United States District Judge

Upon graduation from law school in 2002, I practiced at a nonprofit organization in Seattle and was an active member of the Washington Bar. In the fall of 2003, I moved to New York to clerk for a federal judge, at which point I placed my Bar membership on hold. Despite inquiry on my part, during this time I did not receive notification that my Bar dues were overdue and was therefore temporarily suspended from active status for a period of two months. Upon so learning, I immediately paid the overdue amount and was returned to active status on November 15, 2004. I am currently a member of good standing of the Washington State Bar.
