as I could have and the lawsuit was awarded and we all (involved) could have accepted money in favor of grievance which should not have been there. I believe I may owe the money in return. $20. A case of I believe CVS ERISA if you can look it up. Please respond.
