Dear Neal:

FYI, the State Department's website (available through the link below) has now been updated to indicate that fiancés are included in the definition of a close familial relationship.

Thanks,
 -Brad

Dear Neal:

I am writing to follow-up on my email below.

DHS has now posted a Q&A on its website: <https://www.dhs.gov/news/2017/06/29/frequently-asked-questions-protecting-nation-foreign-terrorist-entry-united-states>

I am also attaching a carrier notice which was disseminated by CBP earlier today.

Finally, I want to give you a heads-up that the Government's position on the status of fiancés under the Supreme Court's stay and the Department of State's guidance from earlier today is under imminent review.

Thanks,
-Brad

Dear Neal:

Thank you again for your email; the following guidance is now available online:

Department of State: <https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/news/important-announcement.html>

Transcript of background call with government officials answering questions: <https://www.state.gov/r/pa/prs/ps/2017/06/272281.htm>

I am also attaching guidance that the Department of State sent to refugee resettlement partners earlier today; we anticipate that this guidance will be available online shortly.

As additional public guidance becomes available, I will forward it to you this evening.

As reflected in the guidance that is already available, the Government is in full compliance with the preliminary injunction, as amended by the Supreme Court. If you have any questions, please let us know.

Thanks,
-Brad

Subject: Injunction: time sensitive

Brad and Jeff,

We and our co-counsel have now reached out several times in an attempt to get information about how the Government plans to implement the ban. We have heard from numerous sources, including Congressional offices, regarding the Government's plans. If the information we have heard is correct, then we believe that as soon as the Government begins to implement the ban, it will be in violation of the injunction. Please provide us clear information about the Government's plans, including any internal guidance, by 5 pm EST, or we will have no choice but to go to the District Court.

Thanks,
Neal
