Course Description: This course entails a survey of the ways music was composed, practiced, performed, received, described, and published from the late 16th century into the middle of the 18th century. The course falls into three broad phases, reflecting the periods of Baroque Music: Early (to 1640); Middle (to 1720); and Late (after 1720). All the major genres will be studied, as well as the important composers. Class time will consist of discussion and hearing individual works and how they relate to the period as well as the cultures that produced them. The assigned readings parallel the class work and are expected to be read prior to class meetings.

Course Goal: To provide an in-depth examination of the composers, genres, styles, and culture of Baroque Music.

Course Objectives:

- to acquaint the student with a general survey of European art music as it was composed, practiced, and discussed during the 17th and 18th centuries.
- to expose the student to the significant composers, genres, and musical trends that constitute Baroque music.
- to increase the student's ability to analyze musical form and style as found in the music of the period.
- to acquaint the student with the basic historical and bibliographical materials dealing with the music under study.
- to increase the student's awareness of the general cultural trends that produced the musical works of the period.

Deviations from this syllabus may be necessary

Responsibilities:

This is a graduate course. All matters of attendance, promptness of assignments, and participation are expected in keeping with professional standards of conduct and the objectives listed on the syllabus. Prompt, consistent attendance is required and will be considered in determination of grades. Failure to attend class regularly during the first three weeks of the semester may result in your withdrawal by the instructor. Excused absences for illness or other urgent reasons will be considered on a case-by-case basis. Except in cases of emergency, your absence should be cleared in advance of class time. If, in the instructor's judgement, the number of excused absences compromises your ability to meet the objectives of the course, you will be advised to withdraw or take an incomplete. The grade of I (incomplete) will be given only to students who have completed the majority of the course work and for a non-academic reason beyond their control have been unable to complete the semester. Active cell phones are not allowed in class.

The material in this course is dealt with in two ways: first, through the assigned readings, which are to be read before the scheduled class sections; and second, through listening to and discussing the music under consideration. Classes consist of lecture, listening, and discussion.

Language Note: Comprehending the written materials about music and music literature challenges native speakers of English. Those who are not native English speakers should note this and make special efforts to compensate for language problems. Spelling, grammar and punctuation are part of the grade for written assignments.

Grading Policy: A: 93; A-: 90; B+: 88; B: 84; B-: 80; C+: 78; C: 74; C-: 70.
The grade results from two take-home exams (80%) and reading quizzes/class participation (20%).

Texts: Baroque Music, John Walter Hill
Boyd: Bach.
