Developer

7art-screensavers.com

Secret land is a place where all nature seems to be dancing as if celebrating its harmony and virginity of the world.

Peculiar plants, friendly creatures and cheery waters stream down relaxative spirit of pure beauty and simple joy into your Mac and your mind. Please note: Screensaver comes with a bundle from <http://www.premieropinion.com> Read carefully the terms and conditions before installation! If you want to install the screensaver without the bundle - click disagree and continue the installation! You can also easily uninstall PremierOpinion later from Application/PremierOpinion folder.

AVOID THESE VERMIN! Crappy low budget screensaver given in exchange for installing spyware onto your system. Somebody do a DoS attack on them and put 'em out of business. Low life scum.

This disguised opinion collection process is illegal in Australia and the company could well find itself facing a breach of the Trades Practises Act. Recent fines have been in the tens of millions of dollars.

Ha Ha. I hope they roll.

The PremierOpinion directory resides in the Applications folder. The PremierOpinionUninstall program likewise resides in the same directory.

This screensaver is NOTHING but a cover for a marketing company attempting to acquire your demographic information. For those of you who have a network filter (ex. Little Snitch, etc.), you will see the installer manages to install a third party application called 'PremierOpinion'. which not only installs itself in the menubar, but phones home regularly. I would avoid 7art-Screensavers.com at all costs!!!!

In fact, install it, and you'll find a white star menu extra on your menu bar courtesy of PremierOpinion.

Kill the process, and you'll find launchd keeps relaunching it, because part of its install is to plop a LaunchDaemon into /Library/LaunchDaemons called "PremierOpinion.plist" whose job it is to keep /Applications/PremierOpinion/RunPremierOpinion.sh running.

Fortunately, PremierOpinionUninstall in that directory appears to have gotten rid of the whole mess. One would hope.

But, without argument, this has been the application with the poorest business practices I've seen.
