2   visualization framework, the Piggy Bank data

3   collection framework, the Solvent data scraper, the 4   Fresnel visualization vocabulary, and many others.

5   Q.   Just generally, could you describe what

6   the Timeline project was under the SIMILE program.

7   A.   Yes.   The Timeline project was a

8   JavaScript software library that aimed to make it

9   easy, or at least easier, for individuals to create

10   timeline visualizations of structured data that

11   they owned.

12   MR. BADOLATO: I'd like to enter into the

13   record what has previously been marked as Facebook

14   Exhibit 3.

15   (Exhibit 3, Wayback Machine archive page,

16   "Timeline", marked for identification.)

17   Q.   Let me know when you have that available.

18   A.   I have it.

19   Q.   Okay. Have you seen this document before,

20   Professor Karger?

21   A.   Yes, I have.

22   Q.   Is this one of the documents that was

23   produced by MIT in response to the document request

24   subpoena?

25   A.   That's an interesting question. I don't

 1                    D. KARGER

 2   think readable -- there's copyright information

 3   there.  Do you see that?

 4       A.  Yes.

 5       Q.  And can you make out the dates of the 6   copyright?

 7       A.  Yes.  That says 2006 to 2009, which I

 8   suppose we should update.

 9       Q.  So would 2006 be the time when the 10   Timeline was first developed by the SIMILE program?

11       A.  Yes.  I believe that's the case.  I can't

12   vouch for when David finished some preliminary

13   version of the software, but 2006 is certainly the

14   time when we created the Timeline landing page and 15   started drawing people's attention to it.

16       Q.  In that case, would 2006 have been the

17   time when MIT first began using the term "Timeline"

18   to describe this program?

19       A.  In public.

20       Q.  Would there have been a time prior to 21   that?

22       A.  Well, prior to -- as I said, I don't

23   recall exactly when David began developing the 24   Timeline.  It may have been in 2005.  But I believe

25   that it's likely that we wouldn't have used the

1   D. KARGER

2   Maker project was?

3   A.   The FileMaker project?   That was his;

4   I've never seen it.   But FileMaker is a tool, a

5   sort of a personal data management tool that let's

6   you manage collections of data.   And he has

7   apparently written a tool that will take a

8   collection of data in FileMaker and create the

9   Timeline data file and HTML files that are needed

10   to use our Timeline widget for visualizing that 11   data.

12   Q.   We've seen a number of references to the 13   term "Timeline" throughout the various exhibits

14   that we've introduced in the record today, so I'm 15   going to ask you a series of questions that may

16   seem a bit obvious, but I'll ask that you bear with 17   me.

18   A.   Okay.

19   Q.   And answer them to the best of your

20   ability.

21   A.   Uh-huh.

22   Q.   First, why does the program use the term

23   "Timeline" to describe this particular widget that

24   it develops?

25   A.   Because it's displaying a timeline.

1   D. KARGER

2   Q.   Would you agree that use of the term

3   "Timeline" readily conveys to a user or potential

4   user the nature of this particular widget?

5   A.   Yes.

6   Q.   Is there another term that could have been

7   used to accurately identify or describe this

8   widget?

9   A.   None comes to mind.

10   Q.   So would it be difficult to identify or

11   describe this widget if you were prevented from 12   using the term "Timeline"?

13   A.   Oh, definitely.

14   MS. MOORE: Object.

15   Q.   If you cannot use the term "Timeline," you

16   would not be able to properly convey to potential

17   users the purpose of the software, correct?

18   MS. MOORE: Objection to form.

19   A.   Correct, not without a lot of roundabout

20   circumlocutions.

21   Q.   Since the time the SIMILE program began

22   using the term "Timeline" to identify this widget,

23   has it ever stopped using the term "Timeline" for 24   any reason?

25   A.   No.

 1                      D. KARGER

 2          Q.   Do you know if MIT or the SIMILE program

 3     has ever been confused as the source of any product

 4     or service that is actually offered by Timelines,

 5     Inc., the plaintiff in this matter?

 6          A.   Not to my knowledge.

 7          Q.   Do you know if MIT or the program has ever

 8     been confused as the source of any products or

 9     service that is offered by any other company

10     offering a timeline product or feature?

