DEFENDANT AND COUNTERCLAIM-PLAINTIFF APPLE INC.'S
MOTION TO EXTEND LENGTH OF MARKMAN HEARING

At the conclusion of the tutorial, the Court inquired whether three days might be required for the Markman hearing. After a further review of the matters to be covered, including the legal discussion requested by the Court, Defendant and Counterclaim Plaintiff Apple, Inc. ("Apple") agrees that the Court should reserve three days for the Markman hearing. Even with the parties' agreement on the construction of the term "gesture," there remain 13 terms to discuss, some with subparts and nuances requiring more discussion than a single term. Indeed, a rough estimate of 30 minutes per term per party on average fills more than two days, not counting the initial legal background discussion.

Therefore, Apple respectfully moves the Court for an order extending the length of the Markman hearing to three days, from October 17, 2011 through October 19, 2011, from 10am to 4pm each day. Counsel for Motorola has not raised any scheduling conflict on October 19, 2011, but has indicated they oppose Apple's request for the third day.

Dated: October 11, 2011   Respectfully submitted,

                                           /s/ Christopher R. J. Pace
