Hello guys,

While this information is of no particular interest to you, after a phone call to my US based cell phone I was able to identify the guy that harassing you with phone calls as [REDACTED]. He is a agent for several video content producing studios. What is typical for him is that he is including every single email address he is able to find in his DMCA notices (paypal, alex xe, limelight are just few of them) and is trying to make use of "LEGAL ACTION" and similar to a great extent.

I would like to inform you that his DMCA notices were always dealt with in a timely manner and as illustrated below from my communication with him he is not willing to cooperate or take advantage of copyright holder account.

Because he mentions Miami several times if you guys ever feel threatened by him just inform me and I'll bring my lawyers into attention.

Regards,
Anton

Hello [REDACTED]

I was unable to understand from your answer wherever you are interested to have that kind of special account for hotfile.

Thank you for sharing information about your friends and your origin but I find it unnecessary and of no particular interest to me.