11               MS. MOORE:   Objection to form.

12          A.   Not to my knowledge.

13          Q.   Has Timelines, Inc., the plaintiffs in

14     this matter, ever asked MIT or the program to cease

15     using the term "Timeline" in connection with this

16     software?

17          A.   Not to my recollection.

18          Q.   Has any third-party asked MIT or the

19     program to cease using the term "Timeline" in 20     connection with this software?

21          A.   Not as far as I know.

22          Q.   This lawsuit was initiated back in the 23     fall of 2011 when Timelines sued Facebook.  Prior

24     to that time, was MIT or the SIMILE program aware

25     of Timelines, Inc?

Design and development

Timetoast was designed and developed by Daniel Todd and created with Adobe Flash, Adobe Flex and Ruby on Rails; without them this website probably wouldn't exist.

Timetoast also uses some of the delightfully tasty icons provided by Sweetie, Dezinerfolio, Pro Theme Design and FamFamFam.

Create timelines, share them on the web.

Timetoast is a great way to share your past, or even your future...

Creating a timeline takes minutes, it's as simple as can be.

Featured timeline: NASA Space Program

	Event Date	Event Title	Event Description
	05/05/1961	America's first spaceflight	Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. becomes the first American in space. Aboard the Freedom 7, he flies above Earth for 14.8 minutes and attains a speed of 5,100 mph.
	02/20/1962	Circling the earth	Despite a loose heat shield and an autopilot failure that forces him to manually pilot the craft, John Glenn becomes the first American to circle the Earth. Glenn orbits Earth three times aboard the Friendship 7 and becomes a national hero.
	12/12/1968	Apollo 8 Orbits the Moon	The three-astronaut crew of Apollo 8 %u2014 Frank Borman, James A. Lovell Jr. and William A. Anders %u2014 orbits the moon. The crew arrives at the moon on Christmas Eve and sends images and Christmas greetings to the world. It is the first time that huma
	07/18/1969	Apollo 11's Giant Leap for Mankind	Apollo 11 takes Neil Armstrong, Edwin "Buzz" Aldrin and Michael Collins to the moon. While Michael Collins orbits in the Apollo command module, Armstrong and Aldrin land on the lunar surface. There, Armstrong utters the now oft-quoted line "That's one small step for man; one giant leap for mankind"
	04/11/1970	A Close Call for Apollo 13	Apollo 13 almost ends in disaster. Fifty-six hours into flight, one of the spacecraft's oxygen tanks ruptures, severely damaging the power and life-support systems.
	07/30/1971	Apollo Moon Rover	Apollo 15 completes the first long, expedition-style lunar landing mission. The crew explores the moon's surface with the first lunar rover, and they return with some of the finest samples of moon rock.
	07/15/1975	Rendezvous with Russia	The first international human space flight, the Apollo-Soyuz Test Project, tests the compatibility of rendezvous and docking systems for American and Soviet spacecraft to pave the way for future joint missions.

	04/12/1981	The Shuttle era begins	First flight of the Columbia shuttle, the first "reusable," airplane-like craft to fly in space.
	01/12/1986	Space Shuttle Challenger tragedy	The Space Shuttle Challenger explodes 73 seconds after launch, killing its crew of seven. A leak in one of the spacecraft's solid rocket boosters ignites the main liquid fuel tank as billions around the world watch. The accident prompts a thorough review.
	02/01/2003	The Columbia Disaster	Fifteen minutes before its landing time, the Space Shuttle Columbia's 28th flight ends in tragedy. Foam falling from the shuttle's external tank cracks the underside of its left wing, destroying the shuttle's protection from the intense heat upon reentering the atmosphere.

Frequently Asked Questions

ACCOUNT SETTINGS:

Is Ztimeline free?
Yes! Ztimeline is free for anyone who wishes to post pictures in an orderly manner. However, in the future, Ztimeline may charge its members a fee for printing their photos.

I can't create an account.
If you are unable to create an account, please send us an e-mail at support@ztimeline.com and we will gladly assist you with whatever error you may have encountered.

