

messybessy

Word. It's not like juries of peers acquit 95% of rape cases. Juries of peers exist in a vacuum where their judgement is in no way hindered by social misconceptions. That's why our legal system is like flawless.

Hide 4 replies

the.schwartz.is.not.with.me. promoted by J...

Wed 11 May 2011 8:35 PM

Excuse me, but can we not call this guy an "acquitted rapist"? He was acquitted, so he's not guilty. He is not a rapist, end of story. He is a man acquitted of rape, but he is most definitely not a rapist, modifying adjective or not.

JadeSays

Eh, redacted. Nevermind!

Edited by JadeSays at 05/11/11 10:24 PM

Hide 1 reply

lavenderstain

Wed 11 May 2011 7:58 PM