On June 29, the Court ordered the parties to file new summary-judgment briefs. (Doc. 84.) The Court now clarifies that order. Plaintiff may file one brief that both supports his motion for summary judgment and opposes Defendants' motion for summary judgment. This brief may not exceed 26 pages. Likewise, Defendants - who have jointly moved for summary judgment - may file one brief that both supports their motion for summary judgment and opposes Plaintiff's motion for summary judgment. This brief also may not exceed 26 pages.

ORDER ENTERED at Augusta, Georgia this 5th day of July, 2017.