I can't login to my account.
Don't worry! If you can't login, we recommend you check that you are using the correct username and password. Also, keep in mind that our login information is case sensitive, so make sure that you remember if you used lower or upper case letters. However, if you are still unable to login, please send us an e-mail at support@ztimeline.com and we will help you resolve it as soon as possible (Always remember to put the reason why you are contacting us in the body of the e-mail).

I forgot my username.
Relax! Your username is your e-mail address, the one you used to create the account. However, if you are still unable to login, please send us an e-mail at support@ztimeline.com and we will help you resolve it as soon as possible (Always make sure to put the reason why you are contacting us in the body of the e-mail).

I forgot my password.
No problem! You can retrieve it by going to the homepage and clicking where it says Forgot your password. There, it will ask you to enter your account's e-mail address. Then, we will send you an e-mail with a temporary password. After login in, ALWAYS remember to change this temporary password!

How do I change my personal information?
In order to change your personal information, you must click on My Account at the top of the page. Under My Account, you will see a list on the upper left hand portion of the page, next to your profile picture. By clicking on the second tab which reads Edit My Profile, a new page will come up, allowing you to edit/change your basic information, personal information, as well as your interests.

I am not getting e-mails from Ztimeline. What's wrong?
First, should you be receiving e-mails? Remember that you have the option on the Settings tab of choosing whether you want e-mails to be sent to you or not. Check the Settings tab since Ztimeline will only send you e-mails for those options which you have approved of.
However, if your settings indicate that you should be receiving e-mails and you are not, check with your e-mail provider to see if they are being filtered in your Junk Mail. If you are still unable to solve this issue, feel free to contact us by writing to us at support@ztimeline.com (Make sure to put the reason why you are contacting us in the body of the e-mail).

Someone is harassing/threatening me on Ztimeline. What can I do?
Take action! If someone is harassing/threatening you, you can simply block them and thus prevent them from contacting you. However, if this doesn't help, please read our online safety tips to avoid further problems that may arise. If more help is needed, contact us at support@ztimeline.com and always make sure to put the reason why you are contacting us in the body of the e-mail.

How can I delete someone?
It's simple! Just go to My Account and click on the Settings tab on the upper right hand portion of the page. Then you will see that at the bottom of the lower left hand portion of the page, it will read Delete a friend. You must click Add/Delete a friend and it will do as indicated. Deleted friends/members will be unable to leave you a comment or communicate with you.
Keep in mind that those friends/members which you delete will still be able to see your profile depending on whether your Ztimeline Privacy and your Profile Privacy under the Settings page is available to everyone, just available to your friends, or just available for yourself.

How do I set my profile to private?

Setting your profile to private is not hard to do! Simply go to My Account and click on the Settings tab on the upper right hand portion of the page. Then you will see that on the left side of the page, a list of settings appears: Comment Settings, Privacy Settings, as well as Profile Privacy. Under these settings, make sure to check the options you approve of.

However, keep in mind that Ztimeline is a public website and is thus available for anyone who wishes to view it! Don't post things you wouldn't want others to know or see, such as your address, e-mail, phone number, or places where you hang out that strangers could find you at, but rather post information which you agree to disclose with others. Please read our online safety tips to avoid further problems that may arise.

How do I upload photos to my timeline?

Relax, we've made it as easy as it can get! First, you must go to the My Ztimeline tab. Once you are on your Ztimeline page, you must click on Add new event, which appears on the top right hand corner of the page. Then, it will take you to another page which will ask you to put the name, the date, the description, and privacy of the event you are creating. Once you click next, you must click on Upload Photos (Note: If you do not have ActiveX installed on your computer, you must first install it, otherwise you will not be able to upload your photos. You can install it from our webpage by simply clicking on the tab which will appear below your browser's search bar which will say Install ActiveX now.

As soon as you have ActiveX installed, a list of your computer's files will appear. You will need to click on the folder of the photos you want to upload. You have the option of clicking on the white box that appears on the left of each picture to add one by one, or simply click on select all. Then, as soon as you have chosen the pictures, you have to click the upload button in order for the photos to be uploaded to your event.

I'm trying to upload photos but I am getting an error message. What is wrong?

First, make sure you have ActiveX installed in your computer; otherwise, you will not be able to upload your photos. You can simply install ActiveX from our webpage by creating your event's information and clicking on the tab which will appear below your browser's search bar which will say Install ActiveX now. However, if you do have ActiveX installed and are still having problems, relax! Just wait a few minutes and try again. Also, make sure that you are uploading a jpg., jpeg., gif., png., jpeg., jpe., jfif., tif., tiff., or bmp. file, or if not, you will have problems. Nevertheless, if you are still unable to upload photos, please send us an e-mail at support@ztimeline.com and we will help you resolve it as soon as possible (Always remember to put the reason why you are contacting us in the body of the e-mail).

Who can view my Ztimeline photos?

Anyone you want, starting from your Ztimeline friends to relatives who are not even members of Ztimeline! Remember- You choose who is or is not allowed to view your pictures. Under My Ztimeline, you will notice there is a tab on the upper right hand portion of the page that says Add New Event. When you create a new event, you will notice that next to the description of the event, there is a box which reads Event Privacy, thus allowing you to choose if you want that particular event to be available for everyone, available just for your Zfriends, or just available for yourself. Hence, others will be able to view your page, depending on what you choose for the event�s privacy.

Can I invite people who are not members of Ztimeline to view my photos?

Of course, although we are SURE they will join as soon as they see your timeline and its numerous benefits! Once you know what event you would like to share with others, simply click on Edit this Event and then on Send these event pictures. You will then be asked to list your friend's e-mail addresses separated by commas and an e-mail will be sent to them, inviting them to view your photos.

How do I set my profile to private?

Setting your profile to private is not hard to do! Simply go to My Account and click on the Settings tab on the upper right hand portion of the page. Then you will see that on the left side of the page, a list of settings appears: Comment Settings, Privacy Settings, as well as My Profile Privacy. Under these settings, make sure to check the options you approve of.

However, keep in mind that Ztimeline is a public website and is thus available for anyone who wishes to view it! Don�t post things you wouldn�t want others to know or see, such as your address, e-mail, phone number, or places where you hang out that strangers could find you at, but rather post information which you agree to disclose with others. Please read our online safety tips to avoid further problems that may arise.

How many photos can I upload?

Ztimeline allows you to view your life chronologically since it allows you to organize your pictures in your own timeline! Hence, you can upload as many pictures as you want per day. However, we only let you upload up to 108 photos PER EVENT.

How much does it cost to upload photos?

We upload your photos for FREE, just like everything else on Ztimeline.

Can I print my Ztimeline photos?

Unfortunately, our printing service is not available on Ztimeline YET. However, in the near future, we will have this service for you so be sure to check our updates every now and then!

How can I view my friend's timeline?

You can view your friend's timeline ONLY if that person has accepted you as his/her Zfriend and has chosen to share her photos with others. Thus, if you have permission to the above stated, you can view your friend's timeline by simply clicking on the My Friends tab on the top of the page and further clicking on your friend's name.

How do I comment on a friend's photo?
Commenting on a friend's photo is ONLY available if that person has accepted you as his/her Zfriend and has also chosen to accept comments from friends. Thus, if you are accepted and have permission to comment on a friend's photo, simply click on the Post a comment link below the image. Once you write your comment, click on Add Comment and your comment will appear on your friend's comment once he/she has approved it. Keep in mind that this comment will be visible to anyone who views the picture.

FRIENDS:

How do I add a friend?
It is fast and easy! Just follow the following recommendations:

◆ If you want to invite someone already using Ztimeline to be your friend, simply go to their profile and click on Add me as a friend.
◆ If you want to search for someone that you are not sure if they have Ztimeline or not, just click on Ztimeline's Search tab, which will allow you to search using the person's full name, display name, or e-mail address.
◆ However, if they are not members of Ztimeline, you must click on the Invite tab under your account and enter your friend's e-mail address. Once they receive the e-mail, they will, with no doubt, join the Ztimeline team!

Once someone confirms that you are actually friends with them or know them, they will show up on your Friend's list.

OTHER:

Why is Ztimeline so special?
Ztimeline is special and different from other social networks and websites that allow you to upload photos in that it lets you organize your pictures in your OWN timeline. It lets you view your entire life in a 'chronological' way and helps you keep in touch with your friends and family all over the world. Well said, it's a chronological view of your life that no other, but Ztimeline, brings to you!
Not only does it organize your pictures in your timeline, but it also lets you share photos and events with your friends and loved ones. Even if others you know are not members of Ztimeline, they can still enjoy the benefits and stay connected to you! Eventually, however, everyone in your social network will be a part of Ztimeline and it will thus be easier for you to keep in touch with just a click away!

With what browsers can Ztimeline be viewed?
Ztimeline can be viewed with any of the following browsers: Internet Explorer, Firefox, and Safari. However, if you encounter an issue, please notify us at support@ztimeline.com and make sure to put the reason why you are contacting us in the body of the e-mail.

Will Ztimeline notify me when my friend's birthday is coming up?
Of course! On the My Account tab, you will see a Reminders tab which will direct you to all the upcoming birthdays. In addtion to this, you will receive an e-mail from Ztimeline letting you know that your friend's birthday is coming up in 5 days.

PRIVACY AND SECURITY:

How do I set my profile to private?
Setting your profile to private is not hard to do! Simply go to My Account and click on the Settings tab on the upper right hand portion of the page. Then you will see that on the left side of the page, a list of settings appears: Comment Settings, Privacy Settings, as well as My Profile Privacy. Under these settings, make sure to check the options you approve of.
However, keep in mind that Ztimeline is a public website and is thus available for anyone who wishes to view it! Don't post things you wouldn't want others to know or see, such as your address, e-mail, phone number, or places where you hang out that strangers could find you at, but rather post information which you agree to disclose with others. Please read our online safety tips to avoid further problems that may arise.

Can others know when I view their profiles?
No! Your friends won't know if you are viewing their page 10 or 50 times a day, so don't worry!!! Gossip all you want◆

Someone is harassing/threatening me on Ztimeline. What can I do?
Take action! If someone is harassing/threatening you, you can simply block them and thus prevent them from contacting you. However, if this doesn't help, please read our online safety tips to avoid further problems that may arise. If more help is needed, contact us at support@ztimeline.com and always make sure to put the reason why you are contacting us in the body of the e-mail.

How can I block someone?

To block a user, you will need to visit that user's profile and click Block User (found underneath 'Send Message'). However, keep in mind that blocked users can still view your profile, but they cannot send you a message or communicate with you since there is no way to prevent someone from seeing your profile.

Have further questions?

Feel free to contact us at support@ztimeline.com and make sure to put the reason why you are contacting us in the body of the e-mail.

About TimeRime

TimeRime is a web application which allows people to create, view and compare interactive timelines. The application is available as an online community at www.timerime.com, and as a professional software solution, that can be integrated in other websites. See also our Pro Solutions page.

The timeline community TimeRime.com
TimeRime.com is an online community that allows people to view, create and compare timelines. The subjects of the timelines can be anything that relates to time. For instance a timeline about a popstar, or a timeline about a scientific subject, like history. But also timelines about company history, individuals as yourself, your favorite summer melodies or your favorite car.

The TimeRime timelines can be characterized as interactive and multimedia. The timelines can be filled with text, music, YouTube movies, Google Maps et cetera, which makes TimeRime.com a platform that combines popular communities and other internet applications into one new portal.

TimeRime.com also allows people to search for information about various subjects. TimeRime.com is the place for anyone who uses the internet as a giant encyclopedia. TimeRime.com stimulates the creativity of its users, and is educational for anyone that is looking for information. It has an international focus, attracting people from all over the world. TimeRime.com is a platform for anyone, including businesses, public institutions, educational institutions, media and more. As a result, timelines are created by individuals, companies and (public) institutions from all over the world. Visitors of the website can register for a free account, that allows them to create timelines. A Pro Account is also available, with even more features then the free account.

The TimeRime Pro Solutions
Next to the public community website, TimeRime offers the timeline application as Pro Solutions. Pro Solutions can be integrated in other websites. Design and functions can be customized in line with specific needs of each client. TimeRime has lots of Pro users from all over the world, from universities to companies, from museums to educational publishers. More information about the Pro Solutions and examples at some of our clients can be found at the Pro Solutions page.

The makers
The timeline is developed in house by TimeRime. All other technical development is created by Hoppinger, TimeRime's sister company. More information about the makers of TimeRime on www.hoppinger.com
